WEATHER DATA AFFEAR ON PAGE 16

No. 30,933

PARIS, TUESDAY, AUGUST 3, 1982

President Reagan and other U.S. officials met Monday at the White House with an Israeli delegation led by Foreign Minister Yitzhak Shamir. Seated, from left, were Secretary of State George P. Sbultz; Mr. Reagan; Vice President Bush (partly hidden); William P. Clark, the national security adviser; and Edwin Meese 3d, the presidential counselor. Israeli officials, seated from right, were Mr. Shamir, Ambassador Moshe Arens, and Jacob Lechasthan, an Israeli Embassy minister.

Rebel Remnants in Kenya Continue Resistance at Air Force Headquarters

NAIROBI - Holdouts from among the rebels who failed in an attempt to overthrow the civilian government, were resisting loyal Kenyan Army troops Monday at the air force headquarters south of

An official source said 300 dissidents, nearly all air force person-nel, had been arrested in the Nairobi area. The newspaper The Nation quoted police and army spokesmen as having said that more than 1,000 people had been arrested in connection with the Ninety bodies, including both civilians and military personnel, had been brought to the Nairobi morgue, the superintendent said. A government official said. 71 air force men had been killed, 30 of them at the Eastleigh headquarters, which is four miles (six kilometers) from the espital.

Hospital officials reported that more than 500 people — mainly civilians — were treated for gunshot wounds Sunday. About 200 of them received serious injuries, said a doctor at Kenyatta Memorial Hospital. That hospital, near the scene of heavy fighting, handled most of the patients.

Cabinet Meeting It was Kenya's first coup attempt since the East African country received independence from Britain 19 years ago.

The official Kenya Radio announced Monday that the army has extended by 24 hours the deadline for the rebels to surrender, to noon Triesday. President Daniel Arap Moi and his Cabinet met Monday and de-cided that a 13-hour overnight cur-few for Nairobi and the Nanyaki district, about 120 miles to the north, would continue until further The government also announced the closure of the University of Nairobi and ordered students to students demonstrated in the streets in support of the rebels

Domestic and international communications, which had been disrupted during the rebellion, were restored Monday afternoon. Large parts of central Nairobi were almost deserted, with shops and offices closed. Passers-by held up their hands and identity papers to avoid being mistaken for looters

Firing Near Hotel

There was fierce shooting early Monday around the Hilton Hotel when rebels, who had apparently spent the night in a neighboring building fired on security forces. The hotel management said that a Japanese tourist had been killed filming the clash from his hotel were terrorized Sunday by rebels with automatic rifles who invaded the botel and by looters who ransacked ground-floor shops. The management said that a young woman from the United States bad been raped and that three members of the hotel staff had been shot and wounded.

Diplomatie sources said the rebels appear to bave included junior air force officers and that there was only scant organization in both the planning and execution of their coup. No vehicle heavier than a Land Rover was used, and although U.S.-made F-5 jets made passes over Nairobi, none took part in the action.

Kenya's Air Force in 1981 had 2,000 men and 20 combat aircraft, according to the International Institute for Strategic Studies in London. It was not immediately clear

(Continued on Page 2, Col.4)

JAPAN'S STORM — The tanker Nikko Maru on its side at the Yokohama breakwater Monday after the latest typhoon to hit Japan left at least 59 dead and 25,000 homeless. It was the second typhoon to strike the nation in 10 days.

Britain Orders Firms To Ignore U.S. Curbs

LONDON — Trade Secretary firms.

Lord Cockfield announced Mon- The day that he has told four British companies to ignore the "repug-nant" U.S. ban on the supply of American-designed equipment for the Soviet gas pipeline.

Britain thus joined France in openly defying President Reagan's embargo, amounced June 18 because of Soviet support for martial law in Poland.

"The embargo and the terms in which it has been imposed is an attempt to interfere with existing contracts and is an unacceptable extension of American extraterritorial jurisdiction in a way which is repugnant in international law," Lord Cockfield told the House of learned that a report drawn np by firm General Electric Co. European Economic Community energy experts criticizes the U.S. sanctions as largely ineffective and counterproductive. The confidential report, written by officials at the European Com-mission and forwarded to the 10 community governments, says the ban is damaging to Western Eu-rope and will not stop the flow of Soviet natural gas.

New Efforts Predicted

Instead, the report says, the boycott will encourage Moscow "to in-crease its already considerable efforts and achievements in energy technology independence."

EEC governments have said the ban on sales of European-made but U.S.-licensed equipment for the pipeline violates international law. The governments have already lodged a strong protest with Washington.

A group of EEC legal and trade experts is to meet in Brussels on Tuesday to complete a more-detailed critique of the ban. That response is to be delivered to the Reagan administration later this month.

Lord Cockfield said the government had decided to invoke the 1980 Protection of Trading Interests Act because the Reagan administration had not responded to British efforts to resolve the dis-

The trade secretary said the gov-crament had no wish to intensify the problem, but by invoking the act the government hoped to make Washington think again about the

About 12 British companies have pipeline related contracts, with a total value of around £220 million ($385 million), and the government is clearly concerned about the effect on jobs of any cancellations at a time when unemployment is a record 13.5 percent. The four companies included three subsidiaries of American The Scottish firm of John Brown

Engineering said it would begin deliveries of its first six gas turbines for the project at the end of August.
The other three companies ordered to go ahead under contracts signed before the ban was imposed were Smith International (North Sea), Baker Oil Tools (U.K.) and AAF Ltd., Lord Cockfield said. Legal sources said the fact that the latter three are subsidiaries of American companies operating in Britain could cause a complex legal battle over which country has risdiction over the firms.

Companies in France, Italy, Britain and West Germany have Meanwhile, in Brussels, it was under license from the American

In Frankfurt, a spokesman for AEG-Telefunken, one of the firms under contract to the Soviet Union, said Monday that the firm has ready for shipment some of the 47 gas turbines it had agreed to build for the pipeline but that a final decision on delivery has not been leaders are learned. In Bonn, the magazine Der Spiegel said Monday that Soviet officials and European business-men believe they have found a loophole allowing them to get around the embargo.

The spokesman said the decision on delivery is being delayed until the results of Chancellor Helmut Schmidt's recent talks with U.S.

The Russians offered a compromise deal to Heinz Dürr, the chairman of AEG-Telefunken, when he visited Moscow in early July, Der Spiegel said.

Moscow offered Mr. Dürr a deal that would enable a subsidiary, AEG-Kanis, and firms from the other European nations to deliver American-made equipment or equipment made under U.S. license from stocks in hand before Mr. Reagan's expanded embargo took effect July 1, Der Spiegel

It said General Electric had delivered 26 of the rotors needed for the 125 turbines on the pipeline before Mr. Reagan extended his

The Russians wanted the West European firms to deliver as many turbines as possible with the U.S. made rotors, Der Spiegel said. The magazine added that the Russians had told Mr. Durr they would use these turbines, made of a highquality steel that can withstand very low temperatures, for the north Siberian sector of the pipe-

Soviet turbines could be used along the rest of the pipeline, it

Thousands Are Delayed By British Ferry Strike

LONDON — Thousands of tra-velers faced delays and confusion Monday after British seamen operating the 41 ships of the state-owned Sealink ferry firm struck at the height of the holiday season.

The strike stranded 11,000 tourists on the Channel Islands, according to a spokesman for the lo-cal tourist industry. The British is-lands off the French coast were worst hit because they are served exclusively by Sealink vessels. Passengers and freight trucks at cross-Channel ports such as Dover and Folkestone were being routed to French. Dutch and Belgian vessels or to British-owned rival shipping lines. Some experienced delays of up to two hours. Passengers on Scalink services to Ireland were expected to switch to Irish vessels. The National Union of Seamen is resisting a move by Sealink to save £1.3 million ($2.26 million) a year on its money-losing service between Harwich and the Hook of Holland. The seamen say the economies would mean a 24 percent in

The government arbitration service said it was getting in touch owned rivals Townsend Thoresen with both sides to try to resolve the and P&O under which they would

The union said it expected a to-tal stoppage by the 4,000 Sealink men at 10 ports. Officials warned they might seek to spread the strike to other British-owned shipping lines.

The strike hit Channel ports at their busiest time of the year, when thousands of Britons cross to the Continent, many taking their cars. But Sealink advised travelers to turn up at ports as planned.

An official said. "We hope to get everybody away even if there are a lew delays."

At Britain's main Channel port. Dover, where 60 percent of sailings are operated by ferry companies other than Sealink, there was no sign Monday morning of exceptionally long lines or frustrated passengers as the 9 a.m. strike deadline passed.

Folkestone port, where nearly all sailings are by Sealink, was al-most at a standstill.

Sealink operates a consortium on Channel services with French, Dutch and Belgian operators.

The company also has an emergency arrangement with British-owned rivals Townsend Thoresen accept Sealink tickets.

Reagan Tells Israel's Shamir Beirut Fighting Must Stop

Reagan met Monday with Israel's foreign minister, Yitzhak Shamir, and stressed to him the need for a "complete end" to the fighting in West Beirut. The president said the world "can oo longer accept a situation of constantly escalating

But Mr. Shamir told reporters after the 20-minute session that Is-rael believes that Palestinian forces will oot leave Beirut or Lebanon "unless they are convinced they have one choice before them: to leave by oegotiations or by other

Both men appeared grim-faced during a picture-taking session before their meeting.

On Sunday, Mr. Reagan vowed that be would be "firm" with Mr. Shamir, Mr. Reagan told reporters that be had lost patience and said it was "absolutely imperative" that the U.S.-arranged eease-fire reached earlier in the day "not be violated by anyone."

[Tass said that Leonid I. Brezhnev, the Soviet leader, had sent a personal message to Mr. Reagan calling for urgent action to prevent what he called "the continuing annihilation of people in Beirut" by Israeli troops, The Washington Post reported from Moscow.

It was the second time in less than a month that Mr. Brezhnev had appealed directly to Mr. Reagan over Lebanon. But like the earlier message, the latest appeal was vaguely worded and contained oo hint of Soviet countermeasures should the fighting in Beirut con-

[Western diplomats in Moscow peculated that the main purpose f Mr. Brezhnev's well-publicized messages was to establish a legitimate Soviet concern about developments in the Middle East and win propaganda points. The Post reported.]

Israeli Attacks Defended

Speaking to reporters Monday after meeting with Mr. Reagan, Mr. Shamir defended Israel's sea, land and air attacks Sunday around Beirut's airport — the most devastating attacks since Israeli troops sealed off the city in June. These attacks ended with the latest

The foreign minister accused Palestinian forces of having taken advantage of the various ceasefires called since the start of the crisis and said that the truces "must be absolute and mutual and A White House statement issued after Mooday's meeting said the fighting must end to allow Philip C. Habib, Mr. Reagan's special Middle East representative, to pursue a settlement. "The president emphasized that an early diplomatic settlement of the current problem of West Beirut is the essential first step in ending the trauma of Lebanon, beginning the process for a better future of this ravaged country, and moving on to the broader peace process,

'Bloodshed Must Stop'

Speaking with reporters Sunday, Mr. Reagan said "the bloodshed must stop" in West Beirut.

Throughout the crisis, he has not criticized Israel directly. But his overall tone suggested uneasi-ness with Israeli policies. Asked what he would tell Mr. Shamir at Monday's meeting. Mr. Reagan said, "I'll be firm. ... This must he resolved and the bloodshed must stop." He declined to say whether this tone represented a get-tough policy toward Israel but added, "You can say that we're going to have a se-rious discussion, and I think they'll understand exactly how we feel Shortly before Mr. Reagan spoke, Mr. Shamir arrived at oear-by Dulles International by Dulies International Airport and told reporters that the United States and Israel are pursuing parallel objectives in Lebanon. Both favor the emergence of a strong central government and the removal of all foreign forces from the country, be said.

But in Jerusalem, a senior Israeli official, who asked oot to be identified, said the United States and Israel have differing perceptions on prospects for an early end to

Grain Sale Defended DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) -

President Reagan, on a political trip to the Midwest, said Monday that despite his opposition to a long-term grain-sale agreement with the Soviet Union, the granary door is open" and large quanti-ties may he sold. Defending his decision last week to accept another one-year extension of the U.S. agreement to sell wheat and com to the Russians, the president told an audience of corn growers, a key Republican constituency, that he would be alert for signs that "martial law may be relaxing" in Poland. He said there are some indications that this may be the case and told the farmers, "We will contin-ue to watch developments there in the hope that life will improve from the Poles, and sanctions can

200 Reported Dead Israeli officials said Sunday's attack was not the start of the longthreatened invasion to wipe out the PLO's guerrillas in their last wounded, and a spokesman said,

U.S. Should Talk With PLO, Define Camp David, Egyptian Official Says throughout the Arab world will spread terrorism and political > outlined the main points cootained m a message he delivered over the weekend to President Reagan from President Hosni Mubarak of Egypt. He also met with U.S. Secretary of State George P. Shultz. Egypt, which has become along the Middle East, Foreign Minister Kamal Hassan Ali, of Egypt said With Israel pressing for a showdown, he said Egypt hopes the United States will impose a strict cease-fire in Beirut — monitored by United Nations observers - to ain more time for political evolution in Washington and-in the

In the longer run, Egypt is pressing the United States to announce its interpretation of the Camp Da vid peace accords. Egypt believes that the United States should state that it understands the ultimate goal of the peace process is Palestinian self-determination, contradicting Israel's interpretation of Palestinian autonomy as limited local self-rule.

Israel and the PLO. We have to give some hope to the Palestinians as they leave Beirut, otherwise their dispersal problems," Mr. Ali said,

Mr. Ali, who is meeting with President François Mitterrand,

A Palestinian fighter watched from a West Beirut rooftop Monday as fires burned in the city.

with Israel and Saudi Arabia the major U.S. allies in the Middle East, has criticized the PLO in recent years while being ostracized by other Arab governments. The Lebanese crisis has given Egypt a renewed opening to play a leading role in Arab diplomacy.

Hope for Talks

Egypt and France have prepared Council resolution aimed at establishing PLO recognition of Israel. The proposed text repeats the essentials of earlier resolutions recognizing Israel's right to security, but adds a clause about Palestinian political rights and calls for simultaneous mutual recognition by Mr. Ali said the PLO has promised to accept this formula, which could help open the way to U.S.-PLO discussions.

Egypt and France are delaying submission of the draft because, Mr. Ali said, "it will take time be-fore the United States is interested in a dialogue with the PLO." At present, indications are that the United States would veto such a resolution, but Egypt and France are receptive to changes.

In Washington, Mr. Ali pressed the Reagan administration to extend political inducements to the PLO quickly in conjunction with its withdrawal from Lehanon — which he said remains the top U.S. priority.
Outlining U.S. thinking, Mr. Ali

said the Reagan administration wants to: Defuse the situation in Beirut; this means the departure of PLO forces.

 Delve into the Palestinian problem, seeking a settlement in the framework of the Camp David accords.

According to Mr. Ali, this represents a slight change from the U.S. position conveyed in June when he met with then-Secretary of State Alexander M. Haig Jr.

U.S. policy at that time, Mr. Ali

Israel Moves Tank Reinforcements Into Beirut; Shellfire Exchanged

BEIRUT - Israeli forces moved tank reinforcements into central Beirut on Monday and traded sbellfire from forward positions around the oewly captured airport with the shrinking enclave of Yasser Arafat's Palestine Liber-

onal Herald Tribune

PARIS - Egypt has detected slight movement in the Reagan administration toward Arab views about the Lebanon crisis, but be-lieves the United States should be "more forthcoming" about the Palestinians and start a dialogue with the Palestine Liberation Organization if it wants to stabilize bere Monday.

Middle East.

atioo Organization.
Philip C. Habib, the U.S. presidential envoy, conferred for two hours Monday with President Elias Sarkis of Lebanon in the hilltop presidential palace in suburban Baabda, five miles (eight kilometers) east of Beirut.

But there was no word of any progress in diplomatic efforts to arrange a peaceful evacuation of the PLO's besieged guerrillas from West Beirut.

On Sunday, Mr. Habib oegotiated another cease-fire, the ninth since Israel invaded Lebanon on June 6.

Israel's military command said the PLO was the first to violate the cease-fire, shooting at Israeli troops with small arms near Beirut's airport. A spokesman said that Israeli forces beld their fire for several hours before responding with rifles and mortars.

The PLO charged that Israeli tanks and cannons fired shells into a battered refugee camp near the airport. Israel denied it was using artillery.

Before the cease-fire was in place, Israeli tanks pushed into PLO territory in West Beirut for the first time since the siege of the city began. They moved north almost two miles, capturing the terminal area at the airport.

Bassam Abu Sharif, a PLO spokesman, said the Israelis rained more than 150,000 shells on West Beirut, but there was no way to confirm that figure. Israeli jets made 210 bombing runs on the city, according to Lebanese police.

Lebanese police said 200 per-sons had been killed and 400

"We expect the death toll to elimb because rescue teams had to wait for first light to begin searching for victims we believe are still buried in the rubhle." A Syrian military spokesman in Damascus said two Syrian soldiers were killed and four wounded. Syria has had a 30,000-strong force in Lebanon under a 1976

Arab League mandate but many of its troops are believed to have withdrawn since the Israeli inva-

West Beirut was without elec-tricity for the ninth day Monday and water was in short supply. Israel's military spokesman in

INSIDE

The "repugnant" han oo the supply of U.S.-designed equipment for the Soviet gas pipeline should be ignored. British Trade Secretary Lord Cock-field told four British companies. Britain thus joined France in defying President Reagan's embargo. Page 2.

■ Grumman's F-14 Tomcat has evidently been chosen by Pentagon officials as the Navy's premier fighter but the choice of an attack bomber has been left open. The Pentagon's action is expected to shape U.S. naval aviation for the rest of the century. Page 3.

M On arms spending, a new Pentagon report to Congress shows that the United States continues to spend more money for military power than all of the nation's European allies and Japan together. "In the fi-nal analysis," the study says, "the United States appears to be doing somewhat more than its fair share of the NATO and Japanese total." Page 3.

■ The Dow jumped 13.51 points in an afternoon rally on the New York Stock exchange. Most major U.S. banks cut their prime rate to 15 percent. to leave West Beirut "before it is too late." Beirut radio reported. The spokesman said the capture of the airport gave Israel military advantages in its drive to force the 6,000 to 8,000 Palestinian fighters out of the city.

The PLO may not want to leave, but we have appropriate means to make them go, he said, according to the radio. The PLO stated its readiness to leave Beirut in a document signed with other Arab states in Jeddah last week, but Israeli officials have said they doubt its commitment. Israel appeared reluctant Monday to accept a UN plan for send-ing cease-fire observers to Beirut and put off a decisioo until late

Foreign Ministry officials said they did not want to get bogged down on secondary issues that might hold up negotiations on the evacuation of the guerrillas. The Cabinet will not discuss the UN plan until Foreign Minister Yitzhak Shamir returns from talks in Washington, one official said. UN Plan Thwarted

Israel's action effectively de-stroyed UN Security Council hopes of rushing in a team of observers to monitor the shaky ceasefire. Western diplomats said. They said the UN was not empowered to send observers unless they gained the cooperation of all parties to the fighting.

Lebanese and Palestinian military leaders are due to start work on a timetable for the guerrilla withdrawal and guarantees that the PLO is demanding for its fighters and the refugees who will stay behind in Lebanon.

The head of the Lebanese side of the joint committee, Brig. Nabil Kreitem, was meeting with Mr. Habib on Monday. But no date is known to have been set for the panel to convene. Khalil al-Wazir, military deputy to Mr. Arafat, said the committee was due to meet Sunday when the Israeli air raids began. PLO leaders accused the Israelis of ignoring the PLO offer to leave.

Chronicle of a Bombardment: Day 50 of the Israeli Siege in Beirut Is the Worst

By Charles T. Powers Los Angeles Times Service

BEIRUT - It was the longest day of this

Sunday was the 50th day of the siege of this city, and it brought, without any doubt, the heaviest Israeli shelling and bombing of the Dawn comes early to this part of the world, and light sleepers in West Beirut heard the sounds about 3:15 a.m. It was artillery, apparently hitting the Borj el Barajne refugee camp, the steadily weakening stronghold of the Palestine Liberation Organization. At 6 a.m., the rest of the western sector awoke suddenly as incoming fire from Israeli gunboats, exploding with their peculiar snare-drum reverberation, began falling among the high-rise buildings along the scafront drive.

On the roof of the Commodore Hotel, the sunlight was already blindingly bright, the sky a clear blue. Israeli Phantom jets were circling overhead, then diving out of sight behind the buildings, dropping off heat-emitting balloons to distract the PLO guerrillas' heat-seeking

For the residents of the western sector, the overriding question Sunday morning was: Were the Israelis finally coming into West

About 6:30, a radio report said the Israelis ground troops and tanks - were moving on the airport at the southern edge of the city. For weeks they had been sitting at the airport's southern end, with the Palestinians on the northern edge. Now it appeared that the Israelis might move beyond the airport for the

At 7 a.m., Beirut radio stations announced that bombs, rockets and heavy artillery from land and sea were striking Palestinian camps at Sabra, Chatilla and Borj et Barsine and along the Corniche Mazra, a wide, once-elegant street that separates West Beirut proper from Palestinian territory to the south.

The jets circled and dived without interruption. On a rooftop below the hotel, a man came out to tend his pigeons. He did not look up at the sky, but went about his business, scattering grain for his birds.

At 9:10, the Phalangist Party's radio station said the Israelis had overrun the airport. The shelling was said to include the entire coast from south of the airport to the comiche.

At 9:41, a major tank and artillery battle was reported at the Museum Crossing — one of the three entrance points to West Beirut. A second big duel was reported at the Galerie Semaan crossing, another route westward.

At 11:20, the state-run Beirut radio said the Israelis had advanced to within three miles of the center of West Beirut

In the center of the city, the young men with their guns and their uncertain political alli-nness stalked around singly and in pairs, worried looks replacing their normally cocky exAbout 11:30 a.m., shells began falling around a stately old building on a hill in one of West Beirut's older neighborhoods. It was the home of Saeb Salam, the 79-year-old former premier, who has been active as a go-between in the negotiations involving the special U.S. envoy, Philip C. Habib, and the Palestinians.

The shelling continued for an hour, during which a small building adjacent to the house was hit with a 155mm artillery shell.

Throughout the shelling Mr. Salam was in his home talking desperately by telephone with Mr. Habib, urging him to pressure the Americans into pushing for a new cease-fire.

By noon, residential areas on the east side of West Beirut were being pounded heavily. These were new targets for the Israelis, neighborhoods occupied by the poor and working-class people of the city, overwhelmingly Moslem. Most of these people do not have the money to escape, or anywhere to escape to.

The bombardment of West Beirut had been gon estimate that there were as many as 1,500 Soviet military and civilian advisers in India but she said she did oot know the exact figure.

The prime minister also said that a recent agreement oo spent outlear fuel had oot entirely ended the dispute over the American-built Tarapur power plant, which supplies most of Bombay's elec-

On Friday, the two nations announced an agreement under which France, rather than the United States, could supply low-enriched uranium for the Tarapur plant. India is not to reprocess any of the spent fuel without Washington's approval.

The United States has insisted that all American nuclear fuel provided to Indian nuclear plants be placed under international safeguards to prevent its conversion into weapons-grade plutonium. Because India refused to agree to such inspection, the United States has not supplied it with fuel since 1978. Plutonium, one of the products of reprocessing spent fuel, can be used to make ouclear weapons.

Calling the United States position "discriminatory," Mrs. Gan-dhi said of the fuel, "if we make it ourselves we should be able to do what we wish with it." She said India has not produced any nuclear weapons, adding that a ouclear explosion was set off in 1974 as an 'experiment" for pesceful pur-

On Sunday, Mrs. Gandhi addressed 1,000 people at a Sikh tem-ple in the New York borough of Queens. She asked for support in efforts to make India strong.

Mugabe, Nkomo

Washington Past Service

Minister Robert Mugabe and op-position leader Joshua Nkomo held a rare meeting Monday but apparently failed to make any progress in defusing Zimbabwe's political crisis. The session, requested by Mr. Nkomo, was the first between the two former guerrilla partners since Mr. Mugabe fired Mr. Nkomo from the Cabinet in February and accused him of planning a coup.

Relations have been strained

since then, and dissidents, claiming loyalty to Mr. Nkomo, have mounted a campaign of violence in his Matabeleland stronghold in

After the meeting, Mr. Nkomo called the situation in the country very dangerous and said, "We agreed to follow a certain course of southwestern Zimbabwe.

HARARE. Zimbabwe - Prime

going on for almost nine hours without a hull At 2 p.m., the Israeli radio said that the Isreali Cabinet had made no decision to send its troops into West Beirut.

At 3:12 p.m., after a hill of about 30 minutes, there was a major resumption of gunbout shelling along the corniche. Ambulance sirens sounded in the streets.

About 4 p.m., the Phalangist radio reported that a cease-fire had been arranged for 5 p.m.

At 4:40, a CBS newsman, trailing a long sheet of telex paper, said he had learned from his office that President Reagan had sent birthday greetings to Prime Minister Menachem Begin of Israel and had also asked him "to please allow Mr. Habib to conduct his negotiations in Beirut in an atmosphere condugive to their success."

At 4:45, Israeli shelling and bombing reached what seemed to be a new level of in-

At 5 p.m., from the vantage point of a 10-

story apartment building perhaps 600 yards from the Corniche Mazra, the scene of devastation was awesome. Shellfire was blasting in at the foot of buildings along the coast.

As the shells hit, the air seemed to quiver Dust rose, and glass and masonry fell. A vast pall of smoke hung over the long stretch of flatlands south of the city. A column of heavy oil smoke rose from near the airport. At 5:10, or perhaps a minute before, the shelling stopped.

At 5:30, residents on the east side of West Beirut were coming out of their houses. At 5:50 on the corniche, where the final heavy gunboat shelling had struck, the guernilas were clearly in evidence, only 40 minutes into the minth cease-fire of the siege of Beirut. Some of them were seen bending over a pair of ammunition boxes, prying off the lids to get ready for the end of this cease-fire and the beginning of new fighting.

Bystanders, police and railroad workers examined the wreckage of a British armored personnel carrier that was driven into the path of an express train near Osnabrück, West Germany.

2 Britons Run Armored Vehicle Into Train in Germany

Syrian President Says U.S. Gave

Full Support to Israeli Invasion

tinians and Lebauese leftists in

There was no suggestion in any of the official statements Sunday that Mr. Assad's government has relented in its decision to refuse an American request to take in the Palestinian guerrillas trapped in

Armenian's Death

Gives Paris Police

Lead in Bombings

PARIS — The death of a Frenchman of Armenian origin in an explosion in a suburban house has given police their most significant lead in a nine-month hunt for an Armenian group waging a bomb campaign in Paris, police sources said Monday.

Explosives, weapons and docu-where Pierre Gulumian, 23, was

The police hope the materials and the arrest of Mr. Guluman's brother Karchadour, 29, will lead them to the Orly group that has injured more than two dozen people in bombings since last year. Mr. Gulumian, who was born in Beirut and held dual French-Lebanese nationality, was apparently preparing a bomb for use when it went off accidentally, police said. The explosives found were the same Czechoslovak type used in the Orly group's latest two bombings and in the assassination of an official of the Palestine Liberation

Organization in Paris last month, killed in a blast Friday, they said.

were found in the villa

OSNABRUCK, West Germany — Two British soldiers smashed a stolen 15-ton armored personnel carrier into an express train Monday, killing themselves and seriously injuring 23 persons on The impact of the collision derailed five of the train's coaches, overturned one of its two locomotives, ripped out 400 yards (400 meters) of track and destroyed the personnel carrier, police said.

The soldiers stole the 15-ton vehicle just before midnight and drove it through a fence onto a highway, a British Army spokesman said. They were pursued by military and West German civil "We have oo idea why they took it," the spokesman said. The men, identified as Michael France, 23, and Robert McLellan, 24, both privates in the First

New York Times Service

DAMASCUS - President Hafez

al-Assad of Syria said Sunday that Israel had invaded Lebanon with the "full and unrestricted support" of the United States and was trying to destroy the Palestinian and Lebanese people.

Speaking at an Army Day cele-bration in the Syrian capital, Mr. Assad praised the Syrian troops who have engaged the Israelis in Lebanon and exhorted them to display an "unshaken will to fight"

sion and hegemony, Israel has plotted this invasion, used all its weapons to kill and destroy the Palestinian and the Lebanese peo-

Praising the Syrian troops' "her-oism," the president said they have enabled Palestinian and Lebanese fighters to continue their struggle.

Cease-Fire Holding

Israel in eastern Lebanon on June

11. That agreement has been relatively well respected. The Syrians,

50 grams

the Champs-Elysées; in a romantic musical atmosphere,

with sampling prices for the bes caviar and exquisite Persian specialities at LE GOLESTAN, 67 Champs-Elysées, Paris 8.

of fresh

caviar

Tel. 225 62 90

Syria agreed to a cease-fire with ple," Mr. Assad said.

To realize its policy of expan-

Battalion of the Duke of Edinburgh Regiment, based at Mercer Barracks here, drove the vehicle up a steep bank onto the railroad line, running it head-on into an overnight express train carrying 300 passengers bound for Copenhagen.

The train, traveling at about 75 miles an hour (120 kilometers an hour), smashed the carrier as the train cars and locomotive overturned. Both soldiers were killed in the crash. The train engineer in one of the locomotives and 22 passengers in the train's fourth coach were seriously injured when they overturned, the spokesman said.

"There would have been more people killed if there had only been one locomotive," a police

Last month, a U.S. Army private stole an M-60 tank and drove it through Mannheim, smashing a streetcar, before plunging the vehicle upside down in the Neckar River and drowning.

nese premier, met Saturday with Mr. Assad in Damascus to coordinate efforts "to achieve the withdrawal of the Israeli invasion forces from all Lebanese territo-

Mr. Karame, a Moslem whose power base is in the northern Lebanese city of Tripoli, issued a warning to the Lebanese government to take action "before it is too late," insisting that the Leba-oese people oppose the Israeli oc-

does not shoulder its responsibili-ties in defending Lebanon, ending the occupation and lifting the siege

from West Beirut, the people have the right then to defend themselves and act instead of the government," Mr. Karame declared after

Threat Suspected

terpreted by Syrian political sources as a threat to establish a Lebaoese resistance movement in northern Lebanon if the Israelis

Saying that solidarity exists

among the Palestinians, Syrians and Lebanese, Mr. Karame criticized the United States, focusing particularly on Philip C. Habib,

the U.S. special envoy who is

"Israel's policy is drawn up in coordination with the U.S. policy; the United States wants us to surrender but we will not," Mr. Karame said. He questioned how

Mr. Habib, an American of Leba-nese origin, could remain "indif-ferent to the destruction of his mother country' and said that he

Also speaking at the Army Day ceremonies, the Syrian defense minister, Lt. Gen. Mustafa Tlas, declared that the Syrian Army has decided to continue the struggle

"in spite of Israel's savage methods

"Israel wanted to repeat its victories of 1967 but fortunately we were able to drag it out into a war of attrition which it cannot bear," said Gen. Tlas, who is also deputy commander of the armed forces.

should not be trusted.

and destructive weapons.

trying to arrange a settlement.

Mr. Karame's statement was inhis meeting with Mr. Assad.

occupy the capital.

If the Lebanese government

U.S. Aid to El Salvador Is Compared by Gandhi To Soviet Afghan Role

By Susan Chira

New York Times Service NEW YORK - Prime Minister Indira Gandhi of India has compared U.S. involvement in El Salvador to the Soviet presence in Af-

"It may not be exactly the same situation," Mrs. Gandhi said in answer to a question in a television interview was taped Saturday and broadcast Suoday, "but the U.S.S.R. — as they say and as the Afghans also say — were invited by the government there." The United States has sent about 50 military training person-nel and provided financial aid to El Salvador. The Soviet Union has sent an estimated 100,000 troops into Afghanistan since 1979.

Asked about friendship with countries that deny freedom to others, the prime minister said:

"It's not just one country that's doing it. We do know that there has been interference by one country or another in other parts of the world — Latin America, in countries of Africa, in countries of Asia. Now, it doesn't make sense to us to distinguish between

Mrs. Gandhi also defended India's relationship with the Soviet Union, criticized U.S. nuclear and economic policies and took exception to Washington's action in supplying $3 billion in arms to Paki-

U.S. Estimate Rejected

The prime minister said her refusal to denounce the Soviet intervention in Afghanistan did not mean that India favored the Soviet Union in general. Calling that idea one of the "misconceptions" she boped her trip to the United States would clear up, she reiterated that India has a policy of nonalign-

"We have not in any way al- Discuss Crisis, but lowed any friendship to overshadow another friendship or in any lower frien our actions." Mrs. Gandhi said. She added that India does not ac-Mrs. Gandhi rejected a Penta-

Kenya Fights Last Rebels

(Continued from Page 1)

how many air force members were involved in the coup attempt. Sources said that the core of the rebel forces was made up of combat troops trained to guard bases and other installations.

President Moi, 58, has been in power since 1978, when he suc-ceeded the late Jomo Kenyatta, Kenya's revered first president and the architect of the country's independence.

through a constitutional amendment making his Kenya African National Union the only legal po-litical party. Since then he has been rounding up leading his par-

"Rampant corruption and nepo-tism has made life almost intolerable in our society. The economy is in a shambles, and the people can't afford food, housing and trans-the air force dissidents seemed to have little public support.

action which will be made known as we go along. The implication Last month, Mr. Moi pushed was that the government would back away from a confrontation and would cooperate with Mr. Nkomo's Zimbabwe African People's Union party to try to curb the mounting dissidence since Mr. Nkomo was fired. Mr. Nkomo has ty's opponents.

One rebel broadcast said: been seeking joint action for weeks in an attempt to boost the role of his party. Meanwhile, about 1,500 troops continued their search for about a dozen dissidents and the six American, British and Australian tour-ists they kidnapped 10 days ago in Matabeleland. But diplomatic sources said that

Turkey Charges 65 With Rebellion

The Associated Press

ISTANBUL - Sixty-five alleged leftist activists went oo trial in Erzurum, in eastern Turkey, Monday on charges of "armed rebellioo" against the state to establish a Communist regime, the semi-official Anatolia News Agency report-

In a dispatch from Erzurum, the beadquarters of military authorities for three other provinces, the agency said the 65 belonged to four leftist armed groups that were active in several districts of Kars, oear the Soviet frontier.

They will be accused of the premeditated murder of seven perns, armed robberies, extortion and membership in an illegal or-ganization. The agency dispatch did not specify the penalty sought by the military prosecutor in the case, it only reported that the group were found to "have conspired to disrupt the constitutional regime in Turkey with an aim of Communist order," a charge that carries the death penalty. show that their peace with Israel was intended to help the Palestinian cause as well.

creation of a homeland. By phrasing this in the context of the Camp David accords, the Reagan administration could give support to Egypt's diplomatic campaign in the Arab world to imposed to quell ethnic violence

The following story was subject to government censorship.

The state of emergency was the sixth since President Jumins R Jayewardene was elected in 1977. The Defense Ministry said Sunday that riot police had been placed on alert and police in the capital in-creased "to thwart organized attempts to unleash violence [and] cause disruption, communal aniinjured 65.

"I am sorry that a few days ago
there was a communal clash in Galle," Mr. Jayewardene said Sunday in the central town of Kandy.
"An emergency had to be declared in the entire island to stop this sitsaid the city was tense but transportation and other government services had been restored.

Wind Rages in Yugoslavia The Associated Press

The family of a man wounded by shrappel gathered Monday at his bedside at a Beirut hospital. The hospital's 50 patients had been moved to underground storage rooms during the Israeli bombardment of West Beirut on Sunday. Several shells hit the building, but no one was injured.

U.S. Should Talk With PLO, Egyptian Says

said, was an immediate withdrawal of the PLO, restoration of a strong vernment in Lebanon and a final withdrawal of all foreign forces. In effect, this approach was identical to Israel's reported goal of liquidating the PLO militarily and politically and leaving Lebanon under the domination of Maronite Christian militias led by Bashir Gemayel.

While welcoming the shift in U.S. policy, Mr. Ali said Egypt feels the United States should telescope its political schedule to accompany the PLO's withdrawal by making commitments to discuss with the PLO such issues as Palestinian self-determination and the

Sri Lanka Police Tighten Security In Ethnic Unrest

United Press Intern

COLOMBO, Sri Lanka - Authorities in Sri Lanka have tightened a state of emergency already

mosity and unrest."

The state of emergency was imposed Friday after two days of rioting between Moslems and Sinhalese killed three persons and uation from escalating."

The government leader in Galle

BELGRADE - A sudden, fiveminute wind storm injured 17 persons and damaged nearly 600 buildings in the northwestern Yngoslav town of Petrinja Saturday night, Belgrade newspapers reported Monday.

operation and also block hopes of Echoing Egypt's view that the United States holds the trumps of a Middle East settlement because of its influence over Israel, Mr. Ali said that Israel's narrow interpretation of Palestinian rights, cou-pled with Israeli behavior in Lebanon and in the occupied West Bank, is liable to turn the Palestinian movement back into a terrorist normalizing relations between laraelis and Egyptians.

Reacting to criticism of Israelis and Mr. Arafat's signals of increased PLO moderation, Mr. Aliaeid the Reacan administration is said, the Reagan administration is more receptive to Egyptian initiatives on behalf of the Palestinians. "But the Americans say they Sivip need more, time, and sometimes, 22 545 there just isn't any more time," he area

WORLD BRIEFS

Iraq Reaffirms Relations With Russia

NICOSIA — The first depoty premier of Iraq, Taba Yassin Ramadan, has reaffirmed Iraq's friendly relations with the Soviet Union and said be hopes more comes of them, according to the Iraqi news agency, INA. Iraq has a 20-year treaty of friendship and cooperation with the Soviet 3 Union, but there have been unconfirmed reports that the Russians have not lived up to their side of the agreement and have offered no help for

The INA dispatch also said Mr. Ramadan assailed U.S. policy toward:

The INA dispatch also said Mr. Ramadan assailed U.S. policy toward:

Iraq and other Arab nations. "We still regard the Soviet Union as a friend," he was quoted as saying, "and we have made great strides as far, as mutual relations are concerned. We also hope to achieve more in this respect." INA said Mr. Ramadan made his comments to the Englishlanguage Baghdad Observer.

OAU Summit Is Considered Unlikely

TRIPOLI, Libya -- An African summit meeting due to open in Tripolion Thursday is unlikely to take place because of a continuing dispute over the Western Sahara, conference sources said Monday.

The sources said 20 countries that have boycotted the current preparatory ministerial session were not expected to attend the planned summit of the Organization of African Unity. They are objecting to the presence of delegates from the Polisario Front, which has been fighting Morocco of delegates from the Polisario Front, which has been fighting Morocco for six years to achieve independence for the Western Sahara.

Conference sources also said some African leaders may stay away because they object to the foreign policy of Col. Moamer Qadhaff, the Libyan leader who is scheduled to take over as OAU chairman at the

Hearings Start in French Bus Deaths

CREPY-EN-VALOIS, France —A court hearing opened Monday into possible homicide charges in the fiery collision of 10 vehicles Samuday that killed 53 persons, including 46 children - most of them abound two buses bound for summer camp.

The court proceedings were ordered by public prosecutor Regis Mourier of Dijon, capital of the Burgundy province where three buses and seven cars piled up on a rain-slicked highway, causing an explosion. Forty-four children died aboard two of the buses and two children were killed in a car with their mother — one of the seven adults killed in the crash near Beaune. Initially, the police had reported 44 children and nine adults dead. President Francois Mitterrand and Prime Minister Pierre Mauroy were to attend funeral services Tuesday for the 44 children who came from the town of Crepy-en-Valois, north of Paris.

2 Romanians Continue Protest Fast

VIENNA --- A Romanian woman who has been on a hunger strike for 22 days said Monday she and her husband are pledged to continue until Romanian authorities permit them to move to Israel.

Ruxandra Ratescu said by telephone from Bucharest that Romania's chief rabbi, Moses Rosen, had appealed to her husband, Sergin Rateson a 36-year-old architect, to end the hunger strike. Her husband rejector the plea, she added.

"We are decided to go to the end, because I don't understand why they need such a long time to make a decision," Mrs. Ratescu, 34, said. They have been trying for 12 years to gain permission to move to Israel

UN to Reopen Disarmament Talks

GENEVA — The United Nations is to reopen its long-standing talks on disarmament Tuesday, nearly a month after a special General Assembly session on arms reductions ended in faithre.

by session on arms reductions ended in faithre.

The 40-nation disarmament committee, in addition to reviewing the draft program on disarmament on which the General Assembly failed to agree, will propose new initiatives.

Washington and Moscow have given hints recently of new interest in two technical working groups on means to verify compliance with nuclear test bans and a proposed ban on all chemical weapons. Neither group is expected to produce new agreements, but progress in their talks might spill over into U.S.-Soviet negotiations, diplomats said.

Compiled From Agency Dispatches

An eden For gourmets And music lovers the most peaceful garden of the Champs-Elysées. Greenery, fountains and terraces provide the ideal setting for businessmen's lunches at midday. and in the evenings you may listen to recitations of SHAKESPEARE accompanied by music from MENDELSSOHN adding quality to the happiness of dining in this paradise

Restourant LES ELYSEES
51 rue François 1er - 75008 PARIS
Reservations: 562.63.64 Lunch starting from 12:30 Dinner starting from 8:30 p.m. In the unique Hotel Nova-Park Elysées

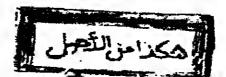

(at Etoile) Gifts - Furniture - Lighting - Rugs Silverware - Jewelry - Porcelain - Glassware

The Danish Shop in Paris

42, Avenue Friedland - 75008 PARIS. - Tel.: 227 02 92. Esport Discount & Shipment Abroad

From July 5th through August 27th. Monday through Friday, the International Herald Tribune will present the news in English at 10 a.m. on radio station RMC.

Ecoutez la radio qui vous écoute

and to the state of the state o

Grumman Plane Selected As Premier Navy Fighter

By Richard Halloran New York Times Service

WASHINGTON - Defense Department officials have settled on the Grunman F-14 Tomcat as the Navy's premier fighter but have left open the choice of an attack bomber, according to Pentagon and indus-try officials

The Pentagon's action is exfor the rest of the century.

The selection of the F-14 could mean $8.4 billion for Gramman Acrospace Corp. of

It will build 144 of the planes in the fiscal years 1984 through 1988 if Congress approves each annual aircraft request from the administration. This year, Congress is almost certain to ap-prove the purchase of at least 24 F-14s for 1983.

The bomber question has set off a fierce lobbying battle between two leading military contractors — Grunman, which makes A-6 Intruders, and McDonnell Douglas of St. Lou-is, manufacturer of F-18 Hornets. The orders will be worth about $4 billion to the victor.

Grumman has cut its price on the intuder, and the Navy is making it plain to McDonnell Douglas that it expects similar

The two decisions on aircraft

New York Times Service

fense Department report to Congress shows that the United States continues to spend more money for military power than all of the nation's European allies and Japan together.

The Report on Allied Contribu-tions to the Common Defense, signed by Secretary of Defense Caspar W. Weinberger, further shows that the United States provides far larger proportions of manpower, ground forces, air power, and naval forces than do any of

WASHINGTON - A new De-

purchases came in a review of the Navy's five-year plan for spending more than $30 billion on mircraft. The review was ordered by the Defense Resources Board, the Pentagon's top executive committee, as it prepared the 1984 military budget.

In a confidential memoranchim, the board questioned whether the purchasing rate and the Navy's pattern of buying a few planes of several sorts at a time could be sustained over five years, given rising costs.

.The memo said, "The most frequently cited cause of the problem is, too many different types of aircraft are being bought at low and inefficient ment rates with resultant nigh unit costs." The new aircraft will replace dents and equip an expanding force of aircraft carriers. Alternatives Listed planes lost through age or acci-

When the review was begun, officials said, a confidential memocandum listed alternatives with various combinations of F-14 Tomcats, A-6 Intruders, F-18 Hornets and other aircraft that would cost between $30 billion and $34 billion.

One alternative called for ending production of F-14 Toracats, whose task is to defend carriers and escort vessels, and replacing fair share of the NATO and Japa-nese total." It singles out Japan, asserting that Japan "appears to be contributing far less than its share of what it is capable of contribut-

The report appears likely to fur-

Congress who have recently been critical of the large sums of money the United States has been spending on military budgets while domestic programs have been cut to reduce the federal deficit.

have contended that the United States should begin pulling ground

forces out of Europe because allies

Some members of Congress

nition to members of

The F-14 Tomcat: Grumman could get an $8.4-billion contract.

them with F-18 Hornets. The Hornets can serve as both fighters and bombers.

Another alternative called for canceling F-18 production and using A-6s in the attack role; a third would have ended A-6 production and turned to the F-18.

The officials said the Defense Resources Board accepted the recommer dation of Navy Secretary John r. Lehman Jr. to make the F-14 Tomcat the Navy's chief fighter because its performance is among the best in the world and its unit cost would drop as more planes are pro-

Officials said some Hornets may be bought for use on smaller carriers until they go out of service around 1990. In the competition for the U.S. Says Its Outspends Europe Allies, Japan on Military

ment report says.

deterring war for more than three decades has undermined the resolve of a generation in Europe that has never experienced the hor-rors of war," the Defense Depart-allies have failed to achieve the 3 percent annual increase in military spending agreed upon in 1979.

"Politically, the failure of our allies to achieve at least the 3 percent judged necessary to keep the East-West balance from tipping further against NATO could be seen by Moscow as a weakening of our col-ties to that agreement, but recent

Japan and France were not parties to that agreement, but recent Japanese military spending has been increasing about 7 percent a

The report on what is called "burden sharing," a classified version of which went to Congress in lective resolve," the report says.

The report says that most of the bomber contract, the officials said, the question is whether Grumman's A-6 Intruder will be the Navy's only attack bomber or whether the attack force will be a mixture of Intruders and F-

They said Grumman had of-fered a firm price of $19 million for each A-6, which one senior official said represented a "staruling" 19-percent reduction from earlier prices. As a result, the of-ficials said, the Navy has told McDonnell Douglas that each Hornet must cost no more than the $22.5 million the plane cost

One seninr Navy official said. "If we don't get our price, we are dropping it from the Navy." ment and the Navy must com-

up 3.5 percent annually. The Japanese government recently ap-proved a budget for the 1983 fiscal year calling for a 7.34 percent in-crease in military spending.

Burden in the Gulf

In a section on U.S. policy toward protecting oil sources around the Gulf, the report said that: "The allies, as major beneficiaries of this effort, must do their fair share to carry the risks and hurden of defending common se-curity interests in Southwest

plete drafts of the 1984 hudget and a five-year procurement plan by the fall, officials said the Navy must have an answer from McDonnell Douglas by early October.

The initial program the Navy ubmitted would have spent $34 billion for 970 tactical aircraft, including 144 F-14 Tomcats, 606 F-18 Hornets, 30 Grumman Prowlers that can electronically jam enemy radar, and 190 AV-8B's, a McDonnell Douglas derivative of the British Harrier jump-jet.
The Grumman A-6 Intruder was omitted from that plan to reduce the variety of aircraft, but Mr. Lehman restored it when Grumman cut the price and announced plans to improve

according to Defense Department officials. But they said that some of the more pointed criticisms of the allies had been edited out of the version made public last week.

The report shows that the United States provides 53 percent of the total, collective military budgets of the allies, Britain,

France, and Germany spend about 10 percent of the total but Italy

The United States furnishes, for the common defense, 66 percent of the naval tonnage, 45 percent of the tactical air power, 39 percent of the ground forces, and 41 percent of the people on active mili-and Japan less than 4 percent.

China Makes Japan's Texts

Publishes Grisly Photos Of Nanking Atrocities

By Michael Rank

PEKING — Peking published Monday the grisliest photographs so far of atrocities committed during the Japanese occupation of China in a further show of anger over the rewriting of Japanese history textbooks covering that peri-

The photographs in the Communist Party newspaper People's Dai-ly showed Chinese being buried alive and piles of corpses heaped in ditches during the "rape of Nanking" in 1937, in which the paper said up to 340,000 people were killed. It quoted the revised text-books as blaming the Chinese for Peking has reacted furiously to the revisions, which now refer to the invasion of China simply as an "advance" instead of aggression and which gloss over atrocities during the occupation from 1937 to 1945.

The revisions also have upset North and South Korea, which were ruled by Japan from 1910 to 1945, because they describe mem-bers of the peninsula's independ-ence movement as "rioters" rather than as a resistance group.

China holds the Japanese Edu-cation Ministry responsible for the revisions, although a senior minis-try official has said the books are the responsibility of the publishers.

China expressed its anger Sunday by withdrawing an invitation to the Japanese education minister, Heiji Ogawa, to visit Peking next month. Mr. Ogawa said Mon-day in Tokyo that he agreed that it was not an appropriate time for a visit. He said he would study ways to create what he called an environment suitable for a future visit.

'Japanese Murderers'

China had earlier published a series of photographs taken during the Nanking killings, and the Peo-ple's Daily said in a report accompanying the latest set that "the Japanese murderers slanghtered everybody in sight and burned every house within view, carrying ont a bloody massacre for six weeks."

It quoted an international military tribunal as reporting that 190,000 people had been shot or buried alive in mass killings and 150,000 murdered individually.

"When people see how the Japanese aggressors murdered our innocent compatriots 45 years ago, they are bound to realize what is the true aim of the Japanese Education Ministry in falsifying the history of the invasion of China," the newspaper added.

The report followed the screening on Chinese television Sunday night of a feature film about the occupation. Diplomats saw the showing, the first in many years, as a clear attempt to win pop niar support for press attacks on Japan. China says the textbook revisions violate the spirit of a 1972 agreement in which the two countries established diplomatic relations and Japan expressed regret for its past actions.

Japan is China's biggest trading partner, with bilateral exchanges worth $10.4 billion last year. Reaction in Seoul

In Seoul, Lee Kyu Ho, the South Korean education minister, said Monday that any country that tried to varnish over past wrongs and beautify crimes that distresse its neighbors would have difficulty in securing their trust and coopera-

Mr. Lee, who did not name Japan, was the first South Korean minister to comment on the textbook issue, which has dominated the country's media and led to widespread anti-Japanese demonstrations and an anonymous death threat against the Japanese ambas-sador to Scoul, Toshikazu Maeda.

In Pyongyang, the North Korean news agency said the textbooks whitewashed "the vicious colonial ruling policy of the Japanese impe-

Succession Law Urged in Manila

MANILA - An opposition nand E. Marcos' death.

Reuben Canoy, a member of the Philippines' legislature, said, "If the question of presidential succession is not settled while President Marcos is still alive, there is great danger of a civil war upon his

Mr. Marcos has been rumored to be ill, but last week the government said doctors had pronounced him fit. Under the present constitution, the executive committee that helps to administer the country would serve the remainder of the president's term if he died within 18 months of the next scheduled election.

WORLDWIDE ENTERTAINMENT

South Korean's Death New Attack on Is Traced to Torture

By Sam Jameson

Los Angeles Times Service SEOUL — Kee Jong Do, 46, an obscure critic of the government, may have been the first fatality from political repression since Doo Hwan took over as president in August, 1980.

Human-rights activists, asked not to be named, said that Mr. Kee died in Kwangju on May 31 of illnesses incurred as a result of torture during an interrogation by provincial policemen. Expect-ing death. Mr. Kee reportedly dictated to his wife a "last letter to my son" a day before he died. In it, he charged that his illnesses had been brought on by police torture.

The Korean national police, in nusual replies to two sets of written questions, denied that Mr. Kee been tortured and asserted that the "last letter" was not au-

During the 53 days that Mr. Kee was held in custody for questioning, the police said in their first reply, they were aware of the serious esses be was suffering yet permitted him outside treatment on only two days.

Response Changes

Asked to explain why so little treatment had been offered, the police corrected themselves in their second reply to say that Mr. Kee had been treated on nine days outside of prison. During the longest period of custody without outside treatment — 36 days — Mr. Kee was treated five times in the prison infirmary, the second reply added. Released on May 15, Mr. Kee was hospitalized, underwent sur-gery for removal of his gallbladder and died May 31.

The case, which has not been reported in South Korea, came to ght after charges of torture were made in three other political cases as well as in three criminal cases.

In two of the criminal cases, Korean judges stunned police officials and prosecutors by throwing out confessions extracted under duress as unreliable and declaring the defendants innocent.

These actions spurred opposi tion political parties and the nation's usually muzzled press to accuse the government of permitting police torture. Church leaders took the unusual step of writing to President Chun directly to complain of alleged torture in the three political cases.

Mr. Kee's case, however, is the first time that South Korean police - even while denying torture - have offered evidence themselves that a gravely ill prisoner received what must at best be considered insufficient medical treatment while in custody as a suspect

Mr. Kec, a political follower of Kim Dae Jung, the opposition's unsuccessful presidential candidate in 1971, who himself is now in jail, was arrested with three other men on a charge of violating the so-called "national security law."

He was charged with attempting to organize what the police called "an illegal association." No elabo-

Dissidents said Mr. Kee and two others were detained because they had been distributing copies of Korean newspapers published in June, 1980, and again during his detention this spring. After being detained March 23, Mr. Kee's letter said, he was subjected to "brutal torture and beatings."

"I wasn't even allowed to go to

Human-rights advocates said that Mr. Kee's wife, Park Yu Tok, wrote the letter, following his general dictation. The police contend that the letter is not authentic. His wife "has not had sufficient formal education to enable her to write such a [letter]," the police statement said.

Officials Concerned

written questions underscore a new concern at high levels of the South Korean government over charges of police torture.

11 Protestant leaders who had sent a letter to Mr. Chun protesting official torture.

The home affairs minister at the

and religious groups in the past."

plete independence in nuclear strategic defense."

He said, however, that the Unit-and that some of its unilateral actions had great impact on European economic problems and unem-

Mr. Cheysson said there are too any common interests between the two sides for the problem to endure, and added that "the Americans are going to understand that we are right."

He is to fly to the scenic south-ern city of Guilin on Tuesday and leave China by way of Hong Kong

on Thursday on his way to South

218,423 Refugees Listed

GENEVA (UPI) — There were 218,423 listed Indochinese refugees in Southeast Asian camps at the end of June, with most of them

in Thailand, the United Nations

High Commissioner for Refugees

The total includes 88,422 Cambodians, 86,327 Laotians and 43,674 Vietnamese, the agency said. It said Thailand shelters all the Cambodians and Laotians and for Victnamese include Hong Kong, 10.763; Malaysia, 9,627; Indonesia, 6,585; the Philippines,

4,470; Japan, 1,952; Singapore, 1,390; Macao, 1,103; South Korea,

Other sites of first refuge listed - said Monday.

7.394 Vietnamese.

131; and China, 72,

ployment.

U.S. Aides in Salvador

"In the final analysis," the study there have failed to carry a fair says, "the United States appears to share of the military burden. be doing somewhat more than its "Ironically, NATO's success in

By Christopher Dickey Washington Pag Service offices of the formess-like U.S. distribution. This was partly to Embassy here, tearful and almost protect sources, and especially the mable to walk, it was known that his story was potentially explosive.

He was a volunteer for a Salva-doran humanitarian organization of Nodis — not for WASHINGTON — The FBI is again looking into allegations against Labor Secretary Raymond I. Donovan, at the request of the special prosecutor who recently doran humanitarian organization.

doran humanitarian organization. He gave an account of being tortured at the hands of El Salvador's state police.

Russ

in Rose

ion ads

iket

The classified embassy report of the incident to the State Department was leaked to the press in Washington last week, causing some embassy staff members to wonder aloud whether their messages can or should be frank if they will be turned over to the

"Your policy is that the United States cannot accept torture, and the other side is that the U.S. perceives vital interests at stake in El Salvador," said a U.S. diplomat. How do you reconcile one with

Interviews with U.S. officials about how the report was written and how it was received in Washington before it became public indicate other problems: · The continuing insularity of the embassy stall. · A concern among some officers about "waiting to policy," and, at its root, what some feel are the inherent contradictions that appear in U.S. policy when it comes down to concrete cases such

The embassy's report on the al-leged torune of the volunteer for the Salvadoran Green Cross reportedly went to Washington promptly and "straight," without

British MP Quits Labor Party After Dispute With Left

The Associated Press LONDON - Robert Mellish, one of the best-known Labor Party members in the House of Commons, resigned from the party on Monday after a bitter fight with left-wingers in his south London district of Bermondsey.

"It is not the Labor Party I joined and worked for. Today it has hit lists of decent men and women," said Mr. Mellish, 69, a Labor Party legislator for 37 years. He was chief whip in charge of Commons business from 1974 to 1976 under Prime Minister Harold Wilson.

Mr. Mellish, one of the oldschool Laborites who favor moderate Socialism and a mixed economy, said he will remain in the Commons as an independent until the Labor Party's executive committee endorses a new candidate for Bermondsey. Then he will resign his seat and retire, he said, forcing a special election to "give the decent people of Bermondsey a chance to express their views."

"I am very sad to leave after 55 years' membership of the party which I have worked for and loved. It is a tragedy," Mr. Mellish details of the man's allegations. The report was given the high classification of Nodis - not for to protect policy, according to U.S.

At least one official concerned with the case was looking to the required Reagan administration certification of an improving human-rights situation in El Salvador. The certification was made last week. And there was the specific intent to preserve the embassy's good re-lations with the commander of the National Police, Col. Reynaldo Lopez Nulla. A top U.S. official described Mr. Lopez Nulla as "one of the best people in this govern-

Mr. Lopez Nulla frequently has been credited by U.S. officials with doing more to clean up his branch of the security forces than any other senior officer in the Salva-doran armed forces. They note that he is cooperative, answering inquiries and apparently acknowledging detentions.

The police denied the allegations of the Green Cross worker. The embassy was left to assess whether Mr. Lopez Nuila or others had set up an elaborate screen, whether this was an isolated incident, whether Mr. Lopez Nulla did not know what was going on in his organization, or whether the Green Cross volunteer was lying and had made a well-timed and well-rehearsed visit to the embassy. El Salvador's authorities are susnicions that the Green Cross has inks to the guerrillas, and on one occasion, when stopped by guerril-las, the Green Cross volunteer gave them a small quantity of milk an act witnessed by bystanders.

Embassy officials were reluctant to say whether they had made any attempt to visit the suite of secret. soundproof cells allegedly located on the third floor of the National Police headquarters, where the volunteer said he was held for a week. Much of the Green Cross volunteer's credibility rests on the fact that he was known previously by at least one member of the embassy staff. No medical examination was conducted, but the embassy officer who interviewed him said "the gny would have had to have been the best actor in the world" to simulate the evidence of crippling pain, the spontaneous tears and the sweating seen during the interview.

The embassy officer who knew the alleged victim described him as an evangelical Christian. The officer said the man appeared to have recovered from his injuries when he saw him in June, after the report was filed and shortly before the man left the country,

Ambassador Deane Hinton was visiting Washington when the case broke. On his return to El Salvador, he made a specific protest to President Alvaro Magaña and warned that such actions could have a serious effect on U.S. sup-

On Donovan

By Robert Pear

dence to justify prosecution of Mr. Sources close to the current inquiry said Sunday that the bureau had not been able to corroborate any of the new allegations, which were said to be similar to the charges originally made against the labor secretary.

Leon Silverman, the special prosecutor, conducted a six-month investigation into allegations that Mr. Donovan, in his years as an executive with the Schiavone Construction Co. of Secaucus, N.J., had ties to organized crime figures and had witnessed an illegal payoff to a union official in 1977.

Vernon R. Louviere, a spokes-man for Mr. Donovan, said Sunday night that the secretary was aware of the latest allegations and would not comment on them. Mr Donovan has consistently denied any wrongdoing. Mr. Louviere said Mr. Donovan would "wait this one out" just as he had during Mr. Silverman's investigation.

FBI Declines Comment Mr. Silverman could not be reached Sunday. A spokesman for the FBI in Washington, Roger S. Young declined to comment on the report that agents were again looking into allegations against

Some members of Congress have charged that the FBI did not conduct an adequate investigation of Mr. Donovan when he was nominated by President Reagan. Sen. Orrin G. Hatch, Republican of Utah, has also said that some bureau officials withheld important information from the Labor and Human Resources Committee when the panel held hearings on Mr. Donovan's qualifications in January, 1981.

The committee of which Sen. Hatch is chairman voted last month to look into the bureau's performance in the Mr. Donovan case. Congressional aides said that, in view of the panel's investigation, the FBI and Mr. Silverman had to take the new allegations seriously even if the charges might seem to have little merit.

Law-enforcement officials suggested that, to summarize the results of his work since June 28, the date he released the report on his investigation, Mr. Silverman might submit a supplementary account to a special three-judge panel of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia, which appointed him last December.

55 Killed on Spain's Roads The Associated Press

MADRID — Fifty-five persons were killed and 56 seriously injured in 41 traffic accidents in Spain during the weekend, police reported Monday. They said that the accidents occurred as millions of people were returning from or beginning their summer vacations.

Torture Press Tip Upsets FBI Checking U.S. Study Assails Plan New Charges To Kill Energy Agency

year, although from a low base: March, was more elaborate and French spending has been going more carefully composed this year.

By Milton Benjamin Vashington Post Service

WASHINGTON — The General Accounting Office, in a report highly critical of President Rengan's plan to abolish the De-partment of Energy, says a four-month study turned up no evidence to support the administra-tion's claim that the action would save more than $400 million a year, or any lesser sum.

In fact, the GAO says, the administration has failed to take into account "numerous" expenses that shifting most of the Energy Department's functions to the Commerce Department would involve and has not performed the detailed planning necessary" to carry out a major reorganization effi-

The report, scheduled in be made public Monday, seems likely to doom any lingering hope of the Reagan administration to get legislation to abolish the Energy Department enacted in the current sion of Congress.

Wide-Ranging Reactions

Introduced in the Senate two months ago, the administration's plan ran into reactions ranging from skepticism to outright hostility at the only hearing that has been held. The administration has not found a sponsor to introduce the bill in the House.
In recent months the administration has variously claimed that the reorganization would save $1.3

Marijuana Called Fourth Largest Cash Crop in U.S. United Press Interactional

NEW YORK - Marijuana has become the nation's fourth largest cash crop, worth about $8.5 billion a year. Time magazine has report-And the grass is evidently greener in California, Hawaii and harvest list. Nationwide, only corn.

Oklahoma - states that led the

wheat and soybeans ranked ahead of marijuana in market value. California's marijuana harvest was worth $1.5 billion in retail sales. Hawaii was second with a $750-million crop that rivaled the pineapple crop in value. Oklahoma harvested $350 million worth. In Kentucky and Tennessee, each

Farming the marijuana is reportedly done by professionals such as lawyers and stockbrokers, as well as laid-off workers and financially squeezed farmers. Time reported that 100,000 people are commercial growers of marijuana. They supply about 20 percent of the marijuana consumed annually by the nation's estimated 25.5 milhon smokers.

According to the magazine, the preferred crop is sinsemilla, a seedless marijuana that has a high concentration of tetrahydrocannabi-

nol, marijuana's psychoactive ingredient. It sells for about $2,000 per pound.

as the favorite illicit enterprise, the magazine reported.

billion, $1 billion and $250 million over three years. But the GAO, the auditing arm of Congress, said in its report that it had found that "sufficient evidence has not been developed" by the administration in support any of the savings estimates.

viewed the figures with administration officials, they agreed that most of the envisaged reductions in personnel were "primarily related" to cutbacks in federal energy programs and were not linked to the proposed reorganization. As to claimed efficiencies from merging the operations of the two Cabinet departments, the GAO said Commerce Department officials "had no specific explanation" of what types of automated sys-tems could be merged to produce the $200 million savings cited by the administration. In fact, the GAO concluded, "to the extent that it would be necessary to integrate systems, the difficulties of combining Energy's systems with those of Commerce would likely be substantial." While the consolidation of those systems could eventually lead to economies officials from both departments told the GAO that they had not considered in their savings estimates the "difficulties and expenses" associated with merging the systems. The GAO was even more skeptical of the administration's claim that the reorganization would save $50 million by tightening the manner in which the Energy Department audits the activities of private contractors.

The GAO also faulted planners of the reorganization for failing to take into account a wide range of costs — higher overtime costs, along with increased training and support-services expenses — that the administration's proposal In sum, the GAO concluded that the "expenses of reorganization have not been assessed and the current savings estimates are poorly documented and are based on inadequate implementation

Big Canada Forest Fire Shuts Route to Alaska

FORT NELSON, British Columhis - A fire touched off by lightwith a $200-million yield, marijuaning roared out of control across na has replaced moonshine liquor 400,000 acres in the northern forests and closed the main highway to Alaska, according to the provincial Forest Service. The fire had consumed at least > AUTHORS WANTED By N.Y. Publisher Leading subsidy book publisher seeks manu-scripts of all types (letters, non-liction, poetry, nde scholarh and relievous works, etc. I authors welcomed. Send for free booklet H-3 Vanlage Press. 516 W 34th St., New York, N.Y.

The Associated Press gime of the East, we are together, PEKING — France and China even we French who have com-because of France's revulsion for the Communist Khmer Rouge fac-tion, Claude Cheysson, the French amine the problems of its allies external relations minister, said Monday.

three days of talks with Chinese

Mr. Cheysson said China ex-

Sann, who heads the non-Communist guerrillas, but Mr. Cheysson said France totally rejects the poli-cies carried out by the Khmer was accused of large-scale killing and relocation of citizens from cities to the countryside.

"What happened when Pol Pot was master is not forgotten in France," he said. "It created gener-

He said France wants to keep its lines open to Vietnam. Mr. Cheysson said the question of French aid to Vietnam was not mentioned by Chinese officials, The Chinese press has denounced such aid. On U.S.-French relations, Mr. Cheysson said, "When it comes to defense against that totalitarian re-

BAGS • SCARVES • TIES

FASHIOH ACCESSORIES

SWISS

PARIS

2nd Floor, Elevator

legislator, saying the measure might avert a civil war, called Monday for a constitutional amendment to provide a successor in the event of President Ferdideath or incapacity."

400,000 acres of pine and spruce by Sunday. Satellite photographs showed that smoke from the fire had drifted as far as West Virginia, ration was offered.

Los Angeles and Canada.

Account of Torture

In his purported letter to his eld-est son, Pong Kwan, 16, Mr. Kee accused police of torturing him in the toilet freely and my whole body was covered with bruises. I could hardly move my hands and

An English translation of the letter obtained here, however, contained no difficult words and was written in a rambling, informal

The police officials' replies to

Earlier, in February, national olice officials agreed to meet with time, Suh Chung Hwa, replied in a letter to the clergymen that the charges of torture "stem mostly from an inadequate dialogue and insufficient understanding and cooperation between this ministry

France, China Differ On the Khmer Rouge

differ over support for the new Cambodian government-in-exile

Mr. Chevsson also said at a news conference in Peking that the problem between the United States and Western Europe is a family quarrel that is serious but will not last long. He spoke with reporters after officials, including Deng Xiaoping the Communist Party deputy chairman who is China's most pressed strong support for the three-faction Cambodian govern-France has long-standing relations with Prince Norodom Sihanouk, the coalition's president and leader of one faction, and Son

Rouge when it ruled Cambodia. The Khmer Rouge, led by Pol Pot, held power from 1975 until the Vietnamese invaded in 1979. It al revulsion. There is not a single political leader in France who could imagine meeting with Pol Pot or discussing anything with nuclear weapons program is ending in a draw. The deal between Mr. Reagan and Mrs. Gandhi is not a defeat for either, but neither is it a victory for nonproliferation.

The Reagan-Gandhi Deal

From THE NEW YORK TIMES

The laudatory aim of the settlement was to sweeten the atmosphere for a rapprochement, symbolized by Mrs. Gandhi's first visit to the United States in more than a decade. But in strictly nuclear terms, India gained. By substituting France for the United States as the supplier of civilian nuclear fuel, the deal eliminates the American pressure, through fuel delays and cutoffs, to get New Delhi to accept "full-scope" safeguards — international inspection of all its nuclear facilities.

Mrs. Gandhi comes away with a guarantee of nuclear fuel for at least 11 more years without having to prove her claim that she is not making bombs. She has not even promised, like her predecessor, not to conduct another nuclear explosion. There is ground for complaint that the deal undercuts the Nuclear Nonproliferation Act.

Still, a second Indian weapons test has not, in fact, occurred for eight years - undoubtedly because of American pressure and world opinion. It remains unlikely. There have been other gains. India's clandestine diversion of civilian nuclear aid made the world more alert to the dangers lurking in peaceful nuclear projects. There has been a general tightening of precautions by all the nuclear supplier nations. And no other potential weapons maker has so far exploded a nuclear device.

The Indian-U.S. standoff had in any case become unstable. An agreement in 1963 obligated the Indians to use U.S. fuel in the U.S.built reactor at Tarapur. But, uniquely, it also obligated America to supply the fuel — for the reactor's presumed life of 30 years. Thus, when Congress in 1978 insisted that fuel be

The eight-year struggle with India over its denied to those nations whose programs were not fully inspected, India had a legal case for declaring the agreement broken.

That risked the diversion of American aid to military projects. Most disturbingly, India maintained it no longer needed U.S. consent to reprocess nuclear waste, even if the resulting plutonium fuel could also be used as a bomb explosive. It notified the United Nations that spent U.S. fuel rods were being shipped to a new reprocessing plant.

Given India's political importance, there was a strong case for liquidating this controversy - provided a vigorous anti-proliferation program were in place for the rest of the world. The surrender to India can be defended as a surrender to necessity, to retain the remainder of the 1963 agreement's inspection and reprocessing safeguards. But the Indian deal is sadly symbolic of the Reagan administration's weakened interest in nonprolifera-tion. It has been making other deals that sim-ilarly circumvent the spirit, if not the letter, of the Nonproliferation Act.

South Africa and Brazil, whose U.S. fuel is also blocked by the law, have also been helped to European substitutes, although they had no comparable legal claims. Sup-plies and equipment for sensitive facilities, which the Carter administration would have opposed without the law requiring it, have been approved for Argentina and South Afri-ca. Pakistan's nuclear transgressions have been overlooked in providing aid. Most important, the Ford-Carter camp against premature use of plutonium as a fuel has been abandoned in the United States and in Europe and Japan. And this context gives the new Indian arrangements a somber cast. Once plutonium is widely used in key countries, it will be hard to deny to other friends. Congress had better look again, and fast,

Meanwhile, Back at the UN

Two recent news items:

 A Washington Post correspondent re-ported from Beirut: The Palestine Liberation Organization has prevented food sup-plies stored in a United Nations warehouse here from reaching refugees in besieged West Beirut and southern Lebanon for the past 10 days, UN officials charged today, PLO officials, who in the past have bitterly/condemned Israeli forces for periodic blockades of food and water to West Beirut, confirmed reports that they were preventing the UN Re-lief and Works Agency from removing food

 On the same day late last week came a story about the United Nations Security Council's deliberations on the Lebanese crisis: "The council interrupted the debate over the [French-Egyptian] resolution to pass by 14 to 0 another statement, proposed by Spain, demanding that Israel immediately lift its blockade of Beirut to permit the distribution of emergency supplies."

Is there anyone left who wonders why responsible people, and not just Israelis, find it hard to accept the United Nations as a serious and workable instrument for dealing with the Arab-Israeli dispute?

Diplomacy Against Drugs

From THE NEW YORK TIMES grown and processed. Some deserve sanctions

Since large supplies of heroin reappeared in major American cities four years ago, the government has done little to choke the traf-fic at the source. The Carter administration slashed funds for anti-drug efforts abroad and the Reagan administration reduced them even more. The State Department's budget in this area is down to a modest $36 million.

need. There are laws enough to permit suspension of aid to uncooperative countries. But with the program starved, other policy concerns get priority. Pakistan, for example, is the source of 60 percent of the beroin that reaches America; but after the Soviet invasion of Afghanistan, nothing was allowed to interfere with a $3.2-million aid program.

New York's Senator Moynihan poposes a law to empower the president to terminate trade as well as aid. The law is probably superfluous, but the proposal provides a useful reminder of Washington's neglect.

The illicit drug traffic is indeed best fought at the source; the Nixon administration proved it with pressure on Turkey and Mexico. But other governments are not always in control of the areas where the drugs are because they refuse to help; others deserve assistance when they do. Drug intelligence reports, on which Sena-tor Moynihan would rely, have not been regularly produced or been very precise when they are. Beyond intelligence, what is needed is a fair set of standards to guide a vigorous are largely in the hands of Communist insur-gents. Pakistan's government denounces the opium trade and claims to be unable to curb it. Lebanon, which until recently was the source of most hashish coming to America, has had no effective government for years.

Unless concern about the drug traffic is built into the relationship with some coontries, no results can be expected. Some na-tions need aid, training and technical advice in policing their territories. Some need still larger amounts of aid to buy out farmers who shift to less profitable crops. Other foreign policy considerations may well have to override the drug issue in some cases, but the useful message of Mr. Moynihan's proposal is that an attack on the problem abroad has been altogether neglected for too long.

Other Editorial Opinion

Dissenters in Kenya

That a coup could have even been envisaged was in a large part due to the deterio-rating economic and political conditions of the past few years. Kenya has for the first time experienced something of the problems perennially felt by other African countries: a declining agricultural sector, a booming birthrate, widespread political corruption and, through want of commercial success, a shortage of foreign exchange which even the influx of tourists has not wholly removed. The number of political detainees has risen rapidly. Two weeks ago the editor of Nairodismissed by government edict. This is a story rather familiar in post-colonial Africa. What gives ground for bope is that President

- The Daily Telegraph (London). This naturally conservative head of state with a strong penchant for law and order is highly unlikely to see the attempt to unseat him as a warning to ease off the repressive measures be has been taking against academics, journalists, dissenting politicians and Kenyan Asians this year.

— The Guardian (London).

AUG. 3: FROM OUR PAGES 75 AND 50 YEARS AGO

1907: Moors and the Powers

PARIS - Today's editorial reads: "After the massacre of eight Europeans in Casablanca, the moment has arrived when France, or France and Spain combined, must undertake in Morocco the work that England has ac-complished in Egypt. The helplessness of the Moorish government, its incapacity not only to keep order but even to secure recognition of its own authority, needs no further demonstration. Only one of two courses of action is open to the Powers. Either foreigners should be informed that their governments are unwilling to protect them; or France, or France and Spain, must mete out drastic punishment to the Moors for the culminating outrage and render a repetition impossible."

1932: Second Veteran Dies

WASHINGTON -- Bonus army casualties from the clash with police and federal troops last week within the shadow of the White House totaled two as Eric Carlson died in the hospital from gunshot wounds, while the body of William Huschka, first former serviceman to be shot down, was laid to rest in Arlington National Cemetery with full military honors. The full observance of the former serviceman's death was regarded as bringing to a close the clash that has left offi-cial Washington in an ugly temper. The civil finis was written on the incident that has cost policeman, when a coroner's jury exonerated the police of all blame in the deaths.

KATHARINE GRAHAM and ARTHUR OCES SULZBERGER, Co-Chairme LEE W. HUEBNER, Publisher Executive Editor Editor Deputy Editor Deputy Editor Associate Editor ROLAND PINSON Associate Publi PHILIP M. FOISIE RENE BONDY FRANÇOIS DESMAISONS RICHARD H. MORGAN WALTER WELLS ROBERT K. McCABE SAMUEL ABT CARL GEWIRTZ onal Herald Tribune, 181 Avenue Charles de Gaulle, 92200 Neuilly-sur-Seine, France Telephone 747-1265. Telex 612718 (Herald). Cables Herald Paris, Directeur de la publication: Walter N. Thaver. General Manager, Asia: Alam Lecour. 24-34 Hemsessy Rd. Hong Kong. Tel. 5-28 56 18. Telex 61170. S.A. au capital de 1.200.000 F. R.C.S. Nanterre B 732021126. Commission Paringtre No. 34231. U.S. subscription: $256 yearly. Second-class postage paid at Long Island City, N.Y. 11101. © 1982, International Herald Tribune. All rights reserved. 1000

JOHN HAY WHITNEY (1904-1982), Chairman

Begin, Preacher to the Faithful

JERUSALEM — When Israeli Prime Minister Menachem Begin told a delegation of American contributors to the United Jewish Appeal recently that Israel's invasion of Lebanon would bring peace to the Middle East for generations to come, there was a spontaneous outburst of applanse. But when Be-gin delivered essentially the same message to visiting U.S. Sen. Paul Tsongas, the senator characterized the meeting as "disturbing,"

With his oratorical style, Begin projects a total assurance that his policies are right, just and above all moral. Those who disagree are put down as evil, misguided, anti-Semi-tic or perhaps all three.

In Israel Begin has never been more popular. Some Israelis have doubts about the war, but opinion polls show that a majority supports him. The polls indicate that if an election were held today, be would be returned to office with a substantially increased majority.

Since Israeli troops poured into Lebanon on June 6, Begin has been the leader of Israel's effort to convince the world that the war is justified. The Israeli government blames press and television coverage for criticism of the war abroad.

Members of the Knesset have made harsh criticism of the army and the Foreign Ministry for failing to tell Israel's story in a way that would convince world opinion. An official said Begin was trying to step into the breach by "telling people in his own words and his own style

By Norman Kempster.

68-year-old Polish-born leader is best known for his oratory, an often eloquent mixture of biblical quotations, historic references, innuendo, sarcasm and hyperbole.

His manners are countly, and in private conversation he can be charming. But in public debate he is a gut fighter who often resorts to personal attacks winde trying to score technical debating points.
Since the invasion of Lebanon, the hyperbolic strain has been predominant. Often Begin exaggerates a claim to the point of absurdity when a simple statement of fact would serve his purpose. He told the United Jewish Appeal delegation that his troops had captured enough weapons for five divisions.

Israel has captured since the start of the war a substantial store of PLO weapons, including more than 26,000 submachine guns and other small arms, 19,000 hand grenades and 148 mortars and artillery pieces, according to official Israeli Army statistics. Those numbers are impressive, but to say they could fully equip 60,000 men is preposterous. equip 60,000 men is preposterous.

Nevertheless, no one in the United Jewish Appeal delegation exhibited any doubts about the claim. Nor did they seem to question a later Begin assertion that the operation in Lebanon was "the most peaceful mission in the history of mankind." The polls show that Begin's rhe-toric strikes a receptive chord in Israel, where large segments of the public clearly enjoy hearing him stand up to the United States and threaten the PLO. To his supporters, Begin radiates strength. To his detractors, he is as irritating as a fingernall scraping down a blackboard. Whether he is a persuasive advocate of Israel's case seems to depend mostly on the attitude of the audience. Los Angeles Times

Arafat, Armed Diplomat Without an Alliance

By John K. Cooley

L ONDON — In the world's media, PLO Chairman Yasser Arafat is more of a cartoon than a flesh-and-blood human being. In the Soviet bloc and much of the Third World, he is an abstract hero. In Israel, America and much of Western Europe, be is an abstract villain.

Arafat has contributed to his own bad image. One of his least compas-sionate interviewers, Oriana Fallaci, found him "not a man born to be liked. He is a man born to irritate." I never found him especially irri-tating. I saw him first in May, 1970, in a Land-Rover emerging from dust clouds in southern Lebanon, during one of the early Israeli incursions.

As he drove up, one of his aides, Abu Zaim, was arguing with a Leba-nese Army colonel. Why, asked Abu Zaim, had Lebanese artillery not tried to stop the advancing Israelis?

Arafat's built-in instinct to favor diplomacy over belligerency won the day. He stepped between Abu Zaim and the colonel, both of whom were growing angry, "It's not like that," Arafat said, an eye on nearby reporters who understood Arabic.

The Lebanese Army has its own line to defend, and we have our positions." To balance this, he added:

"Of course, if we'd had better Lebe-nese artillery support, we could have given a much better account of ourselves and avoided many losses."

Few Arabs anywhere, let alone the shattered Lebanese Army, have offered anything like the real support the Arab states gave the Algeri-ans in their eight-year war against French colonialism. Arafat knows well that political work, not terrorism, won the day for the Algerians. He would like to follow the same road if be could. He was born of comfortable up per-middle-class parents in Jerusalem in 1929. He has always been at home with the wealthy, cultivated class of Palestinians; people like the Palestinian millionaire and Saudi Arabian resident, Hassib Seb-bagh; or the old patrician class, like the Husseinis and the Khalidis, or men like Sami Alami, of the Palestinian-owned Arab Bank.

Although he concentrates on survival diplomacy and does not get in-volved in most day-to-day details of the PLO's multimillion-dollar financial and commercial empire, or in its charities, social work or women's, student and professional organiza-tions, Arafat's background does help him to cope with these matters. His father died when Yasser and his brother, Fathi, who now runs the Palestinian Red Crescent, were still young. Their mother tried to keep nim a peaceable schoolboy, but by 15 he was smuggling guns to the bands of Arab peasants being formed to fight the Jewish Haganah and the Irgun and Stern Gang.

During Israel's 1947-1949 war for independence (which is called by Palestinian Arabs simply "The Ca-tastrophe"), Arafat served in the guerrilla army of Abdel Kader Husseim. When the war was lost, Arafat and his remaining family tasted the first bitterness of refugee existence in Egyptian-occupied Gaza.

Like most Palestinian families, proud of having the highest percent-age of university graduates in the Arab world, the Arafats saw to it that Yasser went to school. In Egypt he avoided wine, marriage and other possible distractions, and he leads an apparently Spartan life to this day. In 1964 the Arab League finally created the PLO, at first led by Ahmed Shukiry, who delighted Israeli pro-pagandists with his bluster about "throwing the Jews into the sea." The defeat of the Arabs by Israel in 1967 hastened Shukiry's departure, after Arafat and his comrades had launched el-Fatah's first underground operations against Israel.

Today Arafat must be deeply bitter about his fair-weather friends in the Arab world and beyond who are scarcely lifting a finger for the Pales-tinians in their hour of need.

He believes that whatever happens to him and thousands of other Palestinians in Lebanon, the 4 milbon living under Israeli occupation or dispersed around the world will eventually have their homeland, living in peace and mutual recognition with their Israeli neighbors.

The writer, a staff correspondent for ABC News in London, has spent 20. ABC. News in London, has spent 20; years covering the Middle East and is the author of "Green March, Black. September: The Story of the Palestinian Arabs." He contributed this comment to the Los Angeles Times.

Points for a Revamped, Willful U.S. Middle East Policy

WASHINGTON — Secretary of State
George P. Shultz has made a good start toward a U.S. policy for peace in the Middle East by making clear his awareness that selfdetermination and security are the rights of both Palestinians and Israelis.

To this sound beginning should be added other essential and mutually supporting ingred-ients to peacemaking. These will not by them-selves bring peace, but without them there can be no real progress toward peace.

• Bypass Camp David. Another route to peace needs to be found if American global security and regional interests are to be protected. Israel will continue to use loopholes in the language of the Camp David agreement to prevent genuine negotiating progress.

In deed, although not in word, Israel has abrogated the agreement. It has said it will not nquish the West Bank, and has unilaterally redefined the word autonomy to this end. It is trying to create a quisling government over a subject people in the West Bank and Gaza. In Lebanon it is trying to destroy the Palestinian national movement and, with it, self-determination for the West Bank and Gaza. Talk to the Palestine Liberation Organization. This would end the shadow boxing and tell us if its chairman, Yasser Arafat, really will make a reciprocal agreement with Israel recog-nizing Israeli and Palestinian rights to selfination and security. · Define "support for Israel." The United States is and must remain committed to supporting Israel. Yet failure to define this commitment has confused U.S. policy, divided Americans and strained relations with Israel, the Arabs and others. "Support" should mean protecting Israel's existence and helping its well-being in ways consistent with the American definition of U.S. interests. When Israel's policies endanger American security and other vital interests, as they do now, the United States must be free to put its own security first. In return for its fundamental support, the United States can reasonably expect By Granville Austin

 Level with Congress and the public. The secrecy necessary for delicate negotiations' aside, Americans must see the overall shape of the administration's Middle East policy — so. they can judge its fairness to all parties - if they are to support it. Extremism and ignorance of administration policies and the definition of "support" have reduced the public debate to the sterile level of whether American policy is pro-Israel or anti-Israel.

Neither American nor Israeli interests can be protected in this fashion. The debris of 15 years of executive branch coyness, secrecy and crisis diplomacy lies all around us.

· Use leverage wisely. It is certain that there will not be peace between Israel and the Arabs achieve a just and comprehensive peace.

unless the United States brings them to peace through a combination of inducements and pressures. Both must be credible to each government involved, and acquiescence to this leverage must promise to serve each govern-ment's interests better than the current situa-tion. This means that the administration will have to tell the Arabs and Israel (and Americans) where it intends to go. Sovereign nations cannot be driven into the unknown; sometimes they can be nudged and led to a brighter future. Each use of leverage dilutes its future strength. America should not exhaust its leverage on peripheral issues. It must concentrate on establishing and sustaining negotiations to Do our own thing. Recent adm have tended more to react to Middle Past events and pressures than to pursue a firm and-steady course on the Arab-Israeli dispute. For the United States to be unsure of its own position compounds the endenic uncertainties that it already faces in the region.

Shultz and the president should determine policy for peace between the Arabs and Israel. let the world know what it is, then work toward the goal vigorously. Until they do, the United States will continue to be the victim of other nations' policies and its own haphazardness.

The writer is a former embassy attaché in Beirut and State Department director of research and analysis for the Near East. He contributed this comment to The New York Times

'The United States Will Suspend ...

NEW YORK — The United States has arrived at a moment when a studied reformulation of foreign policy would be most help-ful. If that word strikes the White House as too severe, then let us use the gentler word: a studied reiteration of foreign policy. Because it is unquestionably true that much that has happened has not appeared coherent.

What is needed in the next few weeks in particular, while George Shultz and U.S. foreign policy emerge, is the assertion of a foreign poli-cy that is distinctly American. This does not mean a policy that relies any less on allies, but one which states exactly what it is that the United States seeks on behalf of itself.

Here are a few suggested planks:

With respect to the Middle East: Until the government of Mr. Begin reaffirms its willingness to cede the territories in the West Bank and in Gaza to demilitarized Palestinian rule, the United States will suspend fature commitments to Israel's arsenal. The United States By William F. Buckley Jr.

should stand by Israel in any threat to its indopendence, but a line must now be sought between guaranteeing its independence and arming it so profusely as to underwrite expansionism and perpetuate Palestinian hopelessness.

• In the United Nations; We will express a new relationship with a General Assembly which, as Mrs. Kirkpatrick has so eloquently shown, following similar demonstrations by Senator Moynihan and others, has evolved into an instrument of torment to the United States and other pacific powers. (United Nations fractiousness was probably responsible for the sundering war over the Falklands.)

Accordingly, the United States ambassador to the United Nations is instructed hereafter not to participate in any vote of the General Assembly. To participate in the debates, yes; but not in the vote. The distinction effectively removes whatever authority the General Assembly has presumed in decreeing, for instance, that Israel is a racist state or that Puezto Rico is a colony of the United States. · With respect to buman rights: Policy will be reconstructed, based on the distinction years ago articulated by Sen. William Fulbright, namely, that the U.S. government (as distinguished from the American people) has no proper quarrel with the domestic policies of any sovereign country so long as that country does not seek to export those policies.

The American people are correct in any so-cial boycott they wish to organize against, for-example, the policies of Baby Doc in Haiti, and correct in denouncing his policies. The government of the United States merely recognizes de facto authority. But should Duvalier attempt to finance or export subversion elsewhere as Caba has done, his government becomes the explicit enemy of the United States:

Universal Press Syndicate.

When Wilde Came to Leadville

EADVILLE, Colo. — Folks here are familiar with booms and busts. This town of 5,000 was once a roughneck boom town. But in 1982, with the molybdenum mine closed by recession, residents of this nicely placed place, facing the front range of the Rockies at 10,200 feet, can enjoy the view and remember better days.

One of the best was a century ago, when Leadville was larger than Denver and the famous aesthete came to lecture the locals about pretty things.

Before the spring of 1860, few white men had been in this part of the Arkansas River valley. But by July, gold finds had drawn 10,000. By 1864 about 300 remained.

In the 1890s lead and silver produced a Leadville of between 30,000 and 60,000. No one knows for sure, because in those days people followed wandering stars and did not loiter. But everyone knows that a redletter day was April 14, 1882, the day a train decanted Oscar Wilde. He later said Leadville's miners, in their red shirts, corduroy trousers and high boots, were "the only well-dressed men I have seen in America." What those hearty fellows made of his getup can be imagined. Told that Leadville rowdies would shoot either him or his manager, he replied that he could not be intimidated by anything done to his manager. "I read them passages from the au-tobiography of Benvenuto Cellini and they seemed much delighted," Wilde

By George F. Will

recounted. "I was reproved by my bearers for not having brought him with me. I explained that he had been dead for some little time, which elicit-ed the inquiry. Who shot him?" In another letter: "I spoke to them of early Florentines, and they slept."

What is touching is the ache for refinement and self-improvement that caused communities like Leadville to import the likes of Wilde to proclaim that "life without industry is sin, and industry without art is barbarism. After the lecture, a torchlight pa-rade took Wilde and his host, Horace Tabor, to Tabor's Matchless Mine, into which they descended in a bucket for what Wilde called a banquet: When I qualled a cocktail without flinching, they unanimously pro-nounced me in their grand simple way 'a bully boy with no glass eye." Tabor was a classic Western figure, a boom-town store owner who made a fortune in silver and land, and became a senator. In the eventful year of 1882, he married a dashing divor-

Matchless Mine in 1935. Before staying a night with Jeffer-son Davis at his plantation. Wilde passed through St. Joseph, Mo., where people were paying "the in-come of an English bishop" for relies

cee. A decade later he was bankruot.

The dashing divorcee was found fro-zen to death in a shack beside the

from the house of a recently deceased celebrity, Jesse James. Before that, Wilde had visited a Nebraska prison: "Poor odd types of bumanity in hideous striped dresses making bricks in the sun, and all mean-looking, which consoled me, for I should hate to see a criminal with a noble face. Little whitewashed cells, so tragically tidy, but with books in them. In one l found a translation of Dante . Strange and beautiful it seemed to me that the sorrow of a single Florentine in exile should, hundreds of years afterwards, lighten the sorrow of some ommon prisoner in a modern goal."

When he arrived in America in 1882. Wilde was asked by customs oflists, wince was asked by customs of-ficials if he had anything to declare. He replied, "Only my genius!" Fif-teen years later in Reading jail, he wrote (in "De Profundis") that he had been "the spendthrift of my genius... I forgot that every little action of the common day makes or unmakes character."

He died in his 47th year, as a new century was born, in 1900, in the Hôtel d'Alsace in Paris. There, a wit to the end, he said he was dying beyond his means. A monument by Sir Jacob Epstein marks his Paris grave. If, at the end, after a life of boom and bust, he thought of beauty and better days, he may have recalled the rising sun striking the second highest peak in the continental United States -Mount Elbert, at Leadville.

The Washington Post.

ed that "cigarettes are causing one-

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

40 Years Later Forty years ago, in order to save my life I had to disavow my name and

SUSAN COHEN. Cluster Bombs Regarding "Congress Told That Israel 'May Have' Broken Arms Pact" (IHT, July 17): I understand that cluster bombs were developed and made for self-defense of Americans in Vietnam and not for Israelic actions.

Vietnam and not for Israelis against Palestinians in Lebanon. F.L. MELILER

Utrecht, Netherlands. A Pipeline Twist

Opposition to the gas pipeline has an ironically self-defeating aspect, when one considers the steady supply of most NATO garrisons in West Germany with natural gas for heating and cooking in military barracks and living quarters for the servicemen and their families. In Bayana about 17

(Letters, July 20): When it is estimatquarter of cancer deaths today," this means that cigarettes are regarded as the main cause in these cases. Many other factors are effective as heritage. This has left a lasting scar. well, just as smoking is assumed to make its contribution in all smokers, Do f have to do it again, this time in shame instead of fear? including those whose cancer is derived from other causes.

rived from other causes.

Among cancer patients who designate themselves as "nonsmokers," many are past smokers. It has been found that among patients with gastric cancer, the majority had stopped or reduced fheir smoking before their admission to hospital, and often several years before admission.

Many of these "nonsmokers" probably have an acquired or inherited in-ability to detoxify poisonous sub-stances in the tobacco sincke and perhaps elsewhere, an inability that may make them more susceptible to carcinogenic substances generally. This possibility should be taken into consideration when evaluating the results of statistical investigations.

A.ZACHO. Klampenborg Denmark. So What's New?

their families. In Bayaria about 17

Percent of this gas originates in the Soviet Union. The flow has been uninterrupted since 1972.

ALEXANDER von DOLGOW:

Wurzburg, West Germany.

Tobacco's Role

In response to "Cancer Stanistics" (Letters, July 20): When it is estimated.

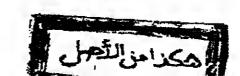

Willia: S TVEW.

Regarding "Food and Cancer"

Food and Cancer stat a medical world now agrees that a medical world now and cabbage family vegetables" daily Congratulations to the medical faculties. But my mother brought me up on whole meal brought me vegetables. "Old wives" knew.

(Letters, July 20): When it is estimated.

C.P. MATHEWS.

ARTS/LEISURE

The Film According to Garp

premonitions that have ever pla-

these is little in "Garp" to bear out ed him. Though its characters gned him. Though its characters boldly declare that life is an adven-ture and should be lived as one,

By Janer Maslin

New York Times Service

NEW YORK — John Living's

"The World According to Garp" wasn't a book that cried out to become a movie. But it has hecome one, and the movie is a very, fair rendering of Irving's novel. with similar strengths and

If the novel was picaresque and precious, so is the film — although the absence of the book's self-congratulatory streak helps the movie achieve a much lighter, more easy-going style. If the novel was halfngly plotted and full of foreshipdowing the film has similar from-ble. And if it was finally the book's whimsical side that endeared it to so many readers, the movie is missing none of that charm, If anything it's got a little more.

The World According to

Garp," is a gentle, intelligent film and an interesting one. But it isn't a work to which anyone is apt to have an uncomplicated response. For one thing, it may be lost our anyone unfamiliar with living's novel. The story is simply too long and too confounding to be told in er, they have done their best to make the novel's concerns under-standable. Though their "Garp" isn't wholly successful, their so-complishment in adapting it to the screen as adroitly as they have is impressive. Like the best film adaptations, "Garp" is essentially faithful to the novel on which it is based, even when it isn't following

o this day on one of the second of the secon

s of other tipe 4 mil

coupain world of cland is ecogning

onden h S spen S Sast and s Tch. Blat e Palens

ministraie, Middle le e i fine

disput h its outpe reniminale work we , the less

OF BEE

ucreo Ri

incine :
in False it (as fer plei las comme

in Han. The second

their optimism. The last half-hour of the film is almost unrelievedly But the early portions, those depicting Garp as a young man, are filled with hope. Garp's artistic side, described so overbearingly in the novel, is presented sweetly and George Roy Hill has directed "Garp" very capably, and Steve Tesich's screenplay is generally sensitive and economical Togethplayfully: There's an animated seg-ment of crayon drawings as the child Garp tries to imagine what became of his father and a later fantasy sequence showing how Garp the writer might make up a short story. Hill abandons this tack after a while, but he might well have sustained it throughout the film, since it helps make Garp's much-praised talent seem

One of the film's strengths is its graceful way of bringing some of Irving's most far-fetched inven-

Transsexual ex-feotball star Roberta Muldoon (John Lithgow, left, holding child) meets some of the Garps, including T.S. (Robin Williams, right) and his mother Jenny Fields (Glenn Close).

Beginning with an inspired title tions to life, among them Garp's sequence of a baby Garp appear-fiercely feminist mother and the ing to bounce in the sky, to the filen Jamesians, who are more or time of the Beatles' "When I'm less her disciples. The Ellen Jamesians, who are more or time of the Beatles' "When I'm less her disciples. The Ellen Jame-Sixty-Four," the movie traces the sians are feminist extremists who entire life of its idiosyncratic hero. have cut out their tongues to pro-He is seen as a boy (played by James McCall) living at the prep school where his mother (Glenn test the rape of a little girl, even though the girl (grown up to be Amanda Plummer, who is quite Close) is a nurse; as a teen-ager (played from this point on by Rostriking in her brief cameo appearance) wishes they would stop. The bin Williams) courting the prim girl (Mary Beth Hurt) he will evennovel hedges about inventions like the Ellen Jamesians, as well it tually marry; as an aspiring writer; might; Irving appears to be ridicul-ing and embracing feminism sias a successful one; and as a devot-ed lather who likes nothing better multaneously. The movie wisely than to peer at his children when minimizes their importance and they are sleeping. Finally, he is seen as a man who must endure makes them much easier to take. The Ellen Jamesians simply hover around the sidelines of Garp's mother's household, part of the film's tacitly absurd scenery. the coming to pass of all the dark

Pacing Problems

"Garp" is well-staged scene by scene, but the overall movie has pacing problems. Its story consists of they events and wildly monumental ones, with nothing interme-diate to connect them. And the story merely progresses, rather than builds. One realizes sadly, about halfway through, that noth-ing much is going to develop natu-rally, and that anything strongly dramatic that happens to the characters will have to be grafted on.

The movie is accordingly choppy, and full of snippets that don't always amount to much. At one point, when Garp wants to go watch his children sleep, the audi-ence may wonder what the children will look like when be sees them. They've been growing abruptly in each of the few preceding scenes, and nothing about the film's imcertain rhythm indicates how much time is supposed to

Williams is at his most affecting with the children; he makes a fond, playful father, a man perfectly at home in a suit of armor made of welcome mats and garbage can lids. Williams's role is a demanding one, calling on him to age from a teen-ager to a family man, a process he has trouble with. His performance is engaging but errade. more effective in the clownier, busier scenes than in those that ask him to recite lines or stand still. He is much less compelling at rest than he is when free to represent Garp through action. When the role doesn't call for movement of some kind, he falters.

The rest of the film is expertly cast. Close, John Lithgow and Hurt are particularly excellent, as is Swoosie Kurtz in a brief role as a tough prostitute radicalized by Garp's mother. Close performs miracles with the toughest of the story's many difficult roles: Garp's mother, an entertaining but largely unbelievable caricature in the novel, becomes a full-blooded woman without losing one bit of her crazy

Kathleen Battle as Despina in "Così fan tutte."

A Memorable 'Così' at Salzburg

By David Stevens International Herald Tribune

SALZBURG — This year's new production of "Cosi fan tutte," the ninth in the 50-year history of this opera at the Salzburg Festival, could turn out to be one of the most memorable. Handsomely sung and played, dramatically balanced, and as ambiguous as the Mozart-da Ponte collaboration itself, it was an almost constant pleasure at the premiere.

Balance is omnipresent - between theater and reity, between the characters as types and as individuals, between cynicism at the wager on feminine fideli-ty and conviction in the deep emotional forces it sets loose. In Michael Hampe's staging, all these are present, yet none is allowed to get the upper hand.

As the audience enters the Kleines Festspielhaus the curtain is open on Mauro Pagano's set, then closed for the overture. At the end of the first scene the tokens of the bet - a bag of coins and a bottle of wine - are put on the prompter's box and left there. At the end, when the emotional turbulence of partnerswapping is almost out of hand, the characters break the spell and address the audience.

Balance is the word too for the musical direction of Riccardo Muti, inheritor of the postwar near-monopoly on this work at Salzburg by the late Karl Böhm. While Böhm seemed to arrive at convincing tempos spontaneously, Muti did so through evident deliberation and control, giving the singers generous room for expression, yet keeping a tight rein on the ensembles and building the climaxes with finely boned precision. Occasionally in the first act Muti chose uncomfortably slow tempos in the arias, and he took such a long pause before the da capo of "Un' aura amorosa" that the audience broke in with untimely applause. But, on the whole, all unfolded with deceptive ease, and the Vienna Philharmonic was on its best behavior, brilliant in the finales and meltingly seductive in the seranade-like passages.

Gooe are the days when Vienna could supply Salzburg with a ready-made Mozart ensemble. This year's cast was an international sextet of singers making festival debuts in their roles. They formed a smooth ensemble, but with some imbalances that should be ironed out with time

Margaret Marshall, a Scottish soprano who has sung Mozart under Muo in Florence, sailed through Fiordiligi's music with astonishing case, but she used ber lyric coloratura with little dramatic impact, so was overshadowed theatrically and vocally by the expressive Dorabella of Agnes Baltsa, the Greek mezzo soprano of the Vienna State Opera.

Similarly, in the roles of the womens' lovers, James Morris' vigorous, vocally powerful baritone as Guglielmo outweighed the attractive but somewhat tentative vocalism of the tenor Francisco Araiza as Ferrando. The American soprano Kathleen Battle made a winning Salzburg debut as Despina, more earthy than pert, while José van Dam's superb bass-baritone and stage experience made his Don Alfonso a dominant figure, no behind-the-scenes manipulator but a weighty presence.

Perhaps Hampe's direction can fine-tune some of these imbalances, but for the most part his staging was refreshingly straightforward and uncomplicated, and while be permitted himself an occasional joke—such as Guglielmo momentarily forgetting himself and addressing the wrong woman — there was no overloading of gags.

Pagano's sets were equally uncomplicated, richly colored and atmospheric. The shimmering water and background vistas made this a plausible Bay of Naples, and the splendid lighting — sometimes reminiscent of the light-and-shadow play of the celebrated Strehler-Damiani "Seraglio" production here suggested the passage of a single Mediterranean day from the wager in the cold light of morning to the denouement against a starry sky. His costumes were handsome, too, with the return of the men as fake Albanians introducing an exotic wine-red note into pastel surroundings.

This "Cosi" is already a delight. More important, it should wear well on both eye and ear, and while, at Salzburg prices, no one is interested in work-in-progress, all the material is at hand for it to age well.

'Dragonflies' a Hit At Trieste Festival

By William Weaver International Herald Tribune

TRIESTE, Italy - Trieste has a I long and distinguished musi-cal tradition, which, like so many other aspects of this polyglot city, is a mixture of Italian and Austrian strains. Verdi composed for the local opera house; Mahler condueted the local orchestra. This background may explain the im-mense success of Trieste's annual operetta festival, where the Italian language and a certain Austrian taste mingle.

Begun in 1950, the festival gave outdoor performances at the Castello di San Giusto for its first decade. Then, in the 1970s, it moved indoors to the spacious Politeama Rossetti. But that great hall has been declared unsafe, so the festival is now given in the opera house, the Teatro Verdi.

The current production is of special interest, since it represents an unusual collaboration between the Austrian (Hungarian-born) operetta king, Franz Lehár, and his Italian counterpart of 60 or 70 years ago, the Neapolitan Carlo Lombardo. Though it is always listed as a Lehár work, "La Danza delle Libellue" (The Dance of the Dragonflies) contains a lot of mu-sic by Lombardo, who fashioned

Cultural Festival Planned for '84 Summer Olympics

United Press Inter LOS ANGELES - In keeping with a tradition from ancient Greece, when there were Olympics compeditions for dramatists as well as discus throwers, the organizers of the 1984 Summer Olympics are arranging artistic events to accompany the athletics.

There will be exhibitions of dance, painting, theater, music and photography, with dance given pride of place as the art form most closely associated with athletics. Eleven dance companies - including the Dance Theater of Harlem, the Winnipeg Ballet and the Merce Cunningham and Twyla Tharp companies — have been invited to an eight-week dance festival.

If all goes well, a new opera by the avant-garde composer Robert Wilson will have its world premiere. Filmex. Hollywood's annual movie festival usually beld in the spring, will take place during the games instead.

The organizing committee has commissioned 15 artists, including Robert Rauschenberg and Roy Lichtenstein, to create posters for the games that are expected to he available in January.

the work, in 1920, from an earlier Lehár piece, "Der Sterngucker" (The Stargazer), which had been a total failure.

After buying the Italian rights, Lombardo — librettist and composer of several Italian operetta hits — wrote a completely new text, cut, spliced, changed, and added to the score. The result, presented at the Teatro Lirico in Mi-lan on May 3, 1922, was a triumph. It was then translated back into German and, as "The Three Graces," was a success in Vienna, Paris, London and New York.

The Trieste production explains this success: The music combines Lehår's Viennese elegance and lanterranean brashness. One of the big showstopping numbers is a duet with ballet for the comic leads, a Paris finale, whose words begin, "It's night, the apache invites you, O Gigolette." This is clearly the work of Lombardo. while the more tender love duet for soprano and tenor, "Perhaps my destiny," has all the qualities of Lehar's finest songs. Naturally, the story, about a French duke and a champagne beiress, mysteriously set in Scotland (largely to allow an claborate Highland-fling oumber in the last act) is ridiculous, but no

The comic Sandro Massimini, a great favorite with the Trieste au-dience, was the acknowledged star of the production. He has a firm hold on the public, and knows how to "play" the admiring bouse. The soprano Daniela Mazzucato (who can be heard at La Scala as Liù in Turandot") revealed an admirable comic flair, as well as a spec-tacular and agile pair of legs. The tenor Max René Cosotti (often appearing at Glyndebourne) was romantie and stylish, and Aurora Banfi, as the brassy, sexy Carlotta Pommery, was delightful,

Once or twice the comedy went on a bit too long, but the music conquered all, lovingly played by the opera bouse orchestra under the local conductor, Guerrino Gruber.

New Anthem Downplaying Victory Angers Traditionalists in Britain

LONDON - A new Church of England version of the British national anthem, "God Save the Queen," deleting several references to the queen triumphing over her enemies, has met with angry protest.

In a 10-year project, the church is aiming to update some of the archaic language found in its 300 hymns. Viscount Cranborne, 35, a Conservative member of Parliament, said, "The Church of England is now peopled by buffoons. Hide-bound old traditionalists like me will continue to sing the original version whatever these people may do."

The Rev. Michael Saward, editor of the revisions, said the changes were meant only as an alternative. The old version is still in the hymnal, he said. We think we have produced better verse. The words are in no way a diminution of respect for the queen,"

The mid-18th-century language of the original version says, for instance: "Scatter our enemies and make them fall. Confound their politics. Frustrate their knavish tricks." The new version says: "Give us your faithfulness. Keep us from selfishness. Raise

John Stokes, a Conservative member of Parliament, said, "These people are ashamed of being born Englishmen and are full of guilt and want to water everything down they can."

U.S. to Tighten Curbs

On Lead in Gasoline

Russia Tells Newsweek Correspondent to Leave

By Michael Dobbs

Washington Post Service
MOSCOW — The Soviet Union announced Monday the expulsion of the Moscow correspondent of Newsweek magazine — the first such action against an American journalist in five years.

The journalist, Andrew Nagor-ski, 35, who has represented Newsweek here for the past 14 months, was summoned to the Foreign Ministry Monday morning and accused of using "imper-missible journalistic methods." His accreditation was confiscated and he was told to leave the country as

Mr. Nagorski rejected the charges against him, which included posing as a Soviet journalist while visiting a provincial city, violating travel regulations for foreigners, and pretending to be a Polish toorist in order to gather information. The allegations date formation. The allegations date from October but he had received no previous warning.
The last expulsion of an American journalist was in 1977 when a correspondent for the Associated Press, George Krimsky, was accused of espienage and violating currency regulations. Earlier this year, the Soviet gov-ernment confiscated the accreditacasting Co. correspondent, Anne Garrels, after she was involved in a traffic accident in which a man was killed. She was not formally expelled.

Mr. Nagorski said he was told to report to the Foreign Ministry after returning to Moscow from a trip to the town of Krasny Sever near the Soviet border with Af-ghanistan. While in the region, be and a reporter for the Chicago Tribune, Jim Gallagher, were accused of attempting to visit a border town called Kurbawtyube, which is closed to foreigners.

The two journalists, bowever, said they had informed the For-eign Ministry in advance of their travel plans - as required by Soviet law - and had not received any Mr. Nagorski, whose family is of Polisb origin, said that the charge of posing as a Polish tourist appeared to stem from a visit to the western city of Rovno in Jime. Some local residents had mistaken his accent for that of a Pole - but be said he had not attempted to hide the fact that be was an Ameri-

Announcing Mr. Nagorski's ex-pulsion, Tass said be had posed as deputy editor in chief of a oewspa-per in the town of Vologda by using the Soviet journalist's visiting card. Mr. Nagorski said be suggested to police who had stopped him for photographing a street scene that they ask the editor to vouch for him.

"The allegation that I tried to pass myself off as a Russian journalist is ludicrous. It would be easy for anyone to tell from my accent that I am not a Russian," Mr. Na-

3 U.S. TV Stations Accused of Selling Kits as 'Cancer Tests'

The Associated Press nical violation. The newspaper LOS ANGELES — Three CBS-said the inquiry focuses on whether the tests were relabeled owned television stations are under scrutiny by a federal agency for selling stool-sample kits to 275,000 viewers as "cancer tests." A spokesman for the stations says the kits saved the lives of "dozens

The Los Angeles Times reported Sunday that KNXT-TV in Los An-geles, WBBM-TV in Chicago and WCBS-TV in New York are being investigated by the Food and Drug Administration for a possible tecbillegally as cancer tests. It is unlawful to sell medical items and characterize them as suitable for a purpose not authorized by the FDA. If a violation is found, the probable penalty would be a written admonioon, the Times reported. The three stations sold Hemoc-cult 11 test kits for a small fee as part of news reports on rectal and colon cancer, the newspaper said. Results from WBBM, which promoted the tests in 1978, showed that 54,000 viewers had asked for the kits, 14,000 bad returned them for processing and 617 had turned up with a posiove response. Of the 617, there were 27 who actually had cancer, the newspaper said.

Jeff Erdel, a CBS spokesman in New York, said the tests saved "dozens of people" and were dis-tributed in New York and Chicago with the belp of local cancer-fighting organizations. The stations made no profit on the tests, be

The test requires a person to dab small amounts of feces on a test slide and send it to a laboratory. The test determines if there is hidden blood in the stool, which could indicate the presence of cancer.

BRENCH COMPANY HANDBOOK 1982

published by International Business Development with the International Herald Tribune

Up-dated edition, 192 pages of detailed information in English on 74 of the most important French companies. Includes basic facts on other major firms, information on the French economy and major sectors of Profiles include detailed information on: management, major activities, sales breakdown, major known shareholders, subsidiaries and holdings, 1976-1980 financial information, important developments and 1981-1982 highlights and trends.

Indispensable for corporate, government and banking executives, institutional investors. Order today! $38 per copy, including postage in Europe. Five or more copies may be ordered at a 30% reduction.

Outside Europe, please add postal charges for each book ordered: Middle East, Africa $4; Asia, the Americas $7. AQUITAINE - EUROMARCHE -FOUGEROLLE - CENERALE BISCUIT - GRANDS TRAVAUX DE MARSEILLE - GROUPE DES ATLANTIQUE - AUXILIAIRE D'ENTREPRISES - AVIONS MARCEL OASSAULT - BREÇUET AVIATION -

BANQUE NATIONALE DE PARIS -BANQUE DE NEUFLEZE. SCHLUMBERGER, MALLET -BEGRIN-SAY - BONGRAIN -BOUYGUES - BSN-GERVAIS DANONE - CAMPENON BERNARD -CARREFOUR - CHARBONNAGES DE FRANCE - CHARGEURS REUNIS -CII HONEYWELL BULL - CIT ALCATEL - CLUB MEDITERRANEE -COLAS - COMPAGNIE DE FIVES-LILLE - COMPAGNIE FRANCASSE GENERALE D'ELECTRICETE : COMPAGNIE GENERALE DES EAUX - COMPAGNIE LA HENIN -COMPTOIRS MODERNES - CREDIT AGRICOLE - CREDIT COMMERCIAL DE FRANCE - CREUSOT LOIRE -DOLLFUS MIEG - DUMEZ -ELECTRICITE OF FRANCE - ELF

ASSURANCES NATIONALES . GROUPE VICTOIRE - IMETAL . LAFARGE COPPEE - LEGRAND -L'OREAL - LYONNAISE DES EAUX -MAISONS PHOENIX - MATRA -MERLIN GERIN - MICHELIN -MOET-BENNESSY - PECHINEY UGINE-KUHLMANN - PERNOD RICARD - PEUGEOT - POCLARY -POLIET - LA REDOUTE - RHONE-POULENC - ROUSSEL UCLAF . SAINT-COBAIN - SANOET -SCHNEIDER - SCREG - SEITA - SKIS ROSSIGNOL - SNECMA - SOCIETE GENERALE - SOCIETE GENERALE D'ENTREPRISES - SOMMER ALLIRERT - SPIE-BATICNOLLES -TELEMECANIQUE - THOMSON. BRANDT - THOMSONESF - TRT -UNION DES ASSURANCES DE PARIS . USINOR - VALEGI - VALLOURES:

नुस्थानी एक्सिस्सी श्रीस्थान महास्थान

Mail coupon with your check for $38 (plus postage where applicable) to the order of International Herald Tribune. Publications Division, 181 avenue Charles-de-Gaulle, 92521 Neuilly Cedex, France,

Please send me ______ copy(ies) of French Company Handbook.

Enclosed is payment of ______ including postal charges.

be more than 0.5 gram per gallon (gpg) of all gasoline (leaded and unleaded) they produce. For small refiners the limit ranges from 0.8 WASHINGTON - Following to 2.65 gpg, depending on the size of the operation.

intense protests, the Environmen-tal Protection Agency apparently has done an about-face on the issue of lead standards for gasoline and is preparing to toughen, rather than relat, the restrictions on leaded gasoline. EPA sources predict this would reduce the amount of lead in the air by 31 percent more than the current standards over the next

"EPA has determined that rescinding or relaxing the present lead standard would result in an increase in lead emissions to the atmosphere" and that "environmental lead exposure continues to be a national health concern,"

EPA explained in a notice to be

An earlier agency proposal to relax the standards, made public in February, brought a storm of denunciations from health-interest

Effect on Children

Ellen Silbergeld, a toxicologist with the Environmental Defense

Fund, said, "We're very pleased that they withdrew-the February:

Lead, long known to have adverse health effects, particularly on children, is added to gasoline to average amount of lead added to proposal."

raise the octane level.

groups and environmentalists.

printed in the Federal Register.

By Sandra Sugawara

Special Status

EPA's new proposal would regulate the lead in leaded gasoline only. Large refineries would be permitted to add 1.1 gpg, and small refineries would be allowed to add 2.5 gpg.

This would force most large companies to cut back on lead usage, but EPA noted that it might allow some companies that have never produced much unleaded gasoline to increase the amount of Small refiners have enjoyed a special status under the old regulations, but that status is scheduled to expire Oct. 1. The change would reduce the number of firms eligible for the special status from about 159 to 74, according to EPA officials. off a majority of the so-called blenders, who add large quantities of lead to inexpensive gasoline components. The blends are con-Uoder the current system, the

This system allows a refiner to increase the amount of lead it adds to its leaded gasoline each time it increases its volume of unleaded gasoline. Recent studies indicate that the overall amount of lead in gasoline has been rising, partly because of this system.

They expect the change to cut sidered a major source of airborne gasoline by large refiners must not lead.

International Restaurant Guide

FRANCE PARIS - RIGHT BANK

LE B'OEUF 96, r. la Boétie, 225,37.19. Closed Sun. The friendly bistro of the Champs-L'EUROPÉEN Facino Garo de Lyon. 343.99.70. Doily from 11 a.m. to 2 a.m. SALIERGRAUT SPECIALTIES AND TRADITIONAL CUISINE. LE NOALLES CLUB ST.-JAMES 6 r. 29-Juillet (Rivoli). 296.57.11. Terroos, funch, driner, light supper with Jode Dievel, from 7 p.m. to 1. cum. Closed Sun.

LES TROIS LIMOUSINS 8, r. de Berri, 562,35.97. Clos. Sun. Open late, Grilled Specialities. Summer manu F. 130. All comforts. Air-cond. TROIS MOUTONS 63, ov. F. Roosevelt. 225.26.95 deily, open other show. Summer TROIS MOUTONS manu F. 130 oil incl. Air-conditioning.

PARIS - LEFT BANK

ASSIETTE AU BEURRE 11 Rue St. Beneit/Pl. St. Germein des Frie. 260.67.41.
Manus et fr. 35.80 & Fr. 48.50 + serv. Deily till midnight. LE FLAMAND ROSE 19, r. du Regard (6º) 548,87.67. Open all summer. Lunch, die supper until midnight. Clas. Sal. naon & Sun. LA PETTE CHAISE 36 Rue de Grenelle, 222-13-35. Menu: Fr. 62, refined quisine historic setting. Open stoby until 11 p.m. Open in August.

ATHENS/PSYCHICO

DIDSCURI 16, D. Vassillou, Neo Psychico (4 km, north of Hilton), Greek food, charcool grills, fish. Toverna. Daily 8:15 p.m.-2 a.m. Cosed Sun. Tel.: 6713997.

GREECE

SWITZERLAND PULLY - LAUSANNE

AU VIEUX CAVEAU Begant dining in charming old Swiss atmosphere; bor à vin-dancing. 11, Rue de la Gare, Pully. 021/28 27 49.

Ta achieve the objectives of the 10-year plan adopted by the Intergovernmental Conference of February 1981 at Brussels, and to respect the wishes of the present Director General to concentrate on programme development work, the Executive Committee of the International Baccalaureate is seeking a:

INTERNATIONAL

EXECUTIVE OPPORTUNITIES

DIRECTOR GENERAL OF THE INTERNATIONAL BACCALAUREATE OFFICE

Condidates for this post should have the following qualifications:
— fluency in English and French; a knowledge of Spanish is an advantage;

- an acute understanding of human relations, particularly in the international sphera;

- n natural authority and demonstrated competence in administrative management;

considerable pedagogical experience;
 be aged between 35 and 50 years old.

coloureate Office in Geneva (Switzerland). plications should be sent before the 15th October 1982, to Monsieur Emile Blanc, Secrétaire du Conseil de Fondation de l'Office du Baccalauréat international, Palais

The post is located in the headquarters of the International Bac-

Wilson, 1211 Geneva 14. More detailed information concerning the International Bac-caloureate, the post description and conditions of employment can be obtained from the same address.

INTERNATIONAL HERALD TRIBUNE, TUESDAY, AUGUST 3, 1982 Market Summary, Aug 2 FIG. Revent
27th Revien
12th Revien
12th Rezelam
12th Rezelam
12th Rezelam
12th Revien
12th Revien
12th Revien
12th Revien
12th Revien
12th Recent
11th Recent
11t 1.84 .60 1.80 2.80 1.80 1.40 1.40 1.40 1.76b 1.76b 1.76b 1.76b 1.76b 1.76b 1.76b 18% + ½2 25% + % 16% 6% % 15% + ½ 12% + ½ 11% + ½ 11% + ½ 16% - ½ 16% - ½ 16% - ½ 16% - ½ 2.00 2 1.126 2 2.15 1.70 1.90 .40 .40 .84 .84 .84 .86 .87 1.76 1.76 1.75 1.15 ph.234 2.88 15/4 20/5/4 15/4 15/4 16/4 16/4 16/4 16/4 16/4 16/4 1772 Hou and 1774 61.89 70.22 52.30 36.48 61,25 Market Diaries Most Actives 53.44 1.183 42.94 345 4.36 372 1,560 14 46 Standard & Poors Index $6164 1,216,600 1,104,135 657,900 584,300 576,100 576,100 577,708 472,500 472,500 402,900 402,900 400,300 Cless 108,98 122,02 51,30 12,16 17,24 AMEX Most Actives ContiliCe Heubleh Excon 18M WernrCom Emerson El Cittoro Comdreini Tondy FordMot Schiumbra Geninst & AmerT&T Goodyeor Am Airlin Clest
3 15-14
28/9
18/9
4 11-16
11
13/6
18/9
22/9
149
179 304e3 134405 195,600 95,600 91,600 51,400 51,600 51,600 44,700 44,100 237 THIS WAS LINE WAS A STATE OF THE STATE O ++13-44 164 1974 NBD 1174 NRD 1187 NRD 118 Dow Jones Bond Averages Monday's NYSE Closing Prices
Tables include the nationwide prices up to the closing on Wall Street. 20 pri 12 pri 215 pri 224 pri 3.04 2.40 .14 nri 2.54 pri 2.35 71's SCAM
1916 S 5.700 Ad 00 2.700 Consideration of the control of the 2.10a 2.88 pf 7.75 81.69 .60 1.44 pf 2.40 2.40 2.40 2.46 4.46 Depos 12% inekGe
16/b, JWT
19/4 JmesF
19/4 JmesF
19/4 JmesF
19/4 Jerner
7/4 Jorner
7/4 Jorner
7/4 Jorner
17/4 Jorner
17/4 Jerner
18/4 Jerc
18/4 Jorner
18/4 Jo 2月77日 | 10月 1.32 .16 1.20 5.50 2.10 1.60 2.69 .60 ANNA - II 1.50 40 1 .92 1.40 JAL KDI

19 KDT

30 KLM

194 K DM

194 K DM

195 K F MM

195 K MM

196 K MM

197 K MM

198 K MM 104 134 2214 134 134 164 28 174 154 374 104 1794 AFRICA
1794 A The Learner of the Control of the Co 244 ph 1914 ph 14% Gelandi 14% Gelandi 14% Genandi 14% Genandi 16% G | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | 1.00 | ide point a significant at the point at the The Control of the Co 20th Penacon
20th 也可以对外的人,所以对外的人,以外的人,对外的人,对外的人,不是一个人,不是一个人,这个人,不是一个人,这个人,不是一个人,这个人,这个人,这个人,这个人,这个 一个人,我们就是这个人,我们就是一个人,我们就是一个人,我们就是一个人,我们就是一个人,我们就是一个人,我们就是一个人,我们就是一个人,我们就是一个人,我们就是 The board of the state of the s ### 1950 | 144 1950 | 144 1950 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 1550 | 15 404 HAW

404 HAW

405 HARTW

406 HARTW

407 HARTW

407 HARTW

1107 HORITS

1108 HOR COMPANY REPORTS And Heat 1992
Revenue A.M. 1992
Revenue A.M. 1992
Revenue 122.9
Per Short 122.9
Per Short 1992
Revenue 123.6
Profits 276
Per Short 236
Per Sho .90 .40 .91

BUSINESS BRIEFS

Mellon, Girard Banks to Merge

PITTSBURGH — Mellon National Corp. and Girard Co. have signed a definitive agreement to merge the two Pennsylvania-based banking companies, it was amounced Monday.

Girard, the holding company for Philadelphia-based Girard Bank and Girard Bank Delaware, will merge into Mellon National, the parent cosporation of Mellon Bank

Under the agreement Change in the Mellon Bank

Under the agreement, Girard shareholders would receive for each Girard share 0.95 share of Mellon common and 0.38 share of a new class of Mellon $25 preferred. Girard had about 5.7 million common shares omstanding and Mellon National had shout 19.67 million common shares outstanding as of June 30.

Mellon Bank, which is ranked as the 15th largest U.S. commercial bank, had assets of $18.4 billion at the end of 1981 and domestic deposits of $8.8 billion. Girard had assets of $4.8 billion at the end of 1981 and domestic deposits of $2.6 billion.

Official Firm in Telefunken Case

BONN — The president of West Germany's cartel office, Wolfgang Karrte, says there is no question of bending merger rules to allow Grundig to buy a majority stake in Telefunken.

He said Sunday in a radio interview, "The law says absolutely clearly that we must say in it market domination will be brought about or heightened by such a merger." He said that AEG, which currently owns Telefunken, has ties with Japanese companies and that Grundig is linked to Philips of the Netherlands. Telerunices, has ties with Japanese companies and that Grunding is mixed to Philips of the Netherlands.

He said that the planned deal will insure the survival of Telefunken but that making the decision on it will be like "walking a tightrope."

New Deposits at U.S. S&Ls Decline

WASHINGTON — New deposits in U.S. savings and loan institutions fell $3.2 billion in June after a decline of $302 million in May, the Federal Home Loan Bank Board said Monday.

Although thrifts received $41.2 billion in new deposits during the month, withdrawals totaled $44.4 billion. It was the 16th time in 13 months that withdrawals have exceeded new deposits. S&Ls wrote $4.8 billion in mortgage loans in June, a $1.1 billion increase from May but 18 percent lower than in June, 1981, the board

Grace Sets Biotechnology Spending

NEW YORK — W.R. Grace & Co. said Monday it expects to spend about $50 million over the next five years on biotechnology researh directed toward specialty chemicals.

Grace said it also is considering acquisitions in the biotechnology field, but it gave no details. The company said it plans to work with universities and research institutes throughout the world.

11 said it has signed a contract to fund up to $8.5 million of research projects in microbiology over the next five years with Massachusetts institute of Technology.

Compiled From Agency Disputches

Eurodollar Rates Fall, Spurring Bond Issues

LONDON - Eurodollar deposit rates fell to their lowest level of the year Monday, and four U.S. companies were spurred by strong de discomand to come to the Faromarket ket. with new bond issues totaling $360 fall throughout the day closing ar 11 percent. Dealers attributed the decline to the U.S. Federal Reserve Board's cutting of its dis-

Prices on dollar-denominated Eurobonds climbed as rates fell. Seasoned issues were up an average of one point, after opening gains of up to % point, dealers

Newer Issues Firmer

Newer issues were also firmer despite widespread predictions of an avalanche of new bonds this week, the dealers added. The $100million bond for IBM, issued last week with strong response, remained in favor Monday, rising Vi point to 102.

Among Monday's new issues, interest focused on a $50-milion seven-year issue for American Natural Resources led by Goldman Sachs. The notes, issued through two overseas subsidiaries, carry a coupon of 15% percent and are callable at par beginning in 1987. Similar to last week's IBM issue.

the notes were issued with warrants each entitling the holder to buy a seven-year, 151/2 percent, noncallable bond. The warrants have an unusually long five-year

The company's U.S. debt is single-A-rated by Standard & Poor's. In June, American Natural Resources withdrew a $60-million, seven-year bond with indicated terms of 15% percent and a price at a slight discount because to poor market conditions.

The company, which has interests in gas, coal and trucking, is hardly as well-known in Europe as IBM, but its warrants, like those of the computer giant, generated en-thusiasm for the bonds. The issue was trading on the gray market at 994 late Monday. The warrants quoted separately at $40

the note to 95.6 and thus raise the eign exchange reserves and to yield to almost 16½ percent. finance its growing budget deficit.
Credit Suisse First Boston led a which totals about $19.6 billion for $150 million 10-year Eurobond for fiscal 1982-83.

the Canadian province of Saskatchewan. The bond, which carries a 15 percent coupon and was priced at par, was quoted at a discount of 98% on the gray mar-

Pacific Gas & Electric, whose Overnight Encodollars opened. U.S. debt also is rated single-A, is at 11% percent, their levest since south year Eurobould, also lead last November and continued to managed by Court also lead

> The issue has an indicated coupon of 14% percent and will be priced Aug. 11. The bond is callable by the borrower after five years at 101 per-cent, after six at 100½ and at par after seven years. Credit Smisse First Boston said.

The issue was well-received and was trading at a slight discount of

First Chicago Overseas Finance is raising $100 million through a 12-year floating rate note led by Salomon Brothers International S.G. Warburg & Co. and First Chicago of London

The notes, which have a coupon of 1/4 percent over the average of the bid and offered rates for threemonth interbank Eurodollar deposits and are priced at par, are guaranteed on a subordinated basis by First Chicago Corp.

Battle Lines For Computers Drawn in U.S.

By Michael S. Malone

New York Times Service SAN JOSE, Calif. — It may seem that the battle for the personal computer market in the United States is all but over, with victory to be shared by such makers as IBM, Apple and Radio Shack. But industry analysts say the real war in the personal computer market is probably just beginning, and will last until the middle of the decade.

The battle is crupting now, analysts say, because Japanese and, to a lesser extent, Eubecause Japanese and, to a lesser extent, European electronics companies have taken advantage of recently established hardware standards, a growing supply of good software and extensive independent distribution networks. The makers from abroad, encouraged by the successes of the U.S. personal computer industry, are just now bringing their products to the United States.

"There is going to be a big battle," said David Bursky, West Coast managing editor of Electronics Design Magazine. "The Japanese know that the United States is the world's largest market for personal computworld's largest market for personal computers and so they are going after it first."

The victors, according to analysts, will be those companies that can offer the most use-ful software and the best customer service and support, not necessarily the most powerful hardware or the lowest price.

An estimated 60 to 70 Japanese electronics companies have entered the market for per-

Compiled by Our Staff From Dispatches

U.S. banks, responding to the Federal Reserve's cut late Friday in the discount rate, Monday lowered their prime rate a half point to 15 percent — its lowest level in 20

Among the banks moving to the 15 percent prime were Citibank, Chase Manhattan, Chemical, Morgan Guaranty, Continental Illi-nois, Manufacturers Hanover, Bank of New York, Irving Trust and First National of Chicago.

Mellon National Bank of Pittsburgh led the move late Friday by lowering its base loan charge. Also, the Federal Reserve Friday cut its discount rate to 11 percent from 11½ percent, the second such cut since July 19.

Fed Funds Lower

was at 14½ percent.

The discount rate is the interest

NEW YORK --- Most major

the U.S. market in the next few months.

Nippon Electric, Toshiba, Sharp, Canon and Oki have already arrived in the United States. And Sony introduced its desktop mi-(Continued on Page 9, Col.1)

Most Major Banks in U.S. Cut Prime to 15% Regan said Monday be was encouraged by the drop the prime

> "It is fascinating that they have come down this quickly," he told the Senate Finance Committee. While short-term rates are expected to continue falling over the near term, analysts are uncertain how long the trend will last because the government has to borrow heavily to cover record budget

ly, one of the reasons that the "While the market is very optimistic at the moment, the environment ahead still seems more con-Treasury Secretary Donald T.

creases," said Philip Braverman of Chase Manhattan Bank. He cited a virtual credit blizzard of $100-110 billion of Treasury cash fi-nancing in the second half" plus the likelihood of an economic recovery with faster money supply growth as reasons for expecting igher rates. Faster money supply growth in August or September, combined with a growing economy, would likely cause the Fed to make credit less available in the banking sys-tem, Mr. Braverman said. That would imply an increase in short-

N.Y. Stock Prices In Broad Advance; Dow Gains 13.51

Compiled by Our Staff From Dispatches NEW YORK — An afternoon rally caused prices on the New York Stock Exchange to close sharply higher Monday, with blue chip and bank stocks the star per-

The Dow Jones industrial average turned in an erratic performance, rising 6½ points in the first half hour, easing to a gain of less than three at midday and then climbing again to close up 13.51 at 822.11. Advances led declines by a 10-to-3 margin, and volume rose to 10-to-3 margin, and volume rose to 53.5 million shares from 39.3 million yesterday. Volume in the final hour was more than 12 million

Analysts said the initial spark for the uptrend was a cut late Fri-day by the Federal Reserve in its discount rate to 11 percent.

The action triggered a drop in the prime rate to 15 percent from 151/2 percent by most major banks. The Fed also reported the nation's supply dropped $800 million in the latest reporting week, keeping its growth within targets and allowing some credit relaxation. But analysts said investors are still concerned that the lower interest rates are only temporary. These concerns caused the market to lose its upward momentum in mid-morning, according to Monte Gor-don of Dreyfus Corp. The rate declines are suspect in terms of duration. Investors do not think they will last," Mr. Gordon said. He also said investors are aware that rates are dropping because of the weak economy, which means corporate profits could also

Michael Metz of Oppenheimer & Co. attributed the late resumption of the rally to continued strength in the bond market as well as a pick-up in bank stocks, which have posted steep declines recently.

But he said the relatively light volume makes the rally suspect, even though advancing issues still a lot of skeptics out there who think the market may yet test its

Mr. Metz added that "there is no unanimous optimism on the outlook for either interest rates or the economy."

The Commerce Department reported Monday that construction spending rose 1.3 percent in June to a seasonally adjusted annual rate of $230.7 billion after a revised gain in May of 0.7 percent. Initially, the department said spending rose 1.3 percent in May. June construction spending was down 2.9 percent from a year earli-cr, the department also said. In a separate report, the department said new orders received by U.S. manufacturers fell $464 million, or 0.3 percent. The decline followed a revised 1 percent May increase. Initially, the department said nrders rose 1.5 percent in Commerce Secretary Malcolm

Baldrige reportedly said he expect-ed slower second-half economic growth than the administration's projection of a 4.5 percent jump in the gross national product.

So do many other analysts who noted the government's June index of leading economic indicators was unchanged after two months of in-creases and that just about every measurement of output was down.

On the NYSE floor, Cities Service was delayed in opening, but when it did, just before the close, it was off 10% at 44. It closed at that level. Gulf Oil, trading for the first time since last Wednesday, closed up % at 26%. Gulf said it was keeping its options open on its proposed merger with Cities Service, which the Federal Trade Commission is trying to block,

Statistics Index

Fitne Rate Notes Gold Markets Highs & Lows Market Summary U.S. Money Rates OTC Stocks Other Markets

EEC to Offer More Cuts in U.S. Steel Exports

By Philip Stephens

prime rate could dip another full fact that the economy is still just very weak at the moment," Mr. Robertson said. "There's been oo really visible sign of an economic

"We feel strongly that by lower-ing the prime lending rate we can make a contribution to the economie recovery process. Obvious-economy has been so weak in re-cent months has been the persis-tence of very high interest rates."

"I think that it really reflects the point within the next few weeks.

on loans by the Fed to banks and savings and loans. The prime rate is the base upon which banks com-BRUSSELS - The European pute interest charges on short-term Ecocomie Community agreed Monday on a new offer to cut steel business loans.

The 15 percent prime rate is the sales on the U.S. market, amid lowest since Nov. 5, 1980, when it signs that its bitter trade dispute with Washington may be close to a settlement.

The prime rate reduction, the second within two weeks from 16½ After preliminary U.S. officials in Brussels over the Fed's report Friday of an $800 mil-lion decline in the U.S. money supweekend, both sides described the discussions as positive. ply in the latest statistical week. Diplomats said the 10 EEC members were ready to reduce their share of the U.S. steel market The prime cut reflected sharp to 5.8 percent for the next three declines in the banks' costs of obyears, compared with a 6.4 percent taining money for lending and inshare in 1981.

The United States has sought a Federal funds --- overnight loans 5.67-percent limit on the 11 major among banks — traded as low as 10% percent without Fed intervensteel products to be covered by an agreement, which would allow tion. Fed funds averaged 11.41 Vashington to withdraw anti-subpercent on Friday. sidy duties on European steel imports, they added.

The money supply growth rate has come down to Fed targets EEC Industry Commissioner within recent weeks and set the Etienne Davignon plans to take stage for the interest-rate declines. the offer Tuesday to Washington, Norman Robertson, chief econ-omist at Mellon Bank, said the where he would try to reach at

with U.S. Commerce Secretary Malcolm Baldrige, the diplomats

The contentious duties were im-posed provisionally in June after U.S. steelmakers complained their U.S. sales were being harmed by European steel sold at unfairly low prices. The final deadline for an agreement oo the export levels is Aug. 24, when the provisional duties are due to become definite.

A proposal in mid-July by four EEC states to cut exports by 10 percent was swiftly rejected by the United States and the diplomats cantioned against undue optimism in the current talks.

under strong pressure from its own steel industry, which has to agree to any agreement, the diplomats They also said a dispute between

The Reagan administration is European steelmakers over sharing the proposed cuts could still create severe problems. There were indications that a compromise could be reached on the range of products to be included in any accord, they said.

had apparently modified its insistence that steel pipes and tubes be added to the 11 products to be covered by an accord. However, even though Washing-ton might accept an informal agreement that Europe would not increase in its share of the U.S.

market for pipes and tubes, Mr. Davignoo had no mandate from the EEC member governments to agree to such an arrangement for these products, the diplomats said. The question of whether pipe and tube exports should be curtailed could delay a settlement of the steel dispute until after Aug. 9, when the Reagan administration is to rule on further suits against Eu-The internal EEC dispute arose from the insistence of West Germany, the Netherlands and Luxembourg - whose exports were found to be relatively unsubsidized by Washington, and have had to pay only minor import duties —

The diplomats said that Mr. Dathat they maintain their traditional U.S. sales despite any overall cuts. vignoo told a meeting of govern-The diplomats said Bonn warned the EEC Commission on ment trade experts in Brussels on Monday that the United States

Monday that any deal negotiated in Washington this week would be acceptable only if West German steelmakers-would not have to reduce significantly their exports to the United States.

> ARGENTINE REPUBLIC EXTERNAL U.S. $ BONDS THE WESTON

> > GROUP

CH-1003 LAUSANNE 2 Rue de la Paix. Tel.: 021/20 17 41.

DOLDER GRAND HOTEL ZURICH A house of tradition an outstanding reputation for the very highest standard

astrasse 65, CH-8032 Zurici

Canada Seeking $2 Billion Loan, Bankers Say

NEW YORK - Canada is seeking an increase of about $2 billion in its $3-billion revolving credit fa-cility with U.S. banks, banking

They said discussions among Canada, its agent, Citibank, and the joint managers of the facility are at a preliminary stage.

But they said it appears that banks that would subscribe to the additional financing would be of-fered higher rates for the entire fa-cility than exists on the current credit line.

Canadian government officials declined to comment about the increase in the credit line and the Canadian Finance Department denied such a request had been

each
A buyer could therefore sell the said recently that Ottawa would move shortly to replenish its for-

Banking sources said it is for these reasons that Canada is seeking the increase in the facility.

The sources said that in June, Canada's foreign exchange reserves fell $2.3 billion to well below $3 billion. That decline prompted the government to tap the Eurobond market for a $750-

Canada has drawn down $1.5 billion under the $3 billion credit line, which was signed three years ago and expires in 1988. It is expected the Canada will take the reaining $1.5 billion when and if

The facility is considered a standby credit and is not included in official foreign exchange

Last October, the maturity of the credit line was extended from 1986. Canada was given the option of terms set based on the London interbank offered rate the U.S.

The interest rate on the current $1.5 billion borrowing is ¼ per-centage point over Libor or the Banking sources suggested that the new terms, which also would be at Canada's option, would be 1/4 point over Libor or 1/2 over prime with a commitment fee of 4 per-

The joint managers of the facili-ty are Bank of America, Irving Trust and Manufacturers Hanover

Iu London, lead manager UBAF Bank confirmed Monday that Yugoslavia's Ljubljanska Ban-ka is raising a $100-million, maximum 18-month revolving credit facility to finance imports of oil.

The facility will have interest se at % percent over Libor with a commitment fee of % percent on undrawn funds, it added

Libyan oil will be included in the exports, according to the Yu-goslavian bank's London office.

Markets Closed

Banks and financial markets in Hong Kong and Toronto were closed Monday for holidays.

All of these securities having been sold, this announcement appears as a matter of recurd only.

GENERAL ALLIED OIL & GAS CO.

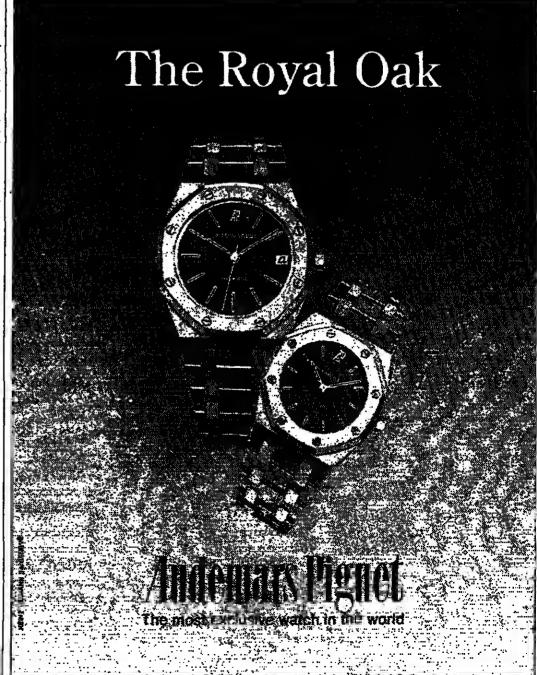

INCORPORATED UNDER THE LAWS OF THE STATE OF WEST VIRGINIA

750,000 SHARES CDN $ 3.25

THE SHARES OF THE COMPANY ARETRADED ON THE

VANCOUVER STOCK EXCHANGE

D. J. HALL & COMPANY INC. BRINK, HUDSON & LEFEVER LTD. CONTINENTAL, CARLISLE, DOUGLAS

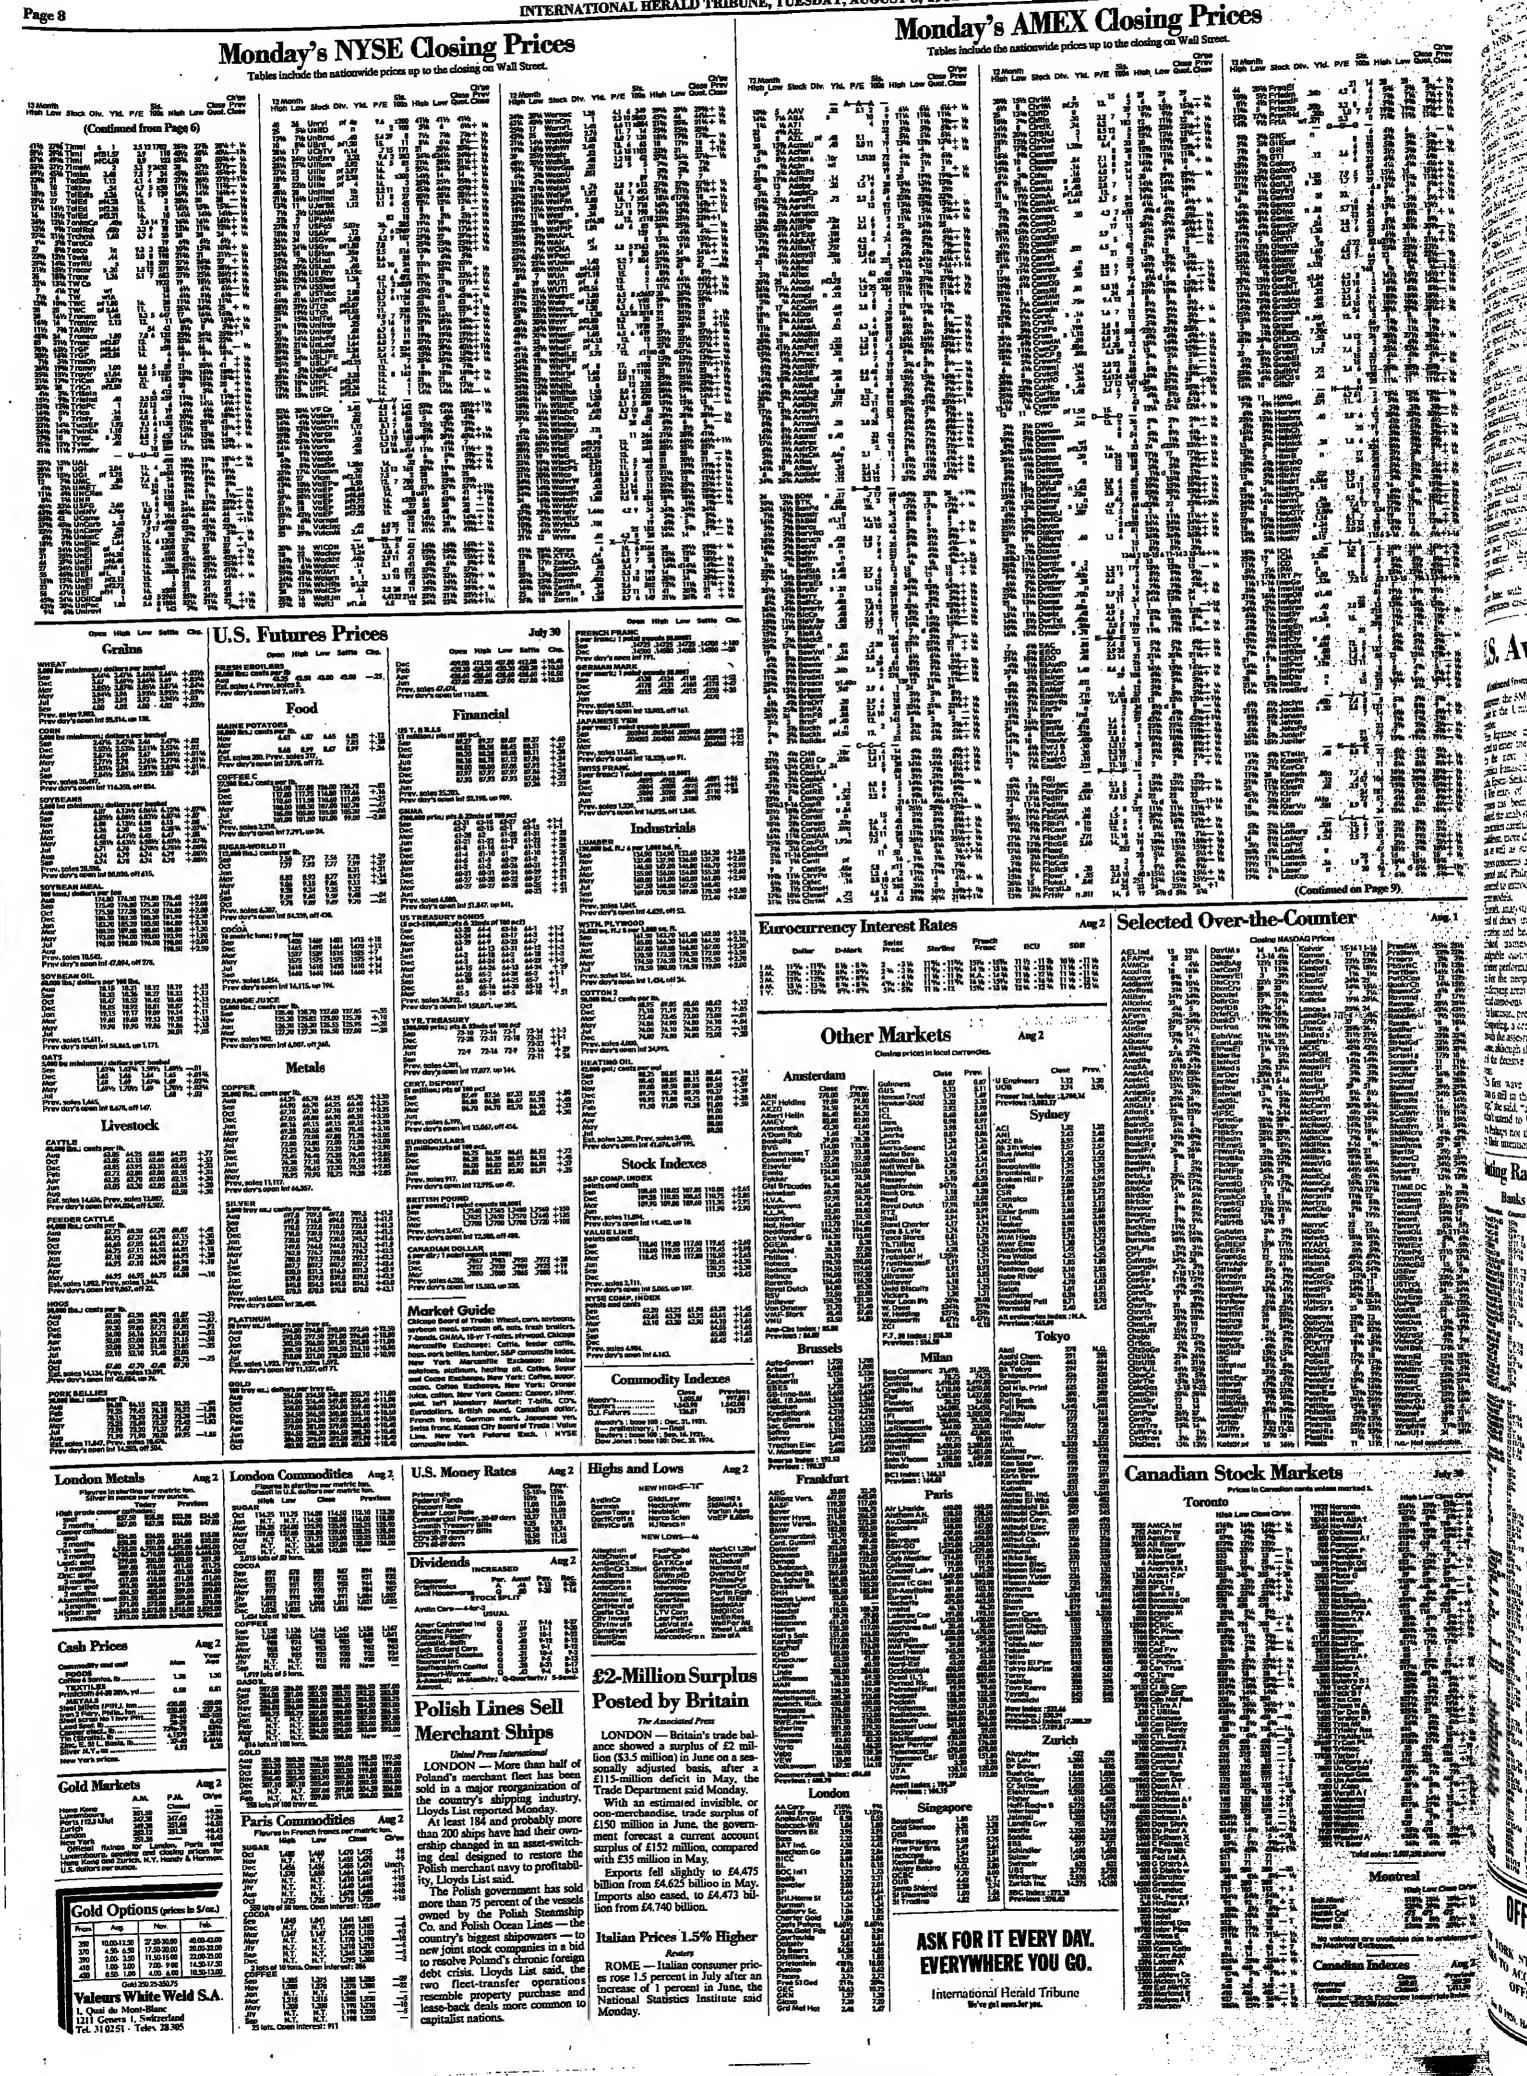

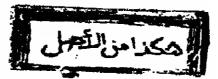

CURRENCY RATES

4.702 01.2575 4.264 * 39,895 * 0,1969 - 43615 3,401 * 35,96 * 1,763 # T1,8758 : 2,292,36 42658 - 47175 506.38 0.3716 9,073 22878 - 72828 87219 54152 - 72828 87219 2,605 45,9136 2,9403 53,825 6.5632 1323.86 7.4097 N.A.

Interbank exchange rates for Aug 2, excluding bank service charges.

2,1355 1,1429 742,76 111,81 6,04 Slopapore 5 S. African rand S. Kerean won 0.009 . Japanest yes 2830 2475 Kovalli daer (2024 9.426 Malay, risselt 224) 8.1529 Norw. krose 6.542 Belgion fin, franc 47.15 0.009 Spenish resula 0.1656 Swedish krana 0.0253 Talwan $ 39.44

U.S. Companies See Deep Cuts in Spending

By Thomas J. Lucck

New York Times Service NEW YORK — The combination of high interest rates and sluggish sales in key markets is forcing reductions—in some cases deep reductions—in planned spending for new factories and spending for new factories and equipment across a broad spectrum of U.S. industry.

In recent weeks, companies in fields that are feeling the harshest impact of the recession have an nounced cuts in their earlier projections of capital spending this year and have deferred some proj-

"In effect, we're turning off the ed increase over 1980 spending lev-ucet," said Harry Holiday, chair. els until 1984. fancet," said Harry Holiday, chair-man of Armco, the aixth-largest steel manufacturer in the United States, in a meeting with New York securities analysis last week He said the company, which had earlier projected $570 million in capital spending in 1982, now plans to spend about $370 million this year and less than $300 mil-lion in 1983.

Sharp reductions are also being made in the oil industry, among toolmakers and in other industries. Some high technology companies, while maintaining their planned expenditures for research and derelopment, are postponing expansions of plant and equipment.

The Commerce Department, which surveys capital spending plans by hundreds of companies each quarter, said in a report in June that it expected non-agricultural businesses to increase their 1982 capital spending by only 2 percent over 1981 levels; three months earlier, the department had projected a 7.3 percent in-reductions, a growing number of analysts have become convinced overall capital spending by U.S. industry this year will be lower than last year, even in dollar terms, without taking inflation into account

The problem lies not only in the depth of the cuts, but in their duraomist with Wharton Econometrics, esid capital spending levels, with the effect of inflation taken into account; began to decline in mid-1980. This year "will be a real dis-aster," he said, adding that he does not expect a real, inflation-adjust-

This isn't just a question for cooponists sitting around with eye shades," Mr. Straszbeim said. He sinces, wir. Straszbenn Sind. Fice said a four-year fallow period in capital spending would be the longest in memory, leaving many industrial concerns with "older, outdated equipment and a mor-serious challenge from their foreign trading partners."

Several of the large oil companies, which have steadily increased their capital spending for plant, equipment and exploration in recent years, are moving rapidly to reduce those costs.

Standard Oil of Ohio, which last month reported a 1 percent decline in its second-quarter net income, said it was reducing its planned capital budget for the year to $2.6 billion from $3 billion.

A Re-examination' Standard Oil of Indiana, which reported a 31 percent decline in second-quarter earnings, said it was also reducing its 1982 capital spending projection, to $4.7 bil-Since June, with a number of lion, from an earlier projection of large companies disclosing further $5.2 billion.

iture plans." The three companies declined to elaborate on their capital spending plans, or to say which of their op-erations would be most affected. But oil industry analysts said the cuts would be mainly in explora-Most oil companies have overestimated their cash flow for the year," said Timothy J. Quaid of F. Eberstadt & Co. "And if they're going to make cuts, the only logical place is exploration."

The manufacturers of equipment for oil drilling and exploration are also feeling the impact and making reductions in their capital outlays. Hughes Tool, which makes tools and provides oilfield services, said last week it plans to reduce projected 1982 capital spending by 25 percent.

Steel companies, which have found their markets in the auto, aerospace, construction and other industries severely hurt by the re-cession, also attribute their reduced capital spending plans to the high interest rates on money they must borrow to expand and update their manufacturing facili-

Projects being postponed in the steel industry include the construction of continuous casters, or de-vices that convert molten steel into a rough solid, and the ovens that convert coal into coke for use in blast furnaces. Many of these projects are budgeted at far more than

U.S. Steel Corp. has declined to

And the world's largest oil company, Exxon, which reported a 51.5 percent drop in second quarter earnings, said it had begun a "re-examination of capital expend-Andrew D. Staursky, a company spokesman. He added that several projects already under way, including construction of a continuous converter and a mill to make train rails, are being "stretched out."

The electronics industry, which is not immune to recessions, also is making cuts in capital outlays. In many cases, the cutbacks result from weak sales in the market for computer equipment, where buyers are postponing their orders because of high interest rates.

Lower and Lower

National Semiconductor, for example, which derives 70 percent of its sales as a supplier of components to computer manufacturers. said its capital spending for the fis-cal year ended June 30 had been projected at $200 million, but that the amount spent was about $70

Michael Ayers, a spokesman for the Santa Clara, Calif., company, said depressed conditions in some segments of the computer industry "continue to make us very ner-vous" and that capital spending is likely to be reduced again over the pext 12 months

Mr. Ayers said the company's research and development expense, a budget item regarded as crucial to the success of electronics companies, has not been reduced. But in spending for new plant and equipment, he added, National Semiconductor's engineers and department heads "all have their own project its capital spending for wish lists, and for the time 1982, but said last week it was they're all making sacrifices." wish lists, and for the time being

U.S. Awaits Challenge in Personal Computers

(Continued from Page 7)

crocomputer, the SMC-70, in May about three years from now, they'll for sale in the United States in launch a very significant entry—

Other Japanese manufacturers expected to enter the U.S. market within the next year include Matsushita/Panasonic, Fujitsu, Hitachi, Epson/Seiko, and Mitsu-bishi. The entry of the Japanese companies has been deliberately low-keyed, the analysts say, as they test the market carefully. In addition, more domestic companies, as well as such Enropean. electronics concerns as Olivetti International and Philips Industries are expected to introduce personal computer models.

The result, analysts say, may be until 1981, the problem of disaperiod of chaos in the market, tribution, customer service and, price cutting and heavy losses to: most of all, software, were considestablished names. For the ered all but insurmountable by forknowledgeable customer, it may eigh manufacturers trying to come mean better performance at lower to the U.S. market with their first prices. For the meophyle, it may computers aimed more toward the mean a dizzying array of advertise-ments and come-out.

Portia Istalista, president of Futhre Computing, a consolting firm, chines' cutry into the personal agrees with the assessment of what computer market changed all of is to come although she pushes the that, according to Fred M. Gibdate of the decisive battle out a bons, president of Software Pub-

"This first wave of Japaneso products is still in the experimental stage," slic said, "and the Japaneso don't intend to be aggressive with it. Perhaps not the next wave either. Their intention is to learn

Not everyone agrees with the analysts' assessments of the Japanese threat. Infoworld, a trade magazine, reported that Stephen Jobs, the founder of Apple Com-puter, predicted that the Japanese are going to flop up on the shore like dead fish." Until 1981, the problem of dispersonal user than the business customer. But International Business Ma-

As was the case with the minicomputer market, the entry of IBM into the fray put a stamp of legitimacy on the business while establishing bardware and software standards. The emphasis on

Floating Rate Notes Banks

Non Banks

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE MEMBER FIRM SEEKS TO ACQUIRE THE MANAGEMENT OF AN OFFSHORE MUTUAL FUND.

Box D 1926, Herald Tribune, 92521 Neuilly Codex, France

about the market as they go. Then, personal computers is now on software that is compatible with IBM and it is quite possible they'll take The issue is software and distria very significant market share. And by about five years from now, bution," Mr. Gibbons said. "And IBM compatibility takes care of I expect the Japanese firms may well own half of the personal comthat. There are a lot of computer stores out there just dying for an IB machine. They'd be happy to get a Sony machine that's IBM puter market" Dead Fish

> One crucial factor in the outcome of the computer battle, the analysis agree, is that the personal computer industry has begin to be divided into a number of separate markets, each with distinct characteristics and each capable of supporting three or four dominant makers. Thus, when the smoke clears, the whole personal computer market may have 30 successful companies, rather than just three or four. Nevertheless, the number of also-rans may reach 75 or 100.

> But all of the shuffling for the right market niche will exact heavy costs, analysts say, particularly to companies that try to aim in too many directions at once.

IMB's Moves Questioned

John Rowley, chief operating officer of Digi developer of software, said he believes that IBM may be making a serious mistake by emphasizing the home market over the small business market - where it would be better positioned.

On the other hand, Texas Instruments, which Mr. Rowley said has been notably weak thus far in personal computers, "has an excellent shot at small business if it acts tougher and gets bold."

Of the European makers, Mr. Rowley said he sees Olivetti, ICL and a renewed Philips as strong in Europe but not in the United States. The biggest sleeper, he said, may be Sony, both because of its size and its expertise in appealing to the consumer electronics mar-

For Ms. Isaacson, the name to watch is Matsushita Electric Industrial, which makes Technics and Panasonic consumer electron-ics products and appliances. Asked to name the lineup of industry leaders five years from now, she cited IBM, Matsushita, Nippon Electric "and then a bunch of U.S.

companies."
Mr. Gibbons predicted that the market lineup three years from now will be dominated by IBM and IBM-compatible machines (primarily Japanese) with half of the market, Apple and Radio Shack with 15 percent each and 20 percent to the rest.

Apple Vulnerable

Who stands to be limit the most? Perhaps Apple. Mr. Rowley said he considers Apple's apparent emphasis on the business market rather than the home market to be misguided. "They don't have a good distribution channel there," he said.

Ms. Isaacson is more explicit "Apple is extremely vulnerable," she said. "They are totally depend ent on independent distribution. If they don't keep very competitive

PORTINAX DEVELOPMENT LIMITED Bid: U.S. $2.25. Asked: U.S. $2.50. As of date: August 3, 1982, F.P.S.
FINANCIAL PLANNING SERVICES BY Kelvestrich 112, 24d Reor
1012 PK ANSTERDAM, Hellend.
Phone: (J) 20-250-07/229873; Telen: 18556

gas industry through Viking Resources

sted on the Amsterdam Stock Exchange. The quarterly report as of 30th June, 1982 has been published and may be obtained from products out there, the space will go to other companies' products. If they moved real fast with a low-priced consumer product, they could own that business in the next year. But they seem to be moving toward the high end."

Pierson, Heldring & Pierson N.V.

She also was critical of Radio Shack's market positioning: "They don't know if they are a computer aufacturer or a retailer these days ... If they were smart they'd be selling the best computers they can find - and that would mean not selling Radio Shack comput-

instead of trying to go head-to-head with giants such as IBM, she said, Radio Shack should take advantage of its large retailing base and concentrate on being the lead-er in the sales end of the business - a market that Mr. Gibbons said offers the greatest potential for growth and profits.

A solid distribution base is considered by Mr. Rowley to be the key to market success. "Distribu-tion will hold the key," he said.

Multi-Millionaires make more Stockmarket Profits Ordinary Investors begets more capital. Institutions and tycoons enjoy far greater stock At First National Securities Ltd., our specialty is to generate that leverage, and provide that inside expertise for you, the individual investor. minimum risks on behalf of our Trading in options takes advantage of the fact that, for only a fraction of shares at US 559 each equals US 000 Stock rise of US 51 gives US $400 profit less brokerage

Stock Option Syndicate US $20,000 investment controls gives US $5,000 profit less brokeragi

Our objective is a minimum 45% per annum return on all investments. naturally guaranteed, and you may enter a syndicate with as little as US First National trades on the American market and only deals at leading New York brokerage Complete account secrecy quaranteed

"	open wentun leinu
1
1	tame
1	ddress
١.
Ì.
1	elephone Office
1	lome

First National Securities Ltd. 84 Base du Rhône 1204 Geneva SWITZERLAND

Monday's AMEX Closing Prices
Tables include the nationwide prices up to the closing on Wall Street.

هكذا عن الأهل

12 Month
High Low Stock Div. Yiel. P/E 180s High Low Guel. Class
With Low Stock Div. Yiel. P/E 180s High Low Guel. Class (Continued from Page 8) ्रम्थत्रम् द्वार विवर्त्तेत्र 9.20 41 10 d 9½ 11 3½ 3 16 8 76 5 18 % 3 5½ 5% 105 11 18½ 17% PROPERTY

OF THE PR 48 4 20 1.413 400 청4

1,34e wi ef 3 20 -25e -40 # WTC 47 49 2

Herald Tribune

The international essential.

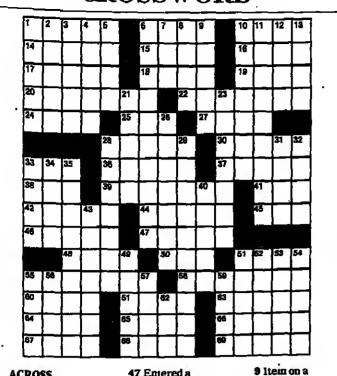

البنك السعودى العالمى المحدود Saudi International Bank

AL-BANK AL-SAUDI AL-ALAMI LIMITED

Extract from Interim Balance Sheet

30th June 1982	31st December 1981
£′000	£'000
121,278	92,223
2,120,182	1,870,792
892,688	872,701
2,321,665	2,021,729
	1982 £'000 121,278 2,120,182 892,688

Shareholders: Saudi Arabian Monetary Agency National Commercial Bank (Saudi Arabia), Riyad Bank, Morgan Guaranty Trust Company of New York, The Bank of Tokyo, Ltd., Banque Nationale de Paris, Deutsche Bank AG., National Westminster Bank PLC and Union Bank of Switzerland.

ACROSS 1 Show up again

6 Meat paste 10 Finale of 'Macbeth'

14 ''---- and merry at forty . . . " 15 Tei -16 Syngman of Korea 17 Dance 18 Roue 19 Poet laureate: 1692-1715

20 Swallows 22 Catalogues 24 Esteem 25 ---- Paul Kruger

27 — sgt. 28 Of a certain bone 30 School group 33 U.S. Army Corps member 36 Square 37 Verso's opposite 38 First-year

Latin word 39 Dance 41 Paul Newman role 42 Shankar's instrument 44 Kovacs or Pyle 45 Huxtable or 46 — ballerina

ALGARVE

ALGIERS AMSTERDAM

BUCHAREST

BUENOSAIRES

CASABLANCA CHICAGO COPENHAGEN COSTA DEL SOL

DUBLIN

EDINBUROH

FRAHKPURT

BANK JULIUS BAER & COLM

CAPITAL INTERNATIONAL

BANK VON ERNST & Cle AG PB 2622 Bern
(d) CSF Fund SF 1926
(d) Crestow Fund SF 1926
(d) ITF Fund N.V. $10.30

NAGEMENT (UKI LTD PTY Pac. Fd. Ltd. T. Asia Fund. T. Bond Fund. T. Dollor Fund.

ROTHSCHILD ASSET MGTM (Cf): —(r) O.C. Oli; Commodily Tr.....

Japan Portfolia...

- ountry:_

FLORENCE

HARARE

HELSING

47 Entered a slalom 48 Cut.of meat 50 Agcy. succeeded by

10 A, e.g. 11 Dance N.R.C. 51 Autocrat 55 Trickster 58 Give a new shape to 60 God identified with Woden 61 Prefix with scope or style 63 Dance Rhythm"

65 Mine, to Michel 66 Rounded 67 Certain bills 68 Places 69 Ancient DOWN

1 Proportion 2 Antelope 3 River io a Vachel Lindsay poem 4 Pionee botanist Franz 5 Early autos 6 Ministers' 7 Gardner 8 Polynesian mythical figure

WEATHER

LOS ANGELES MADRID MANILA MEXICO CITY

MILAN

MONTREAL MOSCOW MUNICH

NEW YORK

PARIS PEKING PRAGUE REYKJAVIK

SEOUL SHANGHAI SINGAPORE STOCKHOLM

2 ADKEA

TOKYO YUN)S VEMICE VICHNA WARSAW

ADVERTISEMENT

INTERNATIONAL FUNDS AUGUST 2, 1982

DM 17.08*

$ 73.63° |m 1,106.41° |SF 89,30 |$ 1,082.47

RID DE JANEIRO

MICE

For Overcost
Rolm
Cloudy
Overcost
Rolm
Cloudy
Fair
Overcast
Cloudy
Fair
Cloudy
Fair
Cloudy
Fair
Cloudy
Fair
Cloudy
Fair
Cloudy
Fair
Cloudy
Overcast

(head to tail) 13 $5 bills 21 French hue and cry 23 Issued a ukase 26 Dance 28 Reprimand sports

program

0

 \mathbf{N}

D

29 Monacan ruler 31 Stallion 32 Pop 33 Stinger 34 Turkish title 40 Relative

43 Quantities 49 Himalayan kingdom 51 Cape Cod town 52 Dance 53 Brownish

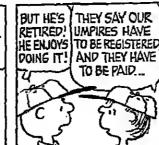

yeilow 54 Set 55 Porter's "Let's 56 Move

hesitantly 57 San —, on Long Island 59 Tenor role in

"Das Rheingold" 62 U.S. missile

$1,000 $1,100 $1,100 $7,11,100 $7,11,100 $7,11,100 $17,2

I HAVE MORE BAD NEWS FOR YOU CHARLIE BROWN... OLD MR. MARTIN CAN'T BE OUR UMPIRE ANY MORE ...

المرابع المرابع المرابع المرابع المستوين المرابع المرابع المرابع المرابع المرابع المرابع المرابع المرابع المرا

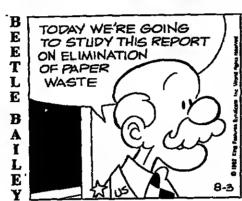

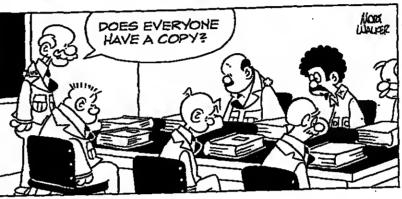

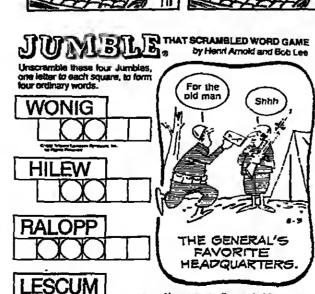

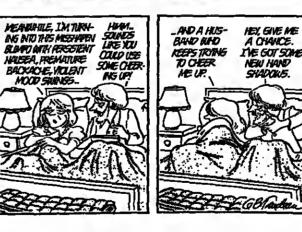

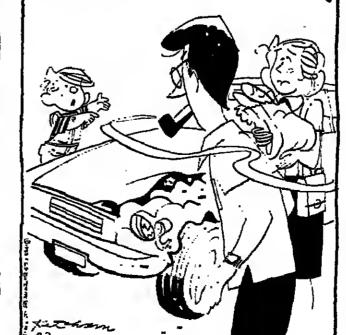

Print answer here: [Jumbles: BRIAR GOOSE AFFRAY DRUDGE Answer: A big wheel in the amusement business-FERRIS

Now arrange the circled letters to Imprime par Offprins, 73 rue de l'Evangile, 75018 Paris

"It wasn't Mow's fault! A car in Front of US DIDN'T GET OUTA THE WAY!"

BOOKS

THE PRODIGAL DAUGHTER

By Jeffrey Archer, 464 pp. $15.95. Linden/Simon and Schuster, 1230 Avenue of the Americas, New York, N. Y. 10020.

Reviewed by Constance Casey

IN SPITE of a plodding style and shallow characterization, Jeffrey Archer's "The Prodigal Daughter" possesses narrative drive - a classy possesses narrative drive — a classy way of saying it's a page-turner. It is, however, much easier to put down than Archer's earlier best seller "Kane and Abel," to which it is the sequel.

Like brand-name motels that supply reliably clean, dull rooms with plenty of extra toilet paper. "The Prodigal Daughter" provides a familiar product. In fact, predictability is the book's major virtue. Consider this seene: As self-made hotel mogul Abel Rosoovski looks down at his infant daughter, Florentyna, he vows: daughter. Florentyna, he vows:
"Not for her the dirt and deprivation of his childhood or the humiliation of arriving on the Eastern Sea-board of America as an immigrant with little more than a few valueless Russian rubles sewn into the jacket of an only suit." Form can be defined as expectation fulfilled. You knew. didn't you, that Abel would have only one suit? The expectations Archer depends on are formed by fairy tales and mov-ies. Readers of "Kane and Abel" will recall that, in best fairy-tale tradition, Abel turned out to be the lost son of a baron. Freshly arrived in the United States, Abel was plucked from the ob-scurity of waiting on tables in the Pla-za Hotel Oak Room to the executive suite of a hotel chain. A wealthy bene-factor, a Texan who has watched Abel "serving gnests solicitously for a "serving gnests solicitously for a week," recognized our hero's potential despite his low position. (Belief in the myth of the wealthy benefactor is the most peculiarly American fairy tale, probably explaining why so many of us persist in being inordinately nice to rich people.) Shortly thereafter the Texan jumps from the window of his hotel's presidential suite leaving Abel hotel's presidential suite, leaving Abel a debi-plagued hotel empire and foreing him to beg from Ivy Leaguer William Kane, a banker who seems to have the soul of a cash register. Thus begins the family feud that forces Florentyna to turn on her father. Which scion of which Eastern banking family do you imagine young Florentyna is likely to fall for?

The one question that isn't entirely predictable is whether Florentyna will fulfill her pledge to her father — over-coming the terrible burdens of being a woman, Polish and a millionaires to become president of the United

As early as the age of 6, Florentyna is a lot like Margaret Thatcher—first-grade president and iron-willed upholder of the Brownie code, Her qualities of leadership are encouraged by a Cambridge-educated (Archer, and Thatcher, went to Oxford) gov-erness who combines the best qualities of Eleanor Roosevelt and Jeeves. After Florentyna is called a "stupid Polack" by a oursery schoolmate, the governess lectures Papa Rosnovski: "You should have explained the Americans' deep-seated prejudice against the Poles, a prejudice that in my opinion is every bit as reprehensible as the English attitude toward the Irish, and only a few steps away from the Nazis' barbaric behavior towards the Jews." Naturally, no one has ever told millionaire Rosnovski he was wrong about anything (he doesn't point out the number of Poles in the U.S. Congress or numerous statues of Kosciuszko) and he admires the Englishwaman's graphion.

Englishwoman's gumption.

With her governess' tutoring in Polish history, Greek and Latin, Florentee tyna wins a scholarship to Radcliffe. Only her marriage to the young Kane (whose last name will fill up a small and thus distinctly un-Polish space on the ballot) and the resulting tempo-rary disinheritance set her back at all:

"If only America was governed the way you run your hotels, we wouldn't be in the trouble we're in now," a typical admirer tells Florentyna after she has reconciled with her father and succeeded him as head of the Baron Group. She gives in then to Mayor Daley's plea that she tun for Congress from her native Chicago, (Daley was impressed when Time ranked Florentyna 1968's third-most-admired women after I acquains V parady Comments and Comments an, after Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis and Margaret Mead.)

and Margaret Mead.)
You can begin to see what 1995 is likely to bring for Florentyna. Funnily enough, the page-turning slows down when her campaign for president begins. No wonder, with passages like this summation of the New Hampshire primary: Florentyna "grew to love the classical New England mill towns, the crustiness of the land mill towns, the crustiness of the Granite State's farmers and the stark beauty of its winter landscape.

No place ever comes alive. San Francisco, to which the newlywed Kanes are banished, is never more than Nob Hill. Chicago is The Windy Ciry." Of Washington we learn that Congresswoman Kane "could always go directly to the chamber on the little subway if the weather was inclement.

inclement."
The anthor's straining effort to give the impression of having information is even more evident in the use of famous names. In 1984, for example, Jack Kemp is governor of New York. Matina Horner may be relieved to read she is still president of Raddiffe, but Valerie Giscard d'Estaing. Willy Brandt and Edward Heath may or may not be unreservedly pleased that may not be unreservedly pleased that Florentyna attends their funerals. Even readers who love a plain old

Even readers who love a plain old page-turner demand a touch of original thinking and some useful information (about anything at all: Japanese religion, Cornish tin mining, the Mafia), along with their dose of narrative drive. Most readers will learn almost oothing from "The Prodigal Daughter," not even helpful hints on running a hotel chain or a presidential campaign. Further, there is less real sense of daily life, of how people behave or how a place looks in "The Prodigal Daughter" than in an average issue of People magazine.

A concluding scene shows us Vice

3 673

出他

28E

7 12

JER

A concluding scene shows us. Vice President Florentyna Kane saving Pakistan from the Russians while filling in for a philandering third executive. Florentyna drills the craven secretary of state (who said too hastly that he was in charge) by saying he'd "still be looking for excuses to avoid any confrontation even when the Soviets were marching down Constitution Avenue." Most readers will have a strong sense that they have seen this Situation Room scene before -at the movies. Some readers will find this comforting, many will be bored.

Constance Casey is senior editor of the San Francisco Review of Books. She wrote this review for The Washington

Roman Ship Found Off Italy

The Associated Press
GALLIPOLI, Italy — The well-preserved remains of a wooden Roman ship, possibly from the fourth century B.C., have been found in the Gulf of Taranto, officials reported.

CHESS

By Robert Byrne

FROM at least the early 19th centu I ry, there have been partisans of the knight and partisans of the bishop, but their quarrel cannot be resolved without consideration of the pawn position and the comparative placement of these pieces.

One such confrontation was brought about by the Seattle grand-master Yasser Seirawan in his game with Nigel Short, a British international master, in the third round of the Phillips & Drew International Tournament in London. Here, the knight, reaching B strong outpost, proved superior to a bishop, which though not technically bad, could not find active employment.
Scirawan used the offbeat 3 B-N5 a couple of times in this tournament. probably for the sake of variety.

As early as 9 B-K4, BxB; 10 NxB, it would seem that he had formulated the grand strategy of creating a strong knight versus an ineffective bishop position. But Short never took any precautions: He could have played 13. Q-K1 to keep the white queen out of QB6; later he could have advanced 17. P-OPA to present advanced 17 . . . P-QR4 to prevent the knight's journey to an outpost at

In the position arising after 23 P-K4, it could be seen that Seirawan's knight cramped the black forces. It was noteworthy that Short's bishop, though not blocked by black pawns, nevertheless had no targets to work

On 25 R-KB3, it would have been correct to play 25. R-KBI, so that 26 P-N4, QR-KI would threaten counterplay by 27. PxP; 28 KPxP, R-K5.

Of course, 28 . . . PxBP; 29 R-K1, R-B2; 30 R-K6 would have been unpleasant for Black, but Short's

28. P-K4 was no Rock of Gibraltar either. On 29 R-KN3, the defense with 29. B-R1; 30 R-N6, RxP; 31

RxP, R-Nich; 32 K-R1, R/I-KB1; 33 R-R7ch; R/4-B2; 34 RxRch, RxR; 35 K-N2 does not give Black enough

play for a draw.
Scirawan's 36 R-K4! greatly 28 R-R3 hampered Black's counterplay be 27 NP28 cause it produced the threat of 37 28-22

Position after 45 ... RERP

RxB!, RxR; 38 R-K7ch, forcing main.

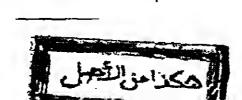

After the ingenious 46 N-R7i, the threat was 47 R-N7ch, forcing mate. Defense by 46 R-R3 with the horrible threat of 48 N-B6 followed by 49 R/4-K8, setting up a mating net.

After 54 P-B6I, defense with 54 R-KB7 would have permitted 55 R-R7ch, K-Q1; 56 R/6-K7, BxP; 57 N-B6ch, K-B1; 58 RxPmate.

On 55 R-R7ch, Short had to lose

On 55 R-R7ch, Short had to lose heavy material by 55 . K-Q1; 56 N-B6ch, K-B1; 57 N-K7ch, K-N2; 58 NxR, RxN: 59 P-B7, so be gave up.

DENNIS THE MENACE

SPORTS

ENSHRINED - From left: Stonewall Jackson, Happy Chandler, Frank Robinson, Hank Aaron.

4 Inducted in Baseball Hall of Fame

Royals Sweep Series From Orioles

United Prest International nal two runs — the first runs with a double and sacrifice fly to KANSAS CITY, Mo. — Hal charged against Martinez since lead Chicago to a 4-2 triumph over Boston.

In Toronto, Lou Whitaker hit a three-run homer, and Lance Parrish added a bases-empty blast en-

Angels 9, Mariners 4

In Anaheim, Calif., Doug De-

Cinces hit a three-run homer in the first inning and Fred Lynn's bases-loaded dooble produced three runs in the second as Califor-

- White Sox 4, Red Sox 2

Major League

Standings

NATIONAL LEAGUE

AMERICAN LEAGUE

98 45 554 — 98 45 562 1 54 44 546 374 51 47 555 4

99 A3 578 — SI A4 569 1 SI 45 545 31/2 99 44 516 7 SI 49 519 7

nia beat Scattle, 9-4.

Tigers 8, Blue Jays 5

AND THE MAN AND TH

of Very

Estang to leath me

touch die

The Pe

TO B kg

Kane e

1305

12 chd 2

the costs

MAN CETA

රෙදා ශ්ර

(euth⊄

 $_{\rm cd}$

A COMPANY

. 101

By Joseph Durso

New York Times Service

COOPERSTOWN, N.Y. — Henry Aaron and Frank Robinson, who hit 1,341 home runs between them, entered baseball's Hall of Fame on Sunday and were honored as pioneers of both social and baseball

They were inducted with Travis (Stonewall) Jackson and A.B. (Happy) Chandler before one of the most imposing groups of old baseball heroes ever as-sembled at the 43-year-old museum. But the focus of the program was the late Jackie Robinson, who was extolled repeatedly as the man who had withstood the pressure and "opened the doors of baseball" to black ballplayers.

Chandler, who succeeded Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis as commissioner in 1945 and was dismissed five years later, sounded the theme when he said: "For 24 years, my predecessor did not let the black man play. If you were black, you didn't qualify. It wasn't entirely his fault. It was what the club own-

Thanks to Door-Openers

Frank Robinson, a power-hitting outfielder for 21 summers and the first black manager in the big leagues, echoed the theme when he said: "I give special thanks to Roy Campanella and Jackie Robinson and the other black players who opened the doors. They put up with an awful lot to open the doors."

Aaron, who broke Babe Ruth's record of 714 home runs and eventually hit 755, added: "I feel proud to be standing here where, a few years ago, Roy Cam-panella and Jackie Robinson made it possible for Frank Robinson and me to follow. They proved to the world that a man's ability is limited only by his iack of opportunity."

The tributes were rendered with directness but without apparent bitterness during two and a half hours of generally sentimental memories. But they evoked repeated applause from 24 men on the dais who had been enshined in the Hall of Fame in past ceremonies, including Joe DiMaggio, who returned for the first time in 27 years, and Campanella, who sat listening in his wheelchair,

If the program contained any surprise, it was probably Aaron's business and mildness. Frank Robinson held the stage for 32 minutes, dining which he thanked immerous relatives and friends for having softened his aggressive nature. But Aaron, who has occasionally accused Commissioner Bowie Kuhn of reach this place."

Jim Palmer cruised into the eighth with a six-hitter and a 2-0 losing streak with an 8-5 victory over Toronto.

lowed a sacrifice fly by Frank White and a single by punch initer two-run homer in the fifth and Steve Hammond to produce the fi-. Ron LeFlore drove in two runs run, eighth-iming outburst Sun-day that gave the Kansas City Royals a 4-2 victory over the Balti-more Orioles and a sweep of their four-game weekend series.

Sunday's Major League Line Scores

BASEBALL ROUNDUP

lead, but the Royals chased him

McRae doubled to lead off the inning. The Orioles summoned Tip-Martinez, who yielded back-to-ck RBI singles to pinch hitter.

Lee May and Jerry Martin to tie

Tim Stoddard relieved and al-

Notes, Le.Spillh (8) and Marghand/ Rulliven, Lyle (5), Painner (6)-Monee (7)-and 8.Diaz, Roberts - (7), W. Holles, 79, L.-Rulliven, 4-9.
HRs—Chicoso, Durtain (14), Philadelphia,
Marthews (16).
San Olea

Cincinnati 971 (07) - 671 7

HRS--Chicoso, Ourtains 114). Philadelichia, Martinews (16). San Olego 133 810 886-8 11 . 3. Cincinnati 971 997 983-6 71 . 7. Curris. Chiffer (4). Del.eon. 19) ond T.Kanstedy: Lethrosoft, Horris (3). Kern (7). Letter (7) and Trevine. Van Gortiet. 19). W-Curris, 7-6. L.—Lethrosoft, 3-7. St. Loois 111 691 600-4 15 1 Montract (5). Reprise. Tenace 18): Reports. Schotzieder (4), Reportor, 7). Frynam (5) and Corter, W-Reprodor, 4-1. L.—Lethi, 2-2. Hill.— St.Loois, K.Hernowicz (4).

Corrier, W.—Regardon, 4—1, 1.—Lofff, 2—2 MR—
$1.Lords, K.Hernondez 61.
Pittaburgh.
One con 200 7—4 11 1
New York.
Inte 101 000 0—3 7 1
Bedimenthen. Guante: (5), Sammlanto (7), Teksiher (9), Saurry (10) and Nicasia. T.Penn
(7): "AlScott, Leach (9) and Hodges. W—Teksiher. 75. 1.—Leach. 11. MR—Pittaburgh, Modified (17).
Los Angeles

22 190 200—3 7 0

Modiscit (17).

Los Araeles

Atlanto

Bockwith, Niedenfuer (4). Strenart (4) and Schwith, Niedenfuer (4). Strenart (4) and Schwith, Niedenfuer (4). Strenart (4) and Schwide, Crow (5): P. Miebro, C.Diez (5), Gorber
(8) and Senedic. W. Stewart 4-6. L.—C.Diez (2).
HR9—Lan Angeles, Batter 2 (20), Guerrero (20).
Atlanto, Chornbles (12).
Som Francisco

170 000 101 2—4 & 9.
Houster

170, Minden 197 and May:
Rvan, LoCorte (19) and Kalcetv. Pufals (8), Ashby (10). W.—Mintor, 7-4, L.—LoCorte. 0-4, HR—Son Francisco, Clork (20).

Toronto 22 00 111-5 10 0-Morrish; Tobik (9) and L.M.Parrish; Leal, R.L.Jackson (4), Garvin (7), Gehel (7) and White: W.—Morris, [2-1]. L.— Leal, 8-8. HRs—Detroit, Wilhales (7), L.M.Parrish (18), Toronto. Possibi 11), Whith (9), Upshow (14).

Sastor (8) 22 08—2 7 1 09 22 18—4 9 1

(First Gome) Teveland : 305 306 100-4 13 0 Whiteon, Selliner, (7), and Hassey: Haus and (Second Game)

Cleveland 000 002 000—2 7 1
Milwoukse 000—2 7 12 5
Anderson, Brennan (4) and Bendo: Sisten,
Bernard (8) and CAlcore, W—Sisten, 8-2. L—

ins, W—Myritson, 2-1. L—Hoos, 8-6. HR—

AMERICAN LEAGUÉ 036 820 210—E 17 0 828 608 117—5 10 0

Burgmeier (7), Aports (8) and I Konsman, Lamp (7) and Hill. W—1, 36. L—Harst, 36. HR—Chicago.

alcofness, spoke for only seven minotes and offered

Two references, though, were made to Kuhn's own struggle to keep his job against the opposition of several owners. In his opening remarks, Kuhn noted that this was the 14th time he had presided at the ceremonies, and said: "Nothing that might happen could tarnish this joy for me.'

The point was picked up by Chandler, an outspo-ken supporter of Kuhn, when he said: "I would hate to see, at this moment in our history, a confrontation between the club owners and the commissioner. He is a man of character and courage. There are people just itching to give you a federal commission if you can't manage your own affairs."

The inductions were beld on a sunny afternoon in the Mohawk country, far from the crowded stadiums where Aaron, Robinson, and Jackson played out

The first to be honored was Jackson, the shortston for the New York Giants from 1922 to 1936 and a veteran of four World Series. Now 78 and living in Waldo, Ark, he recalled the days of Casey Stengel, Frankie Frisch, and Mel Ott, and said:

"John McGraw got a good going-over when be traded Dave Bancroft to Boston, broke up his pennant team, and put this kid at shortstop."

Then it was Chandler's turn. He was introduced as a pioneer who had created the first player pension, signed the first television contract in baseball and night those owners who tried to prevent the Brooklyn Dodgers from playing Jackie Robinson in 1947. A onetime governor of Kentucky and U.S. senator, he is now 84 and living in Versailles, Ky.

Next came Frank Robinson, who hit 586 home, runs, the fourth highest total in history. He was voted the Most Valuable Player in the National League with the Cincinnati Reds in 1961 and in the American League with the Orioles in 1966. He became the first black manager in the majors in 1975 with the Cleveland Indians. Now, at 46, he is the manager of the San Francisco Giants.

The final cheers went to Aaron, the premier homerun hitter in baseball, chiefly for the Milwaukee and Atlanta Braves, and the most valuable player in the National League in 1957. Now 48, he is a vice president of the Braves. Between them, he and Robinson went to bat 22,370 times and made 6,714 hits.
"I grew up," he said, "in a home where there was butle material abundance but much love and discipline. I owe thanks to many people who helped me men's finals.

the best all-around woman swimmer in the world by winning the 400-meter individual medley. She easily outducted Tracy Caul-kins of Tennessee, who shares Schneider's birthday of Jan. 11, utes, 36.10 seconds to lower her own two-year-old world standard by 19 hundredths of a second. Caulkins has been the best allaround American woman Since 1911. Dun time, she has woo a record 39 indi-vidual titles in national champion-

Schneider. She held second place until the freestyle, the final 100-meter leg of the four-stroke event. Then Kathleen Nord of East Germany passed ber to take the silver medal in 4:43.51 as Caulkins fin-

In Arlington, Texas, Dave Hostetler hit two home runs and drove in all four runs to back a combined nine-bitter by Rick Honeycutt and Jon Matlack in the National Football League ATLANTA FALCONS—Signed Gree Fields, Rangers' 4-2 triumph over New

ulians 4, Brewers 1 Brewers 7, Indians 2

Twins 8, A's 7

Brunansky's two-run homer in the seventh put Minnesota shead for good, and Gary Ward hit a home run later in the inning to lead the Twins to an 8-7 triumph over Oak-lead

Rangers 4, Yankees 2

In Oaklaod, Calif., Tom

In Milwankee, Rick Manning's two-run double in the fourth lifted Cleveland to a 4-1 triumph over Milwankee in the first game of a Remose City 100 101 101 10

Secrite 508 008 130—4 9 8 530 918 036—5 13 1 Bords Nelson (11, B.Clork (2), Conditi (3) and Battine; Zohn, Sanciez 16 and Boons, W—Zohn, Ti—5, L—Bords, 0—L HR2—Secrite, Zik (14). Collitorato, Declaras (15).

Minameoto Cottoma 500 008 v02—7 8 2 viola, Pocalia (6). Feitoa (7). Little (3). R.Dovis 19) and Berhero: Norris, Beard (4). Roberts 19) and Roberts 19 drove in two runs to give John Curtis and San Diego an 8-6 victory over Cincinnati.

Cubs 7, Phillies 2

In Philadelphia, Leon Durham hit a two-run home run in the first w L Pet na imning and Dickie Noles hlanked Philadelphia until the eighth, helping Chicago snap an eight-game losing streak with a 7-2 triumpb over the Phillies.

Phrates 4, Mets 3

In New York, Bill Madlock hit a home run with two out in the 10th, carrying Pittsburgh to a 4-3 comeback victory over New York.

Expos 5, Cardinals 4

In Montreal, Jerry White tripled in two runs and Al Oliver singled home another in the seventh to help Montreal post a 5-4 victory

Giants 4, Astros 2

In Houston, Jack Clark hit his 20th home run in the top of the 10th inning to send San Francisco to a 4-2 triumph over Houston. Wintless 32 Edmonton 26 is coming" in an interview Sunday, that ac-tions against clubs — "from bolding up a sign to sbutting down a game" — could start players want it, but the New York Jets will become the symbol this week of the overall power struggle between owners and union that bas consumed professional football. The Jets, whose spectacular free safety, Darrol Ray, was refusing to report Monday night as ordered, also symbolize the bizarre situation that arises when professional athletes are unionized. Although there have been changes among player representatives and alternates oo five clubs since the seasoo ended, the Jets are the only team in the sport without union leadership. Greg Buttle, their player representa-tive, has quit. Earlier, his assistants, first Joe Klecko and then Ken Schroy, also resigned.

By Gerald Eskenazi New York Times Service

All three are polite when discussing the National Football League Players Associa-tion and its leader, Ed Garvey. But they have told friends and teammates that they disagree with Garvey on some points, and they are weary of the confrontation politics that seem to have become part of the sport.

Jack Donlan, the chief negotiator for the owners, virtually threatens a lockout before the first game if there is no contract by the time the regular season starts. Why would management do it then?

Donlan explains that the owners do not want to put mooey in the players' pockets. allowing them to ride out a strike, by starting the season. That is what happened to isebali last year.

Since football players are paid on a prorated basis after each game, players would receive one-sixteenth of their salary — an average of about $5,500 apiece — after the players. They must make the team each year. When you read that in 1980 that Ray

Meanwhile, Garvey revealed "the crunch NEW YORK - Neither management nor within two weeks, when the first exhibition games begin This is behind the Jets' fears, at least as expressed by their quarterback, Richard

COMMENTARY

Like many of his teammates, Todd believes that the Jets are Super Bowl contenders. They do not want problems. They do not want the angry locker-room shouting that infected the club in a 1975 pre-season Garvey, of course, is sensitive to this. He has heard it before.

"At this time of year," Garvey says, "everyone thinks they can win the Super Bowl. would think the Cincinnati Bengals would be equally concerned. And if the Jets win the Super Bowl and they get injured along the way, whn's going to take care of them? There are certain priorities in life."

But as long as some players feel they are not getting as much as they are worth, while others are afraid that union job action will curtail their earnings, football will never have its "priorities" quite right.

Pro football must share the blame in this situation. It has a shameless system of signing youngsters to multiyear "one-year" con-tracts that produce absolutely on benefit to signed a series of one-year contracts, it means that each year be must make the club. He is not protected for 1984 if be suffers a career-ending injury today. Yet, if players' performances rise above their contract, as happened with Ray, they are stuck with salaries they agreed to years before. That is the major reason that the Jets who pride themselves on tidy bousekeeping - were faced with the prospect of their first oo-show veteran in years Monday night. Ray is remaining home rather than play for third-year money of his five-year contract that keeps him below $100,000.

There are other undercurrents here, too -revealing the anomaly of sports unionism. Todd is earning a quarter of a million dol-lars a year. Why should he want a strike? Why should Buttle and Klecko, also six-figure players, want a strike?

And oow, contends Schroy, nn one on the team will want the job of union representa-tive because of the lear of reprisal by managment - that is, that the Jets will kick the union man off the team.

"The Jets did it to Burgess and they did it

Clark," notes one player who, of course, did not want his name used

He was talking of Burgess Owens and Clark Gaines, who preceded Buttle. I do oot believe the Jets traded Owens because — as Garvey suggests - Owens was on the unioo committee investigating alleged racism in the NFL. He was traded minutes after the Jets acquired Ray in the draft. And I do oot think they waived Gaines because be was a Confusion in the NFL With Training Under Way They believe it even though Jim Kensil, the club president, told Schroy that the Jets needed a player representative. Indeed, Kensil himself needs a player representative so that the communication lines can be kept between players and front office. And Kensil insists he had a fine relationship with Owens and Gaines. There is oo reason to

Kensil, though, is also remembered by some players for saying that "freedom of speech doesn't give you carte blanche to knock your employer."

The Jets will hold a team meeting Tuesday night to vote on a new union delegate to replace Buttle, and Garvey will send someone down from the union's Washington headquarters to try in ease the players' fears.

On Thursday, perhaps, Garvey also will meet with Donlan in the next round of talks - talks that have gone on since February, continued past the end of the current contract in mid-July, and produced not an inch

How can it if they cannot even agree where in meet? Garvey wants the next session to be ocar a training-camp site — say, Latrobe, Pa., where the Steelers train — so that the players can attend the talks.

But as far as Donlan is concerned, the next meetings are supposed to take place in Manhattan. And Donlan does oot waver. The danger that the Jets - and so many other teams in pro football - face this week is disruption, name-calling, I'm-a-better-union-man-than-you-are. A strange thing is happening in the sport: the players are arguing oot over the issues but over themselves.

SPORTS BRIEFS East German Swimmers Excel Early

GUAYAQUIL, Ecuador — Petra Schneider set a world record in the 400-meter individual medley as East Germans won the first two women's events at the World vimming Championships Sunday

Brigit Meineke, the East German who set a meet record of 55.34 seconds in her preliminary race Sunday morning, won the women's 100 freestyle gold medal with a time of 55.79 in the final.

Meineke, 18, edged silver medalist Annemarie Verstappen of the Netherlands by eight hundredths of a second, while Jill Sterkel of California captured the bronze.

Steve Luodquist of Georgia captured 100-meter breaststroke title bot Michael Gross of West Germany upset the world-record hold-Rowdy Gaines of Florida, in the 200-meter freestyle in the first

Schneider staked a firm claim as Schneider was timed in 4 minship meets.

ished in 4:44.64 for the bronze. Lundquist, second in the prelim-

Transactions

ATLANTA BRAVES—Activated ATLANTA BRAVES—Activated Terry Harper, outlietder and sent Ken Doyley, Pitcher te Richmond of the International league, PITTSBURGH PIRATES—Staned John
Alliner, outlielder first basemen, Proced Dove
Perker, outlielder, on the 15-day disobled list.
POOTBALL
National Football League
ATLANTA FALCONS—Staned

ATLANTA PALCONS—Signed Gree Printed Gefersive and,
CLEVELAND BROWNS—Walved Phil Davis, running books, Kenf Dovis, Davy Johnson, and Lind Murray, cornerbooks; Marcos McKinnie, defensive books; Rodney Thomas, fullbooks; Eddis Cole, linebooker; and Craig Chrest, wide

Eddia Cola, linebocker; and Crais Chrest, wide receiver.

IENVER BRONCOS—Walved Devid Barbour and Bab Linewski, light mass: Afte Smith, sunter; Afte Detended, Scott Boucher, Ron Marsh, Paul Gilbow, Tom Brannon, Ron Hale, Ken Armbrust and Bill Lone, offensive tinemen; Joe Saneshole, running bock; Terry Elston end Alerv Lopes, wide receivers; Steve Stomp and John Quinn, estarterbocks; Ryck Suydom, Kelth John Quinn, estarterbocks; Ryck Suydom, Kelth John Quinn, estarterbocks; Ryck Suydom, Kelth Allory, defensive linemen; Drew Coleman and Kyte Whittingham, Insubockers; and Arithany Thomas, Guy Ramsey, Kelty Miller, Eddie Geothers, Emmuel Thompson and Mike Dovis, defensive backs, Classified Rick Lindblad, running back, os "reserved-futured." Placest Jarvis Coursey, linebocker, on the reserve list, Signed Steve Foley, safety, to a series of ene-year contract. KANSAS CITY CHIEFS—Announced the retirement of George Stewart, sourd, Cut Lyndle Byford, tackler, Jerome Bearden and Jomes Mobley, defensive backs; Don Birdsey, punter; Dontay Clark, wide receiver; Alike Ditchfield, kicker; Gree Hopensen and Alike Phillips, Hohrests: George Kalshone, offensive backs; Eric John V. Lart, wear respect; house proclimate, licker fores Hopenson and Abita Phillips. Hoht ends; Garry Kuhiman, offensive tackle; Eric Lone, Robert Purcham and Joe Yocavitch, Inschackers; Rick Olive and Jeff Stenslakken, defensive ends; Chris O'Nell, suard; and Seon weeks, running back. Placed John Bungariz, Inschacker, en leiused Sesses. cornerbook.

NEW IIRLEANS SAINTS—Acculred Whitner

Peul, linebocks: It on the a page of the a page of the choice. philLADELPHIA EAGLES—Released Steve Dudes, running back, and Terry Guirin, carrier. Annionical the retirement of Claude Humshrey,

SAN FRANCISCO WERS-Troded Archie Reese, were trickle, to the Konaca City Chiefs for a 1983 draft pick, Wolved Craig Puki and John Gloss, finebockers, and Myron Bell, running

Cossery assisted general monoper.
Categories Football Laupee
MONTREAL CONCORDES—Released Draw
Taylor, defensive end: James Marsholl, sefensive bock; and Robert Goines, wide receiver. Placed Bill Nation, offensive guard, on the 46-day injured list.

inaries as Victor Davis of Canada set a meet record of 1:03.06, had a excellent start io the cuba; 10-8; to also remain unbeatent. breaststroke finals. He harely beld The Soviet Union, West Germaoff Davis to break the hours-old meet mark with a time of 1:02.75. ny. Yugoslavia and Hungary won their round-robin groups with 3-0 records, while the Netherlands, the Davis took the silver medal, while John Moffet of California was United States and Cuba stayed in contention for a medal with 2-I Gross out-touched Gaines to marks. Spain is also a medal con-tender with a 2-1 record. win the 200 freestyle in 1:49.84. Gaines seemed to have the upper hand going into the final 25 me-ters, but the West German finished

China, Australia, Italy, France are 1-2, and New Zealand, Egypt, Greece and Canada were without a victory in the preliminaries and were eliminated from medal contention in the oext round.

Greg Longanis of California was the top qualifier for the finals in the men's springboard diving ehampionship. Longanis, 21, col-lected 687.33 points in two rounds of preliminary dives. Eleven other divers also qualified for Monday's

U.S. Clay Court Tournament Begins Without Top Players only other three-time winners since

INDIANAPOLIS - Catherine Bill Tilden put together a six-year Tanvier and Susan Mascarin streak that ended in 1927. launched the 1982 U.S. Open Clay Court tennis championships with well to nip the American by eight hundredths of a second. Jorg

Woithe of East Germany was the

The Soviet Union, meanwhile, defeated the United States, 8-5, to remain imbeaten at the end of the round-robin water polo competition at the World Aquatic Games

Sunday. In other matches, Yugo-slavia edged the Netherlands, 7-6;

West Germany overwhelmed New bronze medalist.

victories Sunday.

Tanvier, the No. 9 seed from France, and Mascarin, the 13th seed from Detroit, both needed three sets to post victories in the first round of the women's singles competition at the Indianapolis Sports Center.

Tanvier ousted Mareella Skuherska of Czechoslovakia, 6-0, 5-7, 6-1. Mascarin beat Beth Norton of Connecticut, 6-1, 3-6, 6-3. No other seeds were in action during the 11 women's singles match-

The men were wrapping up qualifying and will begin play Monday. The men's championship match, worth $40,000 to the winner, is scheduled for next Sun-

Guillermo Vilas, top-seeded as he seeks his first victory in the tournament in nine tries, was to play John Levine of Phoenix in one of Monday night's matches.

José-Luis Clerc is trying to become the first person to win three by Riggs accomplished the feat from 1936 to 1938. Jimmy Connors and Manuel Orantes are the

ESCORTS & GUIDES

The women's field lacks a defending champion. Andrea Jaeger, who defeated Virginia Ruzici last year's title match, chose in-stead to participate in an eightplayer event in Australia. Chris Evert-Lloyd, a five-time winner here, and Martina Navratilova also went to Australia, where Evert-Lloyd woo the title and $80,000 on

So Ruzici is the top-seeded woman here for the $27,500 winner's purse. Kathy Rinaldi is sceded second, followed by Zina Garrison, Bonnie Gadusek, Pam Casale, JoAnne Russell, Helena Sukova and Duk Hee Lee.

Ticket sales have still been good," said Stan Malless, the tour-nament director. "Even without Jimmy Connors and John McEnroe, we have a very strong men's Clerc is seeded second, followed by Mats Wilander, the 17-year-old Swede who has rapidly climbed op the world rankings with victories in the French and Swedish Opens. Peter McNamara, José Higueras, Andres Gomez, Mel Purcell and Balazs Taroczy round out the top eight seedings in the men's

Women's Long Jump Mark Set Twice

BUCHAREST - Two Romanian athletes broke the world record for the women's long jump in rapid succession here Sunday night with Vali lonescu leaping 7.20 meters. Ionescu's performance, at the Romanian National Athletic Championships, followed only a few minutes after Anisoara Cusmir had jumped 7.15 meters, surpassing the previous record of 7.09 meters held by Wilma Bardauskene of the Soviet Union.

Ionescu, who woo bronze medals at this year's European Indoor Athletic Championships in Milan and at the World University Games in Bucharest last year, said afterwards: "I am happy, It was difficult when Anisoara reached 7.15 meters, because I had only one attempt left. I think I made a perfect jump."

Lendl, Higueras Reach Tennis Final

NORTH CONWAY, N.H. — Ivan Lendl, shooting for his 10th title this year, defeated Jose-Luis Clerc, 6-4, 2-6, 6-4, and Jose Higueras, seeking his second championship, routed Peter McNamara to advance Sunday to the final of a Grand Prix tennis tournament here. Lendl, defeating Clerc for the fourth straight time in the last 51 weeks, once again relied on his powerful serve and accurate groundstroke in the two-hour and 15-minute match. He went into Mooday's final with a 3-0 record against Higneras.

Noah, Ruzici Triumph in New Jersey

SOUTH ORANGE, N.J. - Yannick Noah fought off a tenacious second-set challenge to defeat Ranl Ramirez, 6-3, 7-6, and win a clay-court tournament. "My serve is really good now. I know how to use it," said Noah, who won the final six points of the tiebreaker.

In the women's final, Virginia Ruzicl rebounded to beat Leigh Thompson, 5-7, 6-2, 6-2, in a two-hour and 10 minute duel. Ruzici, who lost in the final a year ago, played an excellent attacking game and pressed her 18-year-old opponent with strong forehand shots during the

In Rancho Bernardo, Calif., top-seeded Tracy Austin defeated Kathy Rinaldi, 7-6, 6-3, to win this tournament for the fourth time in the four years it has existed and earn the top prize of $22,000.

Lietzke Captures Canadian Golf by 2

OAKVILLE, Ontario - Bruce Lietzke shot a 73 and, despite struggling over the final seven holes, held on for a two-stroke victory Sunday in the Canadian Open golf championship.

In this victory, the ninth of his career, Lietzke finished with a 72-hole total of 277, seven strokes under par oo the 7,060-yard Glen Abbey Golf Club course. The triumph was worth $76,500 from the total purse of $425,000 and pushed Lietzke's season's earnings to $206,303.

Hal Sutton, a former U.S. amateur champion and in his first full season on the pro tour, finished second at 279. He matched par 71 over the final 18 holes. Tommy Valentine shot a 74 and wound up in a tie for third at 280 with Charles Coody, who closed with four-under-par 67.

Plans Laid for Moscow Grand Prix

LONDON — Bernie Ecclestone, president of the Formula One Constructors Association, said he is going to the Soviet Union soon to discuss plans for a Grand Prix auto race in Moscow oext year.

Plans for a Moscow Grand Prix have met with favorable reactions so far and I am going to Russia in a couple of weeks to sort a few things out" Ecclestone said.

The race, which would be the first Formula One world championship event to be staged in Eastern Europe, is tentatively scheduled for next August. The cars will not be routed around the Kremlin or through Red Square. No Soviet drivers would take part because none are employed by any of the teams on the world championship circuit.

Compiled From Agency Dispatches

ESCORTS & GUIDES

IN PERSONAL A PLANTA	CERTIFICATE :	DD AD TELLA
INTERNATIONAL	(Cor	CACHET U.S.A.
ESCORT SERVICE	700000000000000000000000000000000000000			ESCORT SERVICE NEW YORK 212-242-0838 or
U.S.A. Headquarters N.Y.C.	ESCORTS & GUIDES	ESCORTS & GUIDES	ESCORTS & GUIDES	212-874-1310 MIAMI, FLORIDA 305-944-5683 FTLAUDERDALE, FLA. 305-962-5477
212-765-7896	CONTACTA INTERNATIONAL	LONDON	LONDON RITZ	Other major cities available.
212-765-7754	Escort Service in Europa:		ESCORT AGENCY	Other region ches available.
Chicago Branch	GERMANY: 06103-86122 Frankfurt - Wiesbaden - Mainz - Cologne - Sonn - Duesselderf -	Portman Escort Agency	435 9713 - 752 7132
312-861-0465	Essen - Sertin - Hombury	67 Chiltern Street, London Wil	12 NOON - 12 MIDNIGHT	LONDON - CHEISEA GRIL Scort Service, 51 Beauchamp Place, London 5W3. Tel: 01 584 6513/2749, 4-12 pst.
Escorts available to travel anywhere nationally or internationally. MAJOR.	Stattgart - Munich	TEL: 486 2724 or 486 1158	ZURICH	5W3. 1ek 01 584 6513/2/49, 4-12 pm.
	SWITZERLAND: 0049-6102-86122 Zurich - Basel - Lucerne - Berne -	LONDON	ZORICH	RANKRET
CREDIT CARDS	Lausenne - Geneva.	LONDON	Vanessa Escort Service	Jennifer's Escort Service 0611-686482.
ACCEPTED	ITALY: 0049-6103-86122 Rome-Milen	KENSINGTON	TEL: 01/47 02 12 - 69 22 45
This award-winning service has been featured as the top 2 most	BELGIUM. 0049-6103-86122	ESCORT AGENCY		Heathrow, 9 cm-10 pm, 01-754 0568
isses featured as the top 2 most exclusive Essert Service by USA 2 informational news medic including radio and TV.	Brussels - Antwerp.	10 KENSINGTON CHURCH ST, WE	AMSTERDAM inducing radio and TV.	HOLLAND: 020-436956 Amsterdam-Hague-Rotterdam.		JUNIO I EREJEVI	GENEVA V.I.P. Service.
CARRICE	ENGLAND: Lendon 01-628 7969		* SHE * ESCORT SERVICE Tel; 222940	Noon to midnight. Tel: 41 20 36.
CAPRICE	OTHER EEC CAPITALS			FRANKFURT ESCORT SERVICE NOOT
ESCORT SERVICE	Tel: Germany 0-6103-86122		EVASION	Frankfurt girport, For men & women. Tel: 06171-73909.
-SCOK! SERVICE		BELGRAVIA	MADRID	VENNA - EXCLUSIVE Escort Service. Tel: 47-74-61.
IN NEW YORK	A-AMERICAN ESCORT SERVICE • ESCORTS NY &	Escert Service. Tel: 736 5877.	Multilingual Escart & Guide Service. Tel: Modrid 261 41 42 - 261 43 25.	BRUSSELS MARTINE ESCORT SERVICE
				Tel 428 01 42. VERNIA ETCILE ESCORT SERVICE.
TEL: 212-737 3291	EVERYWHERE	LONDON OXFORD ST ESCORT SERVICE	• ZURICH - GENEVA •	Tel: 56 78 55 VIENNA HARMONY ESCORT Service.
	YOU AREOR GO			Tel: 02244-2418. MADRID RUTH ESCORT SERVICE.
IONIDON	America-Transworld	Tel: 01 582 2408	408 Omega Escart Service Germany	TEL: 247 27 92.
LONDON	212-591-2934	LONDON & HEATHROW	TEL: 0049-6103-82048	MADRID UA ESCORT SERVICE Tel: 7660580-2509472 Credit Cords
	212-461-6091			FRANKFURT-SONUA Escort Servica. Tel: 0611/686562
SLOANE	212-961-1945	* ALEXANDRIA *	LONDONMARHABA	HAMBURG ESCORT SERVICE. Tal.
ESCORT SERVICE		Escort Service	ESCORT AGENCY	040/410-5238 or 410-3906 FEANISTURY CANDY ESCORT Service.
TEL: (01) 437 8702 OR: (01) 437 6629	Telephone write POB 176, Fresh Meadows, NY 11365, USA	LONDON	TEL: 01 727 8693	Tel 0611 - 55 72 10. FRANKFURT - KAREN Escort Service.
		794 5218 - 794 2901	AMERICA	Tel 0611-681662
London - French Connection	DONNA EVITA		AMSTERDAM	GENEVA JADE DOMINA ESCORT Service. Tel: 022/31 95 09
Escort Service. Exclusive London & Heathrow. Tel: (01) 286 6528.	A RECORT AGENCY	LONDON WEST ESCORT SERVICE.	ESCORT GUIDE SERVICE SINCE 1973 Tel: 247731.	IONDON JACQUELINE Excert Service. Tel: (01) 402 7949.
				EXECUTIVE CLASS OF LONDON Escort Service, Tel: 262 3108.
GENEVA-EXCLUSIVE	AMSTERDAM	Tel: 01 747 3304.	ZURICH SOME ESCORT SERVICE	LONDON JANE FSCORT SERVICE Wast End/Heathrow, 01 286 5679
Escort Service. Afternoon & Evening. Tel: 22/21 79 29				LONDON Maria Claims Escart Security
	TEL: 258633		TEL: 01/202 68 93	Tel: 235 1863 or 370 6573 AMSTERDANLIB Escort Service.
ROME EUROPE Club Excort & Guide Service, Tel: 06/589 2604 - 589 1146	CREDIT CARDS ACCEPTED	AMSTERDAM * ANGEL * ESCORT Service. Tel: 852257; Regio Airport,	LONDON CHANTELE Excert Service.	ZZZ/85 Buiten Wieringenstraat, 3 - 5. ZURICH, VIP ESCORT SERVICE: Tel:
00 10 1		and 104144 County County County	Tal. /13 600 7400	057/33 18.74-1 (30cm-1cm & cd.4cm)

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Chaperoning Congress

WASHINGTON — The latest problem that will guarantee that publicity concerning rumors of congressional shenanigans with Capitol Hill pages and drugs has caused some serious soul searching in Washington. There has been an outcry for greater supervision of young pages in their off hours. Right now these 15- and 16-year-olds are more or less on their own, when them. They live where they want to and do what can get them in all kinds of trou-

they are not working, and noworking, and no-body seems re-sponsible for them. They live they want, which Buchwald

While Congress is prepared to change the rules concerning supervision of the pages, no one has got-ten to the real root of the problem - and that is, who will supervise the legislators? It's quite clear that if you transplant 535 middle-aged congressmen and women to a big congressmen and women to a big city like Washington, and give them $60,000 a year to spend, and don't oversee their leisure time, some of them are bound to get into

There are several solutions to the

Skeletons Found In Embrace Near China Silk Route

The Associated Press PEKING - Two 3.000-year-old skeletons, one tightly hugging the other's neck, have been found in the Xinjiang region of northwest China near the route of the early silk trade with central and western Asia, the Chinese news agency reported Monday.

It did not offer any explanation for the hugging skeletons, which were found in a cemetery of more than 150 tombs that may have been used by a minority tribe.

The remains of slaves who appeared to have been buried alive were also found in the tomb with the two skeletons, the agency said. It said the number of people in one tomb ranged from one to eight. Some were buried in layers, with the primary occupant at the bottom wearing bronze earrings, bone beads on the hands and agate beads on the ankles.

AMERICA CALLING

KAW38AS RWG44AZ MBK26CH GB29CN DOD2914, Travelers' mes-soges, Write Box 6262, Olympia, WA 98502, USA.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

SUBSCRIBE TO

THE WALL STREET

JOURNAL

INTERNATIONAL AIR EDITION

these people will not be left to their own devices after work hours. One suggestion is that Congress build male and female dormitories on the mall where they would have to live while they are in session. The dormitories would provide television, game rooms, lectures and other recreational activities to keep the congressmen's and women's minds busy during their off hours. Housemothers would be hired to run the dorms and make sure they made their beds and did their homework.

only in the public rooms down-

On weekdays all legislators would have to be in bed by 10 p.m. with lights out by 10:30, except during filibusters and special occasions such as the State of the Union address by the president.

on weekends to campaign for re-

Anyone caught with alcohol or pot in the dorms could lose his free mail privileges for a month. If the offense were repeated he would be suspended from Congress, until he brought a note from his constituents saying he would never do it

So that life would not get boring

tions in the beginning. But in the long run they'll be grateful that we kept them from all the temptations Washington that dangles in front of those who make the laws of the

© 1982, Los Angeles Times Syndicate

Taking the Waters Soviet Style

By Serge Schmemann New York Times Service

COCHI, U.S.S.R. — The paims, O glittering sea and scented air speak of languid leisure. But vacationing Russians here are just as likely to be talking of sulfur baths and physiotherapy.

To the tens of thousands of people who descend on Sochi in organized droves, the prescribed 24-day stay is hardly meant to be all sun and fun. That may be the fashion in the capitalist West, but here the goal is to refurbish and regenerate the body and mind of the working masses.

Following Lenin's decree in 1919 that "localities with curative properties are the property of the people and are to be used for curative purposes," Sochi has harnessed its spectacular subtropical coastline to exactly that end.

Accordingly, the neoclassical palaces nesiled in the jush hillsides are sanatoriums with names "Metallurg" or "Dzerzhin-the first chief of the secret police); the Roman-style baths over the putrid bydrogen-sulfide springs at nearby Matsesta dispense millions of curative treatments, and 2,500 doctors tend to the aches and pains of 4 million people a year.

"We produce nothing except health," said Vladimir I. Yarysh of the city council. He traced the development of Sochi from a malarial swamp at the turn of the century to a resort capable of handling 90,000 people at a time and now expanding its services to take twice that many.

Sochi is hardly alone. The Black Sea coast and the Caucasus Mountains in the interior are dotted with sanatoriums, many the former estates of noblemen.

Medical treatment must rank among the most popular of organized Soviet vacation activities, and Russians often profess wonderment that Americans do not share their faith in sulfurous muds and radioactive springs.

Soviet officials attribute the spread of sanatoriums to the government's concern for the welfare of the working man. A brochure on the Matsesta waters says the curative properties of the smelly springs have long been known, but only after the advent of Soviet power were these properties used therapeutically to the advan-tage of millions of people."

It is a fact, also repeatedly underlined, that treatment at a sanstorium costs a worker, at most, about $65. Most of the vacation expense, and usually the fare to Sochi and back, is paid by the la-bor unions, to which most of the sky" (after Felix E. Dzerzhinsky, seems to be in the Soviet character. There is something about treatment based on mineral springs, sun and air that appeals to a Russian proclivity for folk cures and natural medicines.

The popularity of the spas

Doctor monitors pulse of patient taking a sulfur-water bath.

At the Matsesta springs, Dr. Alina A. Kibzun presides over Bathhouse 4, whose Corinthian columns, marbled halls and classic friezes are balanced by ordinary bathtubs in which patients soak in greenish, stinking waters. The name of the sanatorium derives from the local word for "firewater" because the hydrogen-sulfide waters tend to turn the skin a rosy red.

The variety of treatments de-scribed by Kibzun seem as vast as her faith in their efficacy. Cardiovascular and nervous problems, arthritis, rheumatism, skin diseases, lumbago and gynecological complaints all benefit from the stimulative action of the springs, she said.

We have used the waters to help retard baldness. In fact, we have found that they even cure infertility. Of 63 women we studied in 1981, 21 became pregnant after treatment in the baths."

Relaxing Prophylaxis

The effect, she agreed, may have been due as much to the generally relaxing atmosphere of the resort as to any chemical ac-In the same spirit, a game of tennis in the language of the spa becomes a session of sport therapy, and a dip in the sea followed sunbathing is prescribed as a part of "climate therapy."

Dr. Vladimir N. Sarmakeshev, the head physician at Sochi's imperially appointed Metallurg

natorium, introduced visitors to another form of treatment. The paths through the lavish gardens, he said, are carefully rated ac-cording to length and grade, and patients are prescribed a precise program of strolls — a procedure known as "terrain cure. To take advantage of the beneficial effects of sleeping by the sea

— a treatment that Sarmakeshev said bad shown excellent results - the Metallurg supplies patients with an "aerarium," a lounging deck extending over the water.

At Pyatigorsk, a resort in the northern Caucasus whose springs and muds were renowned in the 19th century and drew the likes of Tolstoy and Pushkin, Dr. Ar-menak V. Virabov has spent a currentists have concluded it is good part of his 86 years devising equipment for the "inhalatorium" he directs. Here patients breathe in atomized mineral waters, or sit in rooms inundated by thick vapors, or spray fine showers of water onto their necks.

Virabov spoke with an almost religious awe of the water he penses: "This is living water, and for us it is terribly important that we do not change it, that we do not alter the quality of the wa-ter we receive. Mineral water is a very delicate medicine, requiring very careful treatment."

Mazi-Order Muck

The real pride of Pyatigorsk, though, is its mud — an infinite supply of oily, malodorous black muck from Lake Bolshoi Tambukan. Pyatigorsk ships it as far as Moscow, according to Dr. Yelena A. Chibulova, deputy director of the institution where the stuff is dispensed. She said the mud is effective for colitis, an inflamation of the large intestine, to which the silt is applied directly through a rather unpleasant procedure.

A tour of the Caucasus gives evidence of the variety of waters deemed curative. Pyatigorsk alone has 40 hot and cold springs, 30 of which are used for treat-

Nearby, at Kislovodsk, whose name means "sour waters," some Soviet leaders reputedly come to take the waters. But Stalin is said to have preferred his native Georgia, especially the radon springs at Tskhaltubo.

There, Bathhouse 9 still displays a frieze of Stalin receiving the adulation of adoring citizens. And in one of the ornate building's wings, a private chamber with a sunken pool done in mosa-ics with horseshoe crab motifs is pointed out to newcomers: It was where he bathed in 1951.

The radioactive waters seem to be a source of particular pride for Nikolai Y. Georgevich of the Institute of Health Resorts and Physiotherapy in Pyatigorsk.

The water reduces pain, soothes the overwrought, stimulates the placid, regulates blood flow, reduces swelling and has an anesthetic effect," he said. "Of course, we have not studied all its possibilities, but experience eaves no doubt that it works. I know Western Europeans are afraid it may cause cancer, but

AU PAIR LORIDON, Diplometic family requires bilingual au pair for 2 children (11 & 7) + large day, For 6 months member from Sopt. Own room, both, TV, weekends free, interview Parts 7th September, Write L. Schutz, Australian High Commission, The Strand, London WC, 1.

The Strand, London W. 1.
POUR SRIVE. Cherche un Americain Au Poir sachont condure Marcedes, s'accupent un pou de l'apportement, un peu de cuisine. Ecrine pour rensaignements, avec photo - Comp-bett, Le Chambord, 19100 Brive, France

POSITIONS WANTED

Driving to Peking

lution have arrived in the Chinese capital in a car, three vans, a station wagon and a small truck. The drive - a test run for a planned car rally next spring — covered long stretches of Chinese countryside where foreigners probably have not been seen since at least the Communist victory in 1949. The group accidentally ran down three chickens, and had 10 flat tires but no major breakdowns. Phil Taylor, executive director of the Hong Kong Automobile Association and an organizer of the rally, said he was now sure the rally would be a great success. The team left Hong Kong on July 23 and drove 2,050 miles (3,280 kilometers). Taylor said that the Chinese government had cooperated in the test run and that the team was accompanied by officials from each province who save advice on local conditions. He said the rally will take much the same route, avoiding major cities. The raily, to involve about 160 vehicles, will probably be shorter and less arduous than the annual East Africa Safari, Taylor said.

Bo Derek and Miss Piggy didn't make it, but Raquel Welch and TV actresses Linda Evans and Morgan Fairchild did. The actresses are on Harper's Bazaar's list of the 10 most beautiful American women of 1982, chosen by the magazine's of 1982, chosen by the magazine's editors. Other winners are Elizabeth McGovern, who starred in "Ordinary People" and "Ragtime"; Cathy Moriarty Dana, who was Robert DeNiro's co-star in "Raging Buil" and the only repeater from last year's list; Luren a too model for 16 years. Hinton, a top model for 16 years; the actress Katharine Ross; the models Iman and Christia Brinkley; and the actress-model Isabelia Rossellini, daughter of Ingrid Berg-man and the director Roberto Ros-

Kholed Ahmed Hassan, a 21year-old Egyptian from Cairo who has only one leg has swum the English Channel from Dover to Cap Gris-Nez in 12 hours. 39 minutes, British sports officials said.

Alexander M. Haig Jr. said "No thanks" to a lecture tour that promised to earn him $1 million in one year telling why he resigned as

LOW COST FLIGHTS

PARIS - NEW YORK: F1200. (Under

PARTS - New YORKS # 2002. (Crosses Certain Conditions). NEW YORK - LOS ANGELES: $149. Contact your Parts U.S. Agent. Tel. 225 92 90 Parts. NEW YORK One way $ 240. Confirmed Seats from Landon. (01) 437 54 92 UK.

HOTELS RESTAURÂNTS

NIGHT CLUBS

AUSTRIA

VENINA Bottomhousel Dr. Kerl Luege Ring 12 Austrian & Int'l Specialises

GREAT BRITAIN

HE GASLIGHT OF ST JANIEUR of the state of th

box, restauron, dozens of doncechie composions, terbalizing Cobaret acts. Hoppy hour 8 - 9 pm. If required, such Hoppy hour 8 - 9 pm. If required, such Breach Breach Breach and tax. Entrance fee 5.575 (5.5 refunded to disense ordering before 9 pm). Open Mon - Fri, 8 pm. - 2 cm. Soi, 9 pm. - 2 cm. 4 Dates of York Street, SWI. Tel: 01-930 1648/4950.

U.S.A.

TUDOR HOTEL, 304 East 42ad St., New York City, in fashionable, East Side Manhatron, 14 black from 414, Single from 430; doubles from 466. Teleso 422951, Tel: 800-522-7558

The

AUTO SHIPPING

BOATS AND RECREATIONAL VEHICLES

DESEL MOTOR BOAT - good five-

LEGAL SERVICES

LIS TAX, VISA & IMMIGRATION Consultants USA, 91 Fbg St. Horone, Paris Ba. Tol: 266 90 75, This 642066 F.

SERVICES

YOUNG GERMAN LADY, PR & travel companion to accompany you carywhere in Europe. Tel: Germany (0) 5085-7901.

5085-7901.

TORYO. Young lody as private fourist guide for executives. Tel. 407-4413

YOUNG LADY INTERPRETER 8 movel companion, Paris. Tel. 633 68 07.

PE YOUNG LADY, hillingued, excellent appearance, Paris 527 01 93.

PARIS - YOUNG LADY P.R. Companion. Excellent appearance. 53 62 62.

YOUNG TOURIST GUESE / interpreter in Paris. Tel. 721 53 88.

HOLIDAYS & TRAVEL

Cruise in Elegance

to the GREEK ISLANDS,

EGYPT, ISRAEL & TURKEY

CHOICE OF 7-4-3-1 DAY CRUSES out of Athens (Pirosus).

ABOARD THE MODERN LIDKURY SHE'S JUPITER, JASON, ATLAS, METTUNE, HERMES.

EPIROTIKI LINES

I.S. CHIMPIAL LAWYER expe In successfully constring North Americans arrested in Europe. Cell or write. Robert M. Austrad Est., 204 E. Main. St., Meriden, CT 06450, U.S.A. Tel: 203-238-0808.

The first foreigners to drive to President Reagan's secretary of Peking since the Communist revostate, according to a private newsletter. White House Weekly says Haig did, however, accept a book contract that is worth "well into six figures and thus will probably make $1 million" out of his 18 months of running the State Department ... Henry A. Kiss-inger can add the Rotary Chib of Woodstock, Vt., to his lengthy Who's Who entry. The former secretary of state was inducted into the group as an honorary member while staying at a local inn. Club members said they invited him to a meeting, and he obliged with a short, imprompts speech on for-eign policy, then joined in a club sing-along. "He spoke for about four or five minutes and was very upbeat," said the club's president, Himn Sisco.

> The country singer Johnny Pay-check was hauled off to a rare predawn hearing and forced by a court to agree to hand over more than $32,000 sought under a 114year-old North Carolina law. Paycheck, best known for the song "Take This Job and Shove It," was detained over a legal battle with a Goldsboro, N.C., man who sued him for failure to appear at a 1979 charity concert. Paycheck, 42, was arrested in Raleigh, N.C., after a club performance. He was released by Superior Court Judge Edwin Preston Jr. after a bail bondsman guaranteed payment of the $26,000 civil judgment plus $6,219 in interest and court costs if the singer defaults. A lawyer trying to collect the money for John Stackhouse of Goldsboro turned to an 1868 state law that allows authorities to arrest a person who owes a judgment if they believe the person plans to leave the state without paying. The attorney, Mark Kirby, said his cli-ent lost $26,605 in out-of-pocket. expenses when Paycheck did not show up for the charity concert for the North Carolina Burn Cemer.

Vienam has decided to confer its highest decoration, the Gold Star order, on President Fidel Castro, of Cuba, the Vietnam news agency says. The decision was made because of Castro's contributions to developing fraternal friendship, militant solidarity and all-round cooperation between Vietnam and Cuba," the agency

ADVERTISEMENTS CLASSIFIED EMPLOYMENT REAL ESTATE TO RENT/SHARE EMPLOYMENT TRANSCAR: Europe's longest for Cors, oldo boggoge & household effects worldwide. Contact London E14, Dustales Worldwide. Contact London E14, Dustales Worshouse, Times Colf Street, tele 515 6684, Genteva 1219, 37/38 Ave., du Lignon, tel 96 55 11. Mexical Londonson E14, Dustales E14, Londoberger Str. 191c, tels 57 20 77. TRANSCAR 20 rue La Seieur, 75116 Paris, Tels 500 03 04, Nice: 83 95 33. Antwerp 33 99 85. Contest 39 43 44. GENERAL POSITIONS AVAILABLE POSITIONS AVAILABLE

PARIS AREA PURNISHED Your Studio or 2-Room Aportment AT THE CLARIDGE

I month or more
A prestigious address, pilion service, telescriptions arrived service, security.
Tel: 359 67 97
Telesc 290 5485

AT HOME IN PARIS PARIS PROMO

563 25 60 EMBASSY SERVICE

Your Real Estate Agent 562 78 99 INTERNATIONAL 551 66 99

1st CLASS APARTMENTS A HOUSES RURNISHED & UNIFURNISHED

AT SACLE STUDIO TO 7 BOOMS UNFURNISHED OR FURNISHED. SHORT BERM ACCEPTED. 46 rue de Noples 75006 Paris 359 74 68

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES

DON'T BE FOOLED

TRANS CONTAINER SERVICES AG &

Europe's most experienced container management company and is the leader in producing the highest cansust net re-turn on your investment with the lowest commercial risk.

BECAUSE your cost of purchasing new containers from TCS is substantially be-low that of our competitors without soc-rificing the highest menufacturing speci-fication available today.

BECAUSE once purchased, your con

BECAUSE the world's largest thipping compones have come to rely on TCS to service their container retaining requirements under master restaining descenants with TCS, who act in performing all supervisory and management tasks on your behalf.

BECAUSE the TCS management fee is based on performance, our profits de-pend as TCS assking profits for you, and most important:

BECAUSE TCS down't try to fool you.

Number (1997)

TRANS CONTAINER SERVICES AG Financial Services, Dept. B Gellerstrane 18 BASE, SWITZERLAND

"OVER $30,000,000_OF CONTAINERS UNDER MANAGEMENT Leasing Offices and Agencies." Basel - Hamburg - Landon - Rotterdam - Copenhagen - Nelsinki - Gathenburg - Vransa - Pare - La Hawe - Genca - Livorno - Barcelona - Copa - Belgrade

PARIS AREA FURNISHED

ing, F4500, To reliable, 633 51 96.

EXECUTIVES, COMPANIES, ambasses, Very exceptional on Bois de Boutogne, renovated triples in townhouse, historical focade, crists' a steller, justified price, No agent, 605 17 03
EXECUTIVE OFFICE/HOMETRIONING service, call RS ha'l Relocation Paris 8 subarbs (3) 451 67 72 Mrs de la Porte VERSABLES 4 bedroom insodern flot, 155 kg.m. New kitchen. 100 m. RER, Parking F6500 + charges, 953 78 76
PLAITENED BY Flot-funting? We'll give you a lift. CSU Paris, 574 23 10.

NATIONAL SALES MANAGER. Frames. Medical/Hospital release products. European walesidary of exp U.S. Company. Perfor English specials French nationals, Send resume & solary antormation by Bast 19564, Herald Tri-

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES

INDIAN MANPOWER

PROJECT LOCATED ANYWHERE

For appointment places contact:

Ved Bhasin CVERSEAS MANDOWER CORP. 800 Fulham Rd, London SW6 Tel: 01-736 3636

Associates wanted all over the world on very attractive terms

KRUGERRANDS

BY INSTALMENTS

UNIQUE OPPORTUNITY FOR INVESTORS

We will also welcome tempor agency enquiries. Write only to:
P. Comolly Eq.
Communght Prodovs Metals Ltd
37 Hotton Gorden,
London EC1

DIVERSIFY YOUR INVESTMENT

A well know Youk investment in the well know Swas insurance company is affering its life policies and assume to non-Swas residents at standard rates, invest in the world's strongest currency and enjoy Swiss security, inquiries from brokers and investors welcomed.

Director of the Company now avoin London nil 7th August & Europe 20th August.

POSITIONS AVAILABLE LEGAL ADVISOR REQUIRED

ford with international organizations if required.

Applications should include details of relevant experience and proposed

ARAS OIL MAGAZINE, Paris, seeks experienced Arab journalist - ecitor. Send CV to AFR.C., 7 Ave Ingres, 75016 Paris. EXECUTIVES AVAILABLE

BERIGATION SPECIALIST, 31, MS de-gree, University of Colifornia seeks po-stron or consultancy. Willing to travel and resouth. Expenenced in design and management of most imagation systems, evaluation of self, water, cisystems, evolutaion of soil, worter, mote factors, etc., export market dealer network. Fluent English, Ard and French. Write Box 767, Her Tribune, 2521 Neutilly Cedex, Franciscus Courtres, contract negotiations, s. 8. operations start-up seeks, positiver specking. Travel or reloc wortdwide. Box 727, Herold Tribu 92521 Neutilly Cedex, Franca.

YOUNG, PERSONABLE, BILINGUAL Durch/English women required by interpolational group to act as administrator for new Austraction office. Suffrationed PA/secretory looking, for more responsibility. Modern offices, control location Ansterdam, Good salvry and bonus. Write for application form to Bex. 41927, HTL, 63 Long Acre, London WCZ, UK. CENERAL POSITIONS WANTED MULTI-TALENTED young women seeks processing employment, resembly re-search Mineralogist, Excellent presen-lation, International references, P.H., P.O. Box 1975, Boulder, Coloxodo

AU PAML Form near Heidelberg, Start Sept. 15 for 9 months, criver's licence & fluent English required, V. Gent-mingen, Nauhof, D-8920 Sinsheim, gard 21, bright, inflorine, 4 longuages, hard worker, seeks intellectually rewarding work. Free to relocate. Tel: 548 95 55 Proris. FRENCH UNIVERSITY GRADUATE MISS T, BRITISH, 32, GOVERN MMSS T, BRITISH, 32, Governess Morning moutine, experienced, seels, position with superior foreity, Call London 730 8122, Seorch Stoff Agy, Bic LMQ, 25 Kings Rd, London SW3.

MISS G, British trained Nanny, highest references. Fires now. Call London 730 8122, Seorch Stoff Agy, 25 Kings Rd, London SW3. seeks, position as trilingual touris guide. Paris 282 15 80.

DOMESTIC POSITIONS AVAILABLE Seek Caretaker Couple

Formly permanently residing in recently entirely renovated historic chateou sixotted in Gescappe, seek expensional couple without children. Women's housekeoping, coaling. Marin garden, large porc's general magnetance, Aportment with all constants in chateous. Very serious references required, Write with details to Bax 773, Hendel Tribume, 92521 Neutry Cedex, France.

SAUDI FAMILY with young children seeks casoble namy for South of France & possibly Soudi Arabia. Please call urgently Mrs. Thompson, Mante Carlo (73) 50 18 35 / 78 68 14

8122, second staff Agy, 25 kings Rd, London SW3.

SUFSRENCED BOALS ROYCE trained Chariffeur. Seeks position chariffeur. I headyman, security or constaler, Country / children lover. Professional knowledge Europa. English, Rolice, French, German languages, Excellent references. Felt London 998 6539

RESPECTABLE ENGLISH GRB, 21, sooks position or Natury/Mother's help onty-where in Canado/America. Miss. M. Conway, 130 Whitehabol Rd, Achon, Birminighton, 86 6EL, England ENGLISH NANNEES & Mothers' Helps free now, Nash Agency, 37 Grand Farade, Brighton, UK, Fel: 682 666.

MATURE AMERICAN WOMAN corresfor children in her home. Day/night/weelands. Paris 380 15 94.

We keep a constant stock of more that one hundred brand new cars, compatitively priced. Send for free catalogue 8 stock list. Transco SA, 95 Noorderkom, 2000 Arnherp, Belgum, Tel. 6031 426 240, (10 Ened. the 32207 TRANS 8

AUTOS TAX FREE

TRANSCO

TAX FREE CARS

FOR PARIS-BASED OPERATION perfectly bilingual English-French secretary English and French shorthand and byping later and refer something and hyping laters experience withing to work as part of a small and active team responsible for in! I trade and industrial development valid Prench working permit or French national magnitude of annual solary group FF71,000

Hoose send your detailed resume and fate of availability to Box 774. Heraic Tribune, 92521 Neully Cedex, France.

OFFICES FOR RENT YOUR MANCHESTER Office / Business address / phone / telex. Let us help you do business in the North of Eng-and. DKW Busines Centres Ltd. Phone 061 834 6731 UK. Telesc 665327 UK.

International Secretarial Positions

MINERVE SEEKS for AMERICAN FRINTS in PARKS. English, Belgion, Dutch or German secretaries, browledge of French required. English shorthond. Billingted beloekts. Writer or phonen 1:30 Awence Victor Hogo, 75116 Ports, France. Tel. 727 61 69. SECRETARIES AVAILABLE Overseas Secretarial

Specialists World-wide, we cause our cliants in the selection of accretional stoff. Our long estoblished service and experience in interview techniques has earned us on aucellant reputation for short listing conditions whose subviced shifts and longuage exhibites have been thoroughly tested.

Please contact as for further information about permanent or temporary veconcies.

SENIOR SECRETARIES

RANDSTAD Blimpud personnel.
Temporary work.
CAN HELP YOU. We se better.
Poris [1] 341 08 00.

HOTELS RESTAURANTS HOLIDAYS & TRAVEL CHARTER A VALEF YACHT in Greece direct from owner of largest fleet in Europe. American management. Excelent crews, service, mointenance, govt. bonded, Valef Yochts Utt., Akti Themstoffcotts 22C, Pirotest, Greece. Tel. 4529571, 4529486, Telest; 21-2000. NIGHT CLUBS SWITZERLAND DICERNE - GRAND-HOTEL BEFORE Large price range - Every 0 041730 11 11, The 72657.

> SHOPPING TAX PREE SHOPPING - ZENA -TAX IMME SHOP

> > 40% export discounts

18-20 rue de la Paix, Farts 2nd Tel: 261 70 21 Tx: 240246 Import Expert

EDUCATION RENCH COURSES, PARIS - NICE! Victo method. Experienced teachers. Private classes or small groups, foliative, hourly or Roading schedules. Demonstrations by appointment. NITERIANCUES. Paris 176 Ave Ch. G. Gudle, 97220 Newly, 747 12 80. Nice 4 rue Blacos, (73) 80 12 97.

> PAGE 11 FOR MORE CLASSIFIEDS

TOTAL

newspaper Herald that put the class in classified advertising

PLACE YOUR CLASSIFIED AD at our office nearest you

PARIS (HEAD OFFICE) For France and all countries not listed below: 181 Ave. Charles-de-Gaulle, 92521 Neuilly Cedex. Tel.: 747-12-65. Telex: 613595.... EUROPE

AUSTRIA: McGra White Co
CMC, Weltzele 16, 1010 Viert
ro. Tal. 27 63 77. Tolere 113 627
CMCGC A BELGRUM & ILUDGHAROURG, Arthur Majorner, & Roe Lavis Hy. room 1050 Brussele. Tel.
243 1899. Telece 2972 AMC.
GERMANY. For subscriptions conduct the Paris office. For oriversing contact Heid Jung or Signid Korroot, U.I.T. Frieddichatrose 13, D. 6000 friends.
fort/Moin, Tel. 72 67 55. Teleck 41671, Brt D.
GREECE & CYPRIST. L.C. Renner.
ton, Finderou 26, Adheris. Tel.
361 8397 736072421 7. Telects
218346 HS GR.
ITALY: Antonio Sombroths, 55 Vin
delle Marcade, CO187 Rome.
Tel. 679-34-37 Telects
218346 HS GR.
ITALY: Antonio Sombroths, 55 Vin
delle Marcade, CO187 Rome.
Tel. 679-34-37 Telects
218346 HS GR.
ITALY: Antonio Sombroths, 55 Vin
delle Marcade, CO187 Rome.
Tel. 679-34-37 Telects
218346 HS GR.
ITALY: Antonio Sombroths, 55 Vin
delle Marcade, CO187 Rome.
Tel. 679-34-37 Telects
218346 HS GR.
Training J. Telects
218346 HS GR.
Training J. Telects
218346 Telec. 22007.
SPARNA Afrado United Somelen to, Burta Mart 1, 452, Pacity
Insulance 8, Modrid 20, Telect
183528 PL-453306. Telect
184528 PL-453306. Tel.
4512 COVAE, 45156 COVAE, SWITZERLAND: Guy Von Toryne
and Morthell Wolner, Tax Vignis, 15 Chestein Donal, 2009 Fally
Lousena, Tel. (17) 25-58-54.
Zelen, 25722 GYT CIL

HONG JONES: C. Chency & Auc-ciotes Ltd., 506 Cor Po Commer-cial Suiting, 18-20 by refrust Terrora, Carlest, Flore, Kong. Tel. 5-62905 Teles: 63079 198.481: Den Firsch, 23 Nemsode Street, P.O. Bor 11297, Tel Aviv. Tela 229073 & 242294. Telen 34118 EXTY & EXT 6376. JAPAN: Testanti Most, Madio Solas Japan: Inc., Teinerocho Buiding, 33-14. Siambodia, Minato-lii, To-lopo 105. Telesc 25666: Taki 34-1725. LELANON, JORDAN, SYRA, EAQ & BOYPT: Wolfe Azz, TAMMA SAL. P.O. Ros 11685, Bairet. Tel.: Humro: 341457. Tel.: Semost; 333232. Teles; 20473.E.

SINGAPORE MALAYSIA: Son-ley Ion, O'BNEY TAN ASSOC ATES, Saite 508, Nichore Bilg. 24. Fack Sook 9. Segon 50 0207. Tel. 748 21 56 4 74871 IS, The 35785 (CLAFAS). U.S.A.: Sandy O'Hara, Internation of Harald Tiribana, 446 Madison Ave., Heav York 10922. Tels 2127-223991.

SPACE. Air conditioned, Limitious modern furniture, Heated pool, Jennis, 3100 sq.m. gorden, countryleds & corroteixe's operiment. Justified high price, Tel. Dovid ABREAN, PARS (1) 720 49 73 or 720 36 28, office hours. 5T PAIR DE VENCE. We are renovating some beautiful apartments & shape to sell in the heart of this world renowned village. France (72) 20 56 39. GREAT BRITAIN UNITERY MAYFARE, Appriment near Berkley Sq., completely removated 1 bedroom. Tel: (01) 499 21 04 UK.

HOMEFINDERS INT. For your house or flor in Amsterdam. Beethoverst. 21 1077 HP AMSTERDAM 020/797956.

Dating would be permitted, but

Those missing a bed check would have to appear before the House Ethics Committee, which would have the authority to hand out punishment that could be any-thing from forbidding them to go on "Meet the Press" for a month, to not allowing them to fly home in Washington, chaperoned dances in the House dining room would be held on Saturday evenings, with dates from the National Organization of Women's Rights bused in from the Maryland and Virginia

If we are to have congressmen and congresswomen (and there is some question whether they pro-vide services that others couldn't do much more cheaply), we have to see that, while away from home, they live in a healthy, supervised environment. They may squawk at the restric-

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE GREECE An exclusive selection of operheast and villos. Unique after sales service monogement and renting, Holido accommodation, (Inspection flight avoilable from London).

G.D. LORDOS & SONS Isd., Cyprus, H/O POB 1175, Limosel Tel: 53211, The 2359, UK, 15/16 Newmon St, London YP3HD Tel: (01) 6377/04, The 21907.

PARES & SUBURBS ST NOM LA BRETECHE Superbly dec protect house, living, diving noon, famroge. Beoutiful gorden. Near terms, golf. School bus to all international schools. Price: F1.050,000, Call. (3) 462-58 11. Send order with payment to Jame Toleo THE WALL STREET JOURNAL Bouleverd Chartemagne, 1 Past Bay 68 1041 Brusseb, Belgium.

CHAMPS EYSES (NEAR). Most beautiful 300 scan. in Paris, designed for royalty. High price. McCross 723 55 18. AYE VICTOR HUGO [near Bois], 350 sq.m. + moid's room, Interesting price, Tel: 525 11 03.

SWITZERLAND

FOREIGNERS

LUGANO, SWITZERLAND, Villa Estate Sole. 10 minutes center of fown. 3 oversized bedrooms with boths over-looking Lote Lugano & surrounding mountains. SF700,000, Tel. 091-542324, ask for Mrs McDonald.

USA CENERAL

AAGIC ISLAND IN THE CIT'S 239,400. Los Angeles: 213-907-1711.

USA RESIDENTIAL HOUSTON, TX. "MODERN ART Muse

REAL ESTATE TO RENT/SHARE

FRENCH PROVINCES

GRIMAUD Old village, large house, 5'6 people, 6 rooms, 2 bullet, garden, terracas, exceptional view. Aug.Sept. Interesting price. Coll Paris 256 04 61 or [53] 94 12 94.

ST TROMEZ: 5 MINS FROM SEA. Villain 2 ha parts, living, diring/linchen, 3 bedrooms, 1 behaviors. For 6 people. Aug.Sept. Interesting price. Coll Paris 256 04 61 [73] 94 12 94.

GREAT BRITAIN

CENTRAL LORDON - Executive service oper-mans in new buildings, confertably furnished and fully equapped. Dolly unid service (Mon. Prouder Fri.) Color IV. Prone for brockers (II) 388 1342 or write Presidential Edites (Mayfreil Ltd., 1 University St., London WCIE 6/E.

Any object or service foculed or obtained subject to contract. GLOBAL SEARCH 800 Feltown Rd. Landon SW6 Tel: Landon 01-736 3636 Can boy APARTMENIS Invehold on LAKE GENEVA, in Montroux nour Lossanne, or oil year round sorts St. Cargue near Geneva, Vilk Varior, Les Declarets, Leysin, etc. FRANCORG 50-70%.
AT LOW INTEREST RATES
Abo goodly properties in Fran YOUR LONDON TICKET AGENT Sidi for CATS and all major events. Tel-LONDON 242 8748.

GLOBAL SEARCH

AT LOW INTEREST BATES

AND quality properties in France Apartments in EVIAN on the Lake, approximately 35 mirs. from Geneva,
and Incominus viles. VERY NEAR 194 SOMDER OF GENEVA, built by your specifications. Advise area preferred.
Writes Developer, c/a Globe Plan S.A.
Mon-Repose 24, 1005 Lossame
Switzerland, Tel. (21) 22 35 12.
The 25185 MEUS CH. ALCOHOLICS ANONYMOUS English daily, Paris: 634 59 65. PERSONALS

MOVING ALLIED VAN LINES INTERNATIONAL

THE CAREFUL MOVERS GERMANY: INTL MOVING SERVICES Frontfurt, 0611-781006. Munich, 089-142244. Dusseldorf, 02102-45023/24. FRANCE: 14 r. de la Vega, Paris 12 Contact: Mr. Melloin. Tel: 343 23 64.

UNITED VAN LINES SECOND TO ACASE
Heat International Moving
15 Rue Philippe de Dengacu
78000 Verscelles
Tel: (3) 950 77 44 - Telan: 696301 F

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE FRENCH PROVINCES

CANNES

#MANORES

28 Ave de Benefici
 Octob Connes
 Tel (50) 38 50 64.

25 MINE. NICE AIRPORT. Colo
 D'Azur, 8 mine. center of CANNES.
 Descriptional villa, very learnous, paneress view on sea. 6 BEDROOMS; 6

BATHROOMS. 500 sum. LIPING
SPACE. Air conditioned. Lamarious

Tel Cannes Learnous Sea. Bedroom Sea. 1

Lamarious

WCIE AIE

LONDON: New kearury furnished files. Certein setting. Heated pool. Conventional and color set. But Beautiful Sea. 1

Experience of CANNES.

FYOU REQUIRE: a learny furnished Files. Provisional Sea. Beautiful Sea. 1

Begravia / Chebisco, we can help you. Tel Henry & Jomes Landon 235 8861.

SPACE. Air conditioned. Lamarious

Tel (10) Conventional Sea. 1

Lamarious Sea. 1

Lamar

LONDON - For furnished Sists & houses, the service leading US Corporations use: Assocrabe & Ringland, Tell London 435 7122, Telese 299660. LONDON 435 7/122 (sees 27700).
LONDON For the best furnished flot and houses. Consult the Specialist Phillips, Koy and Lawis. Tell Lando 839 2245.
WIMBLEDON, Lendon, 2 bedroom to HOLLAND

REAL ESTATE TO RENT/SHARE 74 Champs Elysees 8th

ST GERMAIN DES PRESS For Aug. opertment for A people, colon, oil comforts. Tel: (office hours) 296 12 61 Mrs Morescott or 325 34 55 (nome). AVE MOZARTS superb furnished aportment, Irving + cirring room. 4 bed-rooms, August only, Tel: (41) 80 50 72. ALMA, MAGNIFICENT FLAT. Living, 3 bodrooms, 2 bests, Tel: 300 14 84 1ATIN OKIARTEE. Small 2-room flot. Kitchen, both, hoot, Tel: 354 65 69. SHORT OR LONG TERM, Left Bonk, no opency, Tel: 329 38 83.

PARIS AREA UNFURNISHED

8 Ave. de Messine, 75008 Paris EMPLOYMENT

POSITIONS AVAILABLE

International Business Message Center

ATTENTION BUSINESSMEN: Publish your business message in the International Herald Tribune, where more than a third of a million readers voridiside, most of whom are in business and industry, will read it. Just telex us (Paris 613595) before 10 a.m., ensuring that we can telex you back, and your message will eppear within 46 hours. The rate is U.S. $8.45 or local equivalent per line. You must include complete and verifiable billing address. OFFICE SERVICES Zurich is Best

C.C.M YOUR 'The Company People' FURNISHED OFFICE IN ZURICH

T-thets, on all-cash business that con earn you $6000 - $8000/month, Color, 8 & W. new & sued patters for emmed-ole delivery, $12,500-$27,000, Kerses Gmb+1, Degt. 103, Posificish 174082, 6000 Fronfourt, West Germony, Tels 0611-747808, Tis: 412713, 10 cm - 6 pm INTERNATIONAL OFFICE 42 Rannwag, CH-8001 Zurich Tel: 01/211 29 15, Telex S12656 INOF

BUSINESS SERVICES

DIAMONDS

DIAMONDS Fine diamonds in any price range of lowest wholesole prices drop from Antwerp center of the demand world. Fill getrantee. For free price for white Jouchlim Goldenstein diameterspert Established 1928 Pelitopater CQ, 8-2000 Antwerp Begun Tel C 31/73/0751 (iv. 71/79 sy b. At the Demand Industrial of the Antwerp Dramond Industrial INTERNATIONAL BANK offering financial franchises in monty areas. Large credit line available, to capital outlay for proper applicants. Send resume to: Credit Dept., 1101 Tower II, Admirchy Contre, Hong Kong.

COMPANIES OR REDIVIDIALS who may be interested to market birdnessed for first in UK. For further datalist please writes Mr. O. Rahn, Storgeton 26, 5795 00 Rottvik, Sweden.

Formotions in LOUM. Illiantia, Tsirlar, Neith. Antillias, Cayaneau, etc. Full bock-up provided including nomines storeholders, directors, odwinestration and secretarial services. Traits formed and administered. Carolina is set 5 Upper Charats $4., Deorglon, LOUM. Tel: Douglas (Mc4) 20733.

Tel: 627900 CCMIOM G COMPUTER PORTRAITS, Printed

US INDIAN HANDMADE gold & silver jewelry in most othractive designs and prices. Write or toles for brochure and price fot. Alfo Serio International En-terprises, 2730 Son Pedro N.E., Soite H, Albuquerque, N.M. 8710. Telest, 65044. London Regent St. CHESNAM EXECUTIVE CENTRE 150 Regent Street, London WI Tel: 01 439 6268, Telex: 261426

Id. PAI: 607 95 95.

LONDON BUSINESS ADDRESS/
PHONE/TELE/L Succultus, Suite 66, 87 Regard St., W1. Tel.: 437 7074.

IMPETUS - ZURICH - 252 76 21.
The independent Service Office.

OFFICE RENOVATION - Expo Contracts. Tel. London 01 - 204 3146

R & D KETCHIM AGENCE DE PUBLICITÉ NEURLY Recharche
SECRETAIRE D'ACTYLO
BELLINGUE ANGLAIS
Experimentes, libre repidener
chesser C.V., photo et pristante
Art LSKOYER, 24 rue de Pont
92200 NEULLY